Coolidge Lauds Airship Crew

Naval Officers Elated Over Dirigible's Showing in Terrific Storm

Experience Declared Proof of Worthiness for Trip in Polar Regions

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Messages of congratulation from President Coolidge, Secretary Denby, Mrs. Denby as sponsor of the ship, and many other high government officials were showered today upon the officers and crew of the Navy dirigible Shenandoah for their gallant and victorious battle against last night's storm.

President Coolidge in a message to the officers and crew said:

"I congratulate you most heartily upon the fine exhibition and skill displayed by you during the storm which caused the U.S.S. Shenandoah to be cast adrift from her mooring Wednesday night and upon your skill to return to your base."

Navy officers generally were jubilant at the splendid showing made not only by this first American-built rigid dirigible, but at the pluck and skill of her crew. The outstanding impression among all government officials was that the accident had served to make it certain that the Shenandoah could and would successfully negotiate the exploring flight through the Artic regions which has been planned for her.

VIEWS AT VARIANCE

Some conflicting views were expressed at the Capitol, however, on the experience of the dirigible. Representative French, Republican, Idaho, chairman of the sub-committee on naval affairs of the House Appropriations Committee, declared that it would tend to diminish Congressional criticism of the proposed flight to the North Pole while in the Senate there was a debate which regarded the test in the storm as adverse.

Senator Dill, Democrat, of Washington, urged that the polar flight project be abandoned, while Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, asked that the Naval Affairs Committee inquire into the advisability of restricting appropriations for building such aircraft.

There will, of course, be a court of inquiry to determine just what happened. In the case of the Shenandoah, however, as a welcome relief to naval officers in the cycle of misfortunes to Navy craft that has marked the past few months, there is no question involved which requires determination of the responsibility of any officer and his possible punishment. The real work of the board will be to examine closely into questions as to the proper mooring equipment for the big airship, to reduce as far as possible the chances that she might break

VOLCANO IN ALASKA IS IN ERUPTION

Edge of Pavlof Blows Off With Terrific Roar; Severe Temblor Follows

[BY RADIO AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

STEAMSHIP LATOUCHE (Via St. Paul Island,) Jan. 17.—With a roar which shook the Alaska peninsula for hundreds of miles and brought terror to the inhabitants of the little villages far out to the westward from Deward, Alaska, the southern edge of Pavlof volcano was blown off by a gigantic subterranean disturbance at 10:50 a.m. today.

Dense steam and smoke still was observed above the volcano late this afternoon. The eruption of the volcano was followed by a sharp earthquake lasting seven minutes.

Inhabitants of Belkofsky on the Alaskan peninsula, ten miles south, fled from their homes but returned later when the volcano became less threatening.

Pavlof volcano is 120 miles due east of Dutch Harbor, and thirty miles west of Unga, Western Alaska. This volcano exploded last fall. It has the reputation of being one of the most violent volcanoes in the world. Its eruptions resemble the discharging of a gigantic cannon and fill the heavens with smoke and cinders.

Letter of President Just Disclosed Says No Party Can Avoid Action

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—President Harding was grievously concerned over the condition of lawlessness of the people in regard to prohibition and repeatedly warned close friends that their complacent attitude toward violation of the Eighteenth Amendment would, unless corrected, have to be paid for either by themselves or by their children.

"The question of the Eighteenth Amendment and its enforcement is bound to be so acute in 1924 that it seems impossible that any party can work out a successful straddle of the question," wrote the late President in a letter to John A. Stewart, president of the Republican League of Clubs of the State of New York.

In a letter sent to Mr. Stewart, April 23, 1924, and just disclosed, the President said:

"I know that there is a movement to play both sides of the prohibition game in the next campaign. I have known such a thing to be done successfully in the State of Ohio and it may be that it can be done successfully in a national election. However, it does not seem possible to me that a political party can succeed in an insincere and fraudulent position.

"I do not think we are going to face a situation in the next campaign where the question of our foreign relations will in any way embarrass us," concluded the President.

OWN STORY OF REVOLUTION TOLD BY KING ALFONSO

Spanish Ruler Says He Favored Government Overthrow, but Feared Civil War

The inside story of the recent bloodless revolution in Spain is told by King Alfonso himself in the following exclusive interview granted yesterday to the special correspondent of the North American Newspaper Alliance. This public utterance on matters of state by a reigning monarch whose country has been on the brink of revolution is unique in journalism.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MADRID (Spain) Jan. 17.—How Gen. Primo de Rivera and his directory of eight generals seized power from what was admittedly a corrupt Parliamentary government, is well known, but I have had the privilege today of being the first journalist to hear from King Alfonso himself the story of the part he played in the national crisis.

His Majesty received me in a small study in the great white stone palace at Madrid—slim, active, an athletic sovereign in brown jacket suit, soft collar and knitted silk tie. His vigorous interest in life is expressed by his voice and bearing. In any other position King Alfonso would still have been a live personality. As he began to talk of the new regime in Spain the King claimed, with a smile, to have had considerable experience of government.

"I have been King twenty-two years," he said.

FAVORED REVOLUTION

When previous attempts at a coup d'etat were made in Spain the King always set his face against it. On two earlier occasions last year, February and May, he took steps to restrain movements of the kind which came to his knowledge, holding that such action was only beneficial when public opinion was ready for the step.

"I adopted an attitude of approval toward the arrival in power of the present government," said the King, "because I was satisfied the nation desired it and would support a new ministry with a whole heart. Of the actual preparation for the step Gen. De Rivera took I had heard nothing, although I knew there was a strong dissatisfaction with the abuses of the old parliamentary regime among the high officers of the Army."

At the time Gen. De Rivera took action the King was staying at San Sebastian. He realized immediately that national crisis of a supreme kind had arrived.

"All that night I was on the telephone with only two hours sleep," he said, "getting reports from different parts of Spain as to how the

SENATE ORDERS LOBBY QUIZ

Inquiry Into Mellon Tax Program to be Included With Those on Bok Peace Plan and Bonus

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—An investigation to determine whether lobbies are operating to influence acts of Congress was authorized today by the Senate.

Besides the inquiry into the Bok peace plan, under sweeping authority conferred upon it by the resolution, the committee probably will take up the question of propaganda regarding the Mellon tax program, the soldiers' bonus, the League of Nations, and other subjects pending before Congress. The order of procedure will be determined later, the only decision today being for investigation of the Bok plan which was proposed by Senator Reed.

Under the resolution, the committee is "authorized and directed immediately to investigate and report to the Senate whether there is any organized effort being made to control public opinion and the action of Congress upon legislative matters through propaganda or by the use of money, by advertising or by control of publicity."

The committee is directed to inquire especially what, if any, such methods are being employed to control the action of Congress upon revenue measures and "whether or not the profiteers of the war are now contributing to the defeat of the soldiers' adjusted compensation bill by money or influence, and what, if any, such influences are being employed either by American citizens or the representatives of foreign governments, or foreign institutions to control or effect the foreign or domestic policies of the United States."

To prosecute the work the committee is authorized to subpoena such persons, books and papers as within its discretion may be necessary.

There was no opposition to adoption of the resolution after Senator Reed called it up. Pres-

OBREGON TROOPS TO PASS THROUGH UNITED STATES

Hughes Asks Consent of Governors to Grant Mexico's Request; Rebels Shell Tampico

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The State Department announced tonight that the government of President Obregon in Mexico had requested permission for a detachment of the Mexican army to pass from Naco, Ariz., to some point in Texas, where they will re-enter Mexican territory for service against the revolutionists. Although final decision has not been made it was said the Washington government looked favorably upon the request.

The American government has made request for such passage of troops of the Governors of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas and has received favorable replies from the first two, but as yet no reply from the Governor of Texas. In case a favorable reply is received from the latter, it was added, the request of the Mexican government will be granted.

In a statement, the State Department said:

"The Mexican government, through its Embassy here, has requested permission of this government for the passage of a detachment of the Mexican army together with animals and other material which usually accompanies such a command, from Naco, Ariz., to some point in Texas, where they will re-enter Mexican territory for service in regions in Mexico where American lives and interests are being threatened with grave danger by the forces in revolt against the Mexican government. These troops will not be armed, but their arms and ammunition will accompany them as baggage.

ACQUIESCENCE FAVORED

"This government has transmitted this request to the Governors of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, and has received favorable replies from the Governors of Arizona and New Mexico. No reply has yet been received from the Governor of Texas. This government looks favorably upon the request of the Mexican government and in case a favorable reply is received from the Governor of Texas, this request will be granted.

"Similar permission has been extended in the past, the last occasion being in October, 1915, and again in November, 1915, when the de facto government of Mexico headed by Mr. Carranza was allowed to transport Mexican troops from the Texas border through the United States to the State of Sonora, Mexico, where American lives and property were in serious danger from the operations of Mexican revolutionary bands."

IN LINE WITH POLICY

The attitude of the State Department with reference to the troop movement is in line with the present policy of the government in supporting the constitutional government of Mexico, and also in harmony with the traditional attitude of both countries with respect to border police operations. Except for brief periods when a constitutional government of Mexico was hard to distinguish among contending revolutionary factions, there always has been a tacit agreement, at least, between the two countries under which the troops of the one country could pass beyond the border within a limited area in the pursuit of bandits who had conducted raids on the other side of the international line.

Where the Mexican government has been operating against bandits or revolutionists, it has been customary to permit Mexican Federal forces to pass over railroads on the American side, where transportation facilities were not available on the Mexican side.

FRENCH CUT ARMY SIZE

Slash Made for Economy

Forces Are Reduced Below Prewar Standard Say Paris Officials

Deputies Sustain Poincare's Moves to Check Collapse in Franc's Value

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Jan. 17.—As a crowning piece of news in connection with the economies being made to restore the value of the franc, the French government tonight announced that the standing army of France has been reduced to 350,000, which is 200,000 less than the prewar standard.

The French officials assert that the reduced army gives France the distinction of being the only world power except Germany which has a smaller army today than before the war, declaring that the figures disprove the charge that France is militaristically increasing its armed forces.

POINCARE SUSTAINED

Premier Poincare today overcame all opposition in the Chamber of Deputies when he refused to debate until Tuesday measures of economy and additional taxation to sustain the franc. The Premier flatly rejected attempts of the opposition to force a discussion, and the Chamber upheld him by a vote of 360 to 215.

The Chamber was packed with nearly all the Deputies present, the galleries crowded with fashionably-dressed women and members of the foreign Diplomatic Corps when the debate opened.

M. Lasteyrie immediately announced and submitted projects for law to realize economies, create new fiscal resources and to regulate exportation of capital and importation of securities.

ASKS POSTPONEMENT

Premier Poincare followed the Finance Minister immediately, demanding that discussion of the measures be postponed until Tuesday, when he will ask for a vote of confidence.

"I am confident that we experienced more tragic hours during the war," he said. "We can easily overcome the attempt to wreck our money. Every one knows the enormous expenses France has met in the devastated regions, but the situation must and will ameliorate."

Emanuel Labrousse, urging support of Premier Poincare said:

"The Chamber must show that the fate of the great Minister of France is in its hands and not in the hands of international financiers."

BANS DISCUSSION

Deputy Bouydiou then interpellated on the government's attitude on the pension law, stating that the Senate had increased the excessive provisions of the Finance Minister.

Premier Poincare refused to permit the question of pensions to be raised now.

Deputy Jean Molini deprecated the absence of accords and economic ententes among the Allies, regretting that the Premier had been forced to seize military gages.

"Institute" Here Under Fire

Government Investigators on Trail of Degrees Said to be Spurious

Gov. Richardson Urges Care to Keep Fake Doctors Out of State

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—The office of the United States postal inspectors here was requested today by Dr. Charles B. Pinkham, secretary of the State Board of Medical Examiners, to investigate the activities of the Volopractic Institute of Los Angeles in sending diplomas for its psychology course and other matter through the mail. According to Dr. Pinkham's charge there is evidence of the mails being used to further alleged irregularities on the part of the "institute." The postal inspectors' office said that a full investigation would be made.

INQUIRY UNDER WAY

Federal postal officials in Los Angeles yesterday admitted that an investigation into the operation of several "colleges" whose diplomas in various arts and sciences have been scattered wholesale has been under way for some time. Pending the conclusion of the investigation, however, they declined to make public any of the names of the parties under fire.

Previous dispatches in the recent inquiry in the East regarding physicians' certificates name the "Pacific Medical College" of Los Angeles, an institution which is declared to have disincorporated in 1919, as one of those which have come into the limelight following the inquiry.

The Volopractic Institute of Los Angeles, mentioned in San Francisco dispatches, is not listed in available directories or other records.

GOVERNOR URGES CARE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—Gov. Richardson today took official cognizance of fraud practiced by medical schools of the Middle West in turning out diplomas when he asked the State Board of Medical Examiners to use every precaution in preventing graduates of the colleges under investigation by the Federal government from practicing in California.

"This suggestion is made in order to protect the people of this State from imposture," said the Governor. "I am confident that your board will use every vigilance to protect the public."

Dr. C. B. Pinkham, secretary of the Medical Board, said that he was confident no physicians were practicing in California on forged diplomas.

"Our board has never accepted a diploma from any of the schools which are under investigation, and physicians from other States are only admitted to practice after an exhaustive examination of their records," he said.

BLOCKADE DOES NOT HURT PAN-AMERICAN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Denying reports that income of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company would be cut off by a blockade of Tampico, Herbert G. Wylie, president of the company, said that its policy of carrying 12,000,000 barrels of oil in storage was for the purpose of meeting just such an emergency. He added that the company's fuel oil and gasoline storage in the United States would supply all requirements for two or three months and that the company's revenue would not be interfered with seriously.

COLORADO BOARD CREATED

Secretary Work Naming Engineers to Make Survey and Recommendations for Flood Control

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Secretary of the Interior Work is organizing a special board of engineers to advise him on the solution of the Colorado River flood and power problem. He probably will appoint Gen. Beach, chief of engineers of the army, or one of his associates on this board. The secretary already has chosen Herman Stabler from the Geological Survey; F. E. Weymouth, chief engineer of the Reclamation Service representing that department, and William Kelly of the Federal Power Commission.

An outside engineer of international standing who has had no government connection and who has not been associated with any of the various interests who desire to dominate the control of the Colorado River will be the fifth member of the board.

The creation of this new engineering board for the advice and assistance of the Secretary of the Interior grows out of a conviction on the part of Secretary Work that the problem of the Colorado River is much bigger than a reclamation project or power development and involves flood control primarily before everything else. He insists there should be enough advisers from every angle of the problem to make the final decision of the department correct and fortified by all the facts.

In the last few days he has learned that as long ago as 1912 the reclamation service of his department had all the details of the Mojave Valley reservoir, but its purpose for an economical and adequate flood control of the river was ignored because the reclamation bureau wanted to couple flood control with power plants and irrigation projects. The site of the proposed dam is at Topock, about two and a half miles below the present Santa Fe bridge at Needles and about 200 miles above Yuma and 150 miles below Boulder Canyon. It is claimed that bedrock there can be found between seventy and 100 feet.

The proposed dam can be completed in two years at a minimum cost and with only about 10 per cent of the amount of concrete and expensive construction estimated for Boulder Canyon and other projects.

This and other projects for the control of flood water and the ultimate use of the water and power of the tamed river are to be laid before these engineers and their final decision will be laid before the Secretary before final action is taken by him or a recommendation made to the President for the solving of this greatest flood control problem in the United States today.

HOUSE LOCKED ON RULES PLAN

Republican and Democratic Schemes Both Fail

Discharge of Committees is Point of Difference

Acceptance of Report Quota Virtually Assured

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Two unsuccessful efforts—one championed by Republican organization leaders and the other by the Democrats and Republican insurgents—were made today to change the recommendation of the House Rules Committee as to the number of signatures to be required on petitions for the discharge of committees. As a result, the minimum fixed by the committee—150 names—will stand unless a move, backed by sufficient votes, is made to alter it as the fight over rules continues tomorrow.

After three days of debate on the discharge of committee and proposition, the House got down to voting late in the day on an amendment by Representative Graham, Republican, Illinois, to require signatures of at least half the members of the House on such petitions. Although Republican organization leaders had expressed willingness, as a compromise, to accept the Rules Committee recommendation, they swung their support to the Graham proposal. Representative Longworth, the party leader, and Chairman Madden of the Appropriation Committee, both urging its adoption.

REPORT MAY CARRY

The Graham amendment, however, was rejected, 205 to 185, with forty Republicans voting against it and twenty-seven Democrats supporting it. Practically all the Democratic leaders and most of the House members identified with the insurgent group voted in the negative.

Repulsed on this vote, the Republican organization succeeded a few moments later in defeating an amendment by Representative Crisp, Democrat, Georgia, to fix the signature minimum at 100. The vote was 225 to 163, with forty-five Democrats joining the Republicans, while seventeen Republicans voted aye. Again the insurgents cast their ballots with the Democrats, as did Representative Berger, Socialist, Wisconsin; Wefald, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, and Kvale, Independent, Minnesota, on both roll calls.

Defeat of the two amendments, leaders on both sides agreed, practically assured acceptance of the committee figure, as no vote will be required to ratify it, except as the whole report of the committee comes up for approval after the disposition of the various amendments.

BRYAN ACCUSED

In the voting today the Democrats were unable to present the solid front they did on Monday, when, with aid from the Republican insurgents, they brought about repeal of the Underwood amendment rule, in the face of opposition from the regular Republicans.

In his address to the House Mr. Longworth declared that William J. Bryan had been a factor in the maintenance of the Democratic-insurgent coalition, and had been in the House lobbies during the last few days urging Democrats to unite with the insurgents. A remark by Mr. Longworth that Mr. Bryan still had "telling influence," brought from Representative Upshaw, Democrat, Georgia, a loud "amen."

ASQUITH DEALS BLOW TO TORIES

stood that on account of a condition of his throat he was not going to speak, and there was some surprise earlier when he took a seat in the front opposition bench beside Mr. Macdonald, with whom he chatted with evident friendliness. When he rose there was a rustle of whispering throughout the House, and a sudden silence as everyone waited to hear his first words. He came straight to the point.

"I propose myself to vote, and advise all my friends to vote for this amendment, which I have the pleasure of seconding," he said.

It was several minutes before he could proceed. The Laborites and Liberals on the back benches went wild with enthusiasm. Cheer after cheer rolled through the House, and I noticed in the gallery the two Princes leaning far out to get a better view of the excited members.

On the Tory benches the members of the largest single party in the House sat silent and glum, waiting to hear the Judge's speech to the condemned before pronouncing the death sentence. And Mr. Asquith made an admirable speech of its kind. He played with his opponents and kept the House alternately laughing and cheering.

None who had not read his mail for the last week, he said, knew the strong demand for him to become the savior of the country. Becoming the savior of the country meant doing some underhand deal to keep out of office the party which by all constitutional rules was entitled to it. He had been told that the day Ramsay Macdonald took his seat on the opposite bench England would be ruined. He said he was old enough in politics to remember half a dozen times before when popular victories had been won and the same people had predicted ruin, but the country was stronger than ever.

For a moment after he stepped speaking the short and sturdy white-haired figure stood by the table looking round at the House, which was cheering him. Even some Conservatives joined in the cheering, and Lady Astor's voice could be heard approving his many points. Then he sat down, shaking hands warmly with Mr. Macdonald.

It is now agreed between the parties that the debate will be continued until 11 o'clock Monday night, when the division will be taken. The majority against the House is expected to be about seventy-five. The government will resign at once, and Mr. Macdonald will form a government and adjourn the House for three weeks.

HIGH OFFICERS ELATED

Secretary Denby and Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett, naval air chief, issued statements today through which ran the spirit of elation with which the Navy has read the story of the Shenandoah's battle with the storm. Both were emphatic in saying that the airship would make the projected northern flight.

Following is the text of the message sent to Lakehurst by Secretary Denby:

"The department commends most highly Lieutenant-Commander Pierce, the officers and men of the Shenandoah, and also Messrs. Heinen and Burgess for their conduct and handling of the ship during the swift gales of Wednesday night. The department feels that it was due to their skill and airmanship that the Shenandoah has been successfully conducted through this severe test of her qualities."

Mrs. Denby sent the following message:

"Commander Pierce, Officers and Crew of the Shenandoah:

"Please accept the sincere congratulations of the Shenandoah's sponsor on your splendid service in so successfully handling your ship under the most trying conditions. I am very proud of ship and men. Best wishes to you all."

PROVED AIRWORTHY

Admiral Moffett, in commenting upon the Shenandoah's experience, said:

"The successful performance of the Shenandoah in combating the storm over New Jersey and returning safely to her home port is proof of her airworthy qualities preliminary to her Arctic voyage. It was the best possible test to the ship and mooring mast that could possibly have been had. No conditions that she would encounter during the Arctic summer could be expected to approximate in severity those that were successfully overcome. The logs of the Coast Guard vessels in the Arctic show that the greatest force of wind observed in the Arctic for seven years during the summer months has been forty miles an hour.

"The gale reached a force of sixty-eight miles before the fastenings at the mast carried away, which was the limit that was expected. She could have cast off before carrying away her moorings just as a ship at anchor frequently does, and makes for sea. In the air during the storm, her structure was put to a severe test and such damage as was experienced was a result of the carrying away of the fastenings at the bow. From now until the time that the Shenandoah is due to leave for the North, every possible precaution will be taken to insure her safety on the voyage.

EXCESS FUEL SUPPLY

"In the flights planned for the Shenandoah in the Arctic, she will always have an excess of 50 per cent of fuel over that of her longest planned flights. Radio will enable consistent communication to be maintained. Should a severe gale be encountered while the ship is at her base moorings, she will always be able to slip the mooring and keep station in the vicinity of the base. She is always safe in the air.

"Two ships and six planes will be a part of the expedition. These ships will have mooring masts and will be able to seek sheltered harbors for mooring the ship. The use of helium as an inflation gas practically eliminates the fire hazard."

PREPARE SHIPS AT BAY CITY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—The naval oiler Ramapo, now stationed at the Mare Island Navy Yard, is to be fitted with a mooring mast and will start June 1 for Point Barrow, Alaska, to act as a mooring station and relief ship for the dirigible Shenandoah when the big air liner makes her flight to the North Pole, according to plans made public today by the Twelfth Naval District theadquarters here. It was announced that the plans would be revised to meet any orders that may be issued relative to the Shenandoah as a result of her spectacular experience of yesterday, when she was carried from her mooring by a storm.

DE RIVERA'S REPORT

Meanwhile the monarch received a telegram from Gen. De Rivera, saying: "I have taken the extreme course. I assure your Majesty of the army's devotion and my own but I beg you very respectfully to dismiss your present ministers. I hold myself entirely at your Majesty's orders."

To this the King replied that he relied on Gen. De Rivera keeping order among the troops in the region under his command and that he must await further instructions from him.

"The problem for me at this crisis," the King continued, "was to avert a civil war in Spain. Before I made up my mind to recognize the step Gen. De Rivera had taken, I needed to know what the majority of the nation thought. The general's action in itself was unconstitutional and no one but myself had power to regulate it, if I believed it was in the best interest of the nation to do so.

"Had I taken a less decided course, difference of opinion might have broken out in violent form in the army or between the army and the rest of the nation and civil war would have resulted.

COURSE MADE CLEAR

"But hardly had I returned from San Sebastian to the capital before it became clear to me that the Spanish nation as a whole welcomed the attempt, which the general had undertaken to reform the administration.

"Grave political abuses had grown up throughout Spain which had led to persecution of that part of the political constituency which was against the party in power. So I at once gave my full confidence to the new government. The consequence was that this difficult constitutional crisis passed over without a single drop of blood being shed or a single individual being imprisoned."

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Jan. 17.—Movement of approximately 2000 Mexican troops with their equipment from Naco, Son., through Arizona, New Mexico and thence into Texas to Laredo was authorized today by Gov. George W. P. Hunt in response to a message from Secretary of States Charles E. Hughes.

The Mexican Embassy requested permission from the United States government for the movement of the troops "for the purpose of service in regions in Mexico where American lives and property of great value are in danger," said the Secretary of State's telegram to Gov. Hunt. The troops will enter Arizona at Naco and move eastward through New Mexico and to Laredo, via El Paso, it was announced.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SANTA FE (N. M.) Jan. 17.—The Governor of New Mexico today granted permission for Mexican troops to pass through New Mexico en route from Nogales, Ariz., to Eagle Pass and Laredo, Tex.

LARGE FORCE TO BE ADDED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

EL PASO (Tex.) Jan. 17.—Approximately 5000 local troops, natives of the States of Sinaloa and Sonora, called the stamping ground of President Alvaro Obregon and Gen. P. Elias Calles, will be available to service in eastern zones within one week, as result of the permission granted Mexican Federal authorities to move men through the United States.

President Obregon has ordered that every available soldier of the Mexican national army not needed for field service in his present station be sent to Tampico in an effort to wrest the oil-field control from the rebels, Juarez military authorities were advised today.

REBELS SHELL TAMPICO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TAMPICO, Jan. 17.—Rebel gunboats bombarded the city and port of Tampico this morning. The news of the bombardment was received in a telephone message from the observer station at La Barra. The message said:

"Jesus M. Palma, chief of the Coast Guard, at 9 o'clock this morning sighted the rebel gunboats Tampico and Saragosa which had prevented six ships from entering the port. The vessels were five tankers and the Dutch steamer Masadan.

"The rebel gunboats fired four shots. The artillery stationed at the entrance to the fort replied and forced the rebel vessels to retire outside the range of the guns.

FIRE ON SUBURB

"Then the rebel ships directed their fire against the suburb of Varadero, located to the left of the Panuco River, destroying several Chinese houses. How many of the occupants of these houses perished is not known. An airplane sent up to reconnoiter identified both of the rebel boats.

"At noon the ships cruised 600 meters off the mouth of the Panuco River, trying to find a landing place."

The foreign residents of Tampico are in an expectant mood. There is considerable nervous tension among the native population.

Immediately after the bombardment, James B. Stewart, the American Consul, informed the American Embassy at Mexico City and the State Department in Washington, and requested instructions.

Some of the populace, fearful lest the rebels's ships again fire on the town, have left Tampico. The port is well protected by artillery. President Obregon is being kept informed of the situation.

VESSELS DISAPPEAR

The arrival of the rebel ships off the entrance to the port had been reported early in the morning. The belief prevailed that they had come to Tampico to enforce an order, proclaimed by Adolfo De la Huerta, supreme chief of the rebels, for a blockade of Tampico. A special train, carrying artillery, machine guns and troops was immediately started for La Barra, the entrance of the port. The detachment was under commands of Gen. Lorenzo Munoz, chief of the Federal garrison.

After the bombardment, the ships disappeared. Two bombing planes are being held in readiness to attack the rebel ships if they attempt to return.

SAYS CALLES IS "RED"

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Charging that Red battalions are being organized in Mexico with the approval of President Obregon and have appeared under the soviet colors—red and black—Enrique Seidner, representing De la Huerta revolutionary forces, in a statement here today asserted that "the Obregon-Calles regime is so tainted with Red tendencies that Mexico would be converted into a soviet state dominated by Moscow."

"The people of the United States," said Seidner, "are not aware that with the assent of Obregon, Calles is openly organizing Red battalions recruited from the lowest classes, from which its officers are likewise selected. He is assembling at his headquarters in San Luis Potosi several hundred of these men who are being armed with the rifles and cartridges recently purchased from the United States government."

Chief Approves Aim of Club in Boy Movement

The Thirty-five Hundred Club of Los Angeles, an organization of business men pledged to the welfare of boys, of which H. B. Wright, managing director of the Criterion Theater, is president, had its first luncheon yesterday afternoon in the Los Angeles Athletic Club. More than 200 men attended.

The outstanding event of the luncheon was a letter from Chief of Police Vollmer, who, because of other duties, was unable to attend. The letter was a complete indorsement of the Thirty-five Hundred Club movement, and read as follows:

"It is estimated that 10 per cent of all the children that are now in schools will ultimately fall into the hands of the police for some offense, minor or major. This would suggest that in order to prevent crime more attention should be given to the building of the character of these potential delinquents. Any plan to interest the business men in work of this character should have the undivided support of the community."

Speakers included W. H. Holland, chief probation officer of the Juvenile Court; T. H. Saunders of the Southern Pacific Railway; Dr. A. H. Sutherland, director of educational research of the Los Angeles public schools; Martin Hauser, chairman of the boys' welfare work of the Rotary Club, and Horace Dunbar, president of the Rotary Club.

Mr. Anderson was born in Lexington, Va., and graduated from Washington and Lee University. When he entered the county service he was treasurer of the H. Mrs. Ingham had sued for $50,100, asserting she suffered a wrenched back in the accident, which was said to have occurred November 21, 1922.

NOTORIOUS BANDIT OF CHINA DEAD

Lao-Yang-Jen, Leader in Recent Kidnaping, Killed by Troops in Battle

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PEKING, Jan. 17.—Lao Yang-Jen, notorious bandit, whose men recently shot and fatally wounded Prof. Bernhard Hoff and kidnaped Mrs. Julina Kilen, both American missionaries, was killed in a battle at Kwantilling, the Foreign Office has been advised. Mrs. Kilen was rescued several days ago.

Lao Yang-Jen had terrorized the provincial borders of Honan and Hupeh for two years. The dispatch announcing his death came from Gen. Wu Pei-Fu, commander of the northern provinces, to whose headquarters the body was brought and identified.

The Foreign Office, in making the announcement, added that the removal of Lao Yang-Jen from banditry, together with the recent execution of Sun Mai-Yao, the outlaw leader who had a part in the kidnaping of foreigners in the Lincheng train seizure last May, "could not fail to have a salutary effect, and undoubtedly will inspire the government troops to further action against minor bandits."

TAX MOVES GRAIN MART TO CANADA

House Committee Hears Chicagoan's Entreaty to Drop Levy

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Chicago is no longer the world's greatest wheat market, that honor having been attained by Winnipeg, Man., by reason of the continued imposition of American stamp taxes and other restrictive measures on trading in the Chicago Board of Trade, L. F. Gates of Chicago, former president of the board, asserted before the House Ways and Means Committee today. Mr. Gates made an appeal for the removal of the "nuisance taxes" on grain transactions.

The diversion of business from Chicago to Canada occasioned by these taxes also has resulted in the retirement of a great many investors who formerly traded regularly in the grain market.

The delegation attacked both the stamp tax and the tax on sales for future delivery.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Six transatlantic liners due today and tomorrow will reach New York from one and a half to two and a half days late because of last night's gale, which reached hurricane force at sea. It caused the death of ten persons, two of them women, and injured thirty in the metropolitan district and along the coast. Great property damage was done and many small craft were driven ashore.

The Fall River liner Priscilla, with three hundred passengers from Boston and Newport, was held at the latter city over her 8:30 p.m. sailing time until 3 o'clock this morning, and reached her pier here this afternoon, nearly seven hours late.

FIVE DROWN ON BARGE

The lumber barge Plymouth went down two miles off shore at Long Branch with four men and a woman aboard.

Three men, the crew of the barge Northern No. 8, in the same tow, were rescued by coast guards by means of a breeches buoy just before the barge was battered to pieces, where it had grounded, three-quarters of a mile from shore. The rescued were Capt. Thomas W. Wheatley, of Baltimore; Alfred Adams, Buffalo, and David Moody, a negro of New London.

The lumber cargo of the Northern No. 8, valued at $50,000, drifted out to sea and upon the beach where residents salvaged part of it.

Capt. Wheatley said the four men and woman who were lost on the barge Plymouth did not have a chance.

"The barge just let go; foundered right away and turned over," he said. "The bodies didn't come to the surface while we were near. In a few minutes we were trying to save our own barge and our lives."

BELOW ZERO AT CHICAGO

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Subzero temperatures for the third time this month have the Middle West and Northwest secure in a paralyzing, icy grip. Minot, N. D., tonight is the coldest spot in the country with a temperature 29 deg. below zero. Winona, Minn., is suffering from 28 below, and at Sioux Falls, S. D., the thermometer register 17 below.

In Chicago proper the mercury is hovering just below the zero point, while suburban theremometers register from 2 to 10 below. At 7 o'clock this morning Chicago's official temperature was 4 deg. below zero. Predictions are that it will go even lower tonight and moderate slightly Friday.

Another death was added to the list of cold and storm victims, when Mrs. Samuel Anderson, 3556 Wrightwood avenue, suffered a fractured skull and died when she fell from her back porch after slipping on its ice-coated floor. Three persons were killed yesterday during the blinding blizzard.

Between midnight and 7 a.m., when the thermometers recorded the most pronounced drop, sixty-three fire alarms were sent in. Although in many cases the water turned to ice as it left the hose nozzles, the firemen succeeded in preventing any loss of life, but the damage from fires was heavy.

In addition to the biting cold many points in the Middle West reported heavy snows.

The Mississippi River at Quincy, Ill., is frozen from shore to shore for the first time in twenty-five years.

MOVES TO HALT LYNCHING PLAN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Jan. 17.—Atty.-Gen. J. W. Murphy has ruled that a change of venue may be obtained by a defendant's counsel, without need of the prisoner's attendance. This is of large importance in view of the assurance that an attempt would be made to lynch William B. Ward in the event he is taken back to Globe for a hearing or for a trial. Ward, a negro, is being held in the State penitentiary at Florence on a charge of having murdered Ted Grosh, a university student, near Globe. He also is believed to have been the assailant of F. Maxine McNelly and one of the murderers of Mrs. Dulcine Boudreau at Phoenix.

There now is probability of his trial at Florence, with court possibly held within the walls of the penitentiary to guard against disorder. Penitentiary officials believe he will make full confession if convicted and thus they hope to get the names of all concerned in the Boudreau case.

REHEARING DENIED

The Arizona Corporation Commission has refused rehearing of the application of the Arizona Eastern Railroad Company, a Southern Pacific subsidiary, for a renewal of its lease on the Phoenix and Eastern trackage east of Phoenix. The point was raised that the matter properly belongs to the Interstate Commerce Commission, before which now is pending application for a lease of the side lines by the Southern Pacific main-line system.

URGE LENIENCY FOR SETTLERS

Witnesses Give Opinions on Reclamation Policies

Government's Penalities for Delinquents Scored

Yuma Spokesman Sees Hope in Colorado Compact

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 17.—That settlers on reclamation projects would find a way out of their difficulties, pay their debts to the government and establish their own prosperity, if only the government would show a little leniency and more business ability in handling reclamation projects was the testimony given before the opening sessions of the Federal fact-finding commission in this city today.

Representatives from Arizona and Idaho spoke before the commission.

William Weisner, representing the Yuma project in Arizona, said that he did not believe the 1 per cent a month penalty for delinquent payments was just or business-like. He claimed that threats which he asserted the reclamation service had made to shut off the water from those delinquent would not help matters, for with their water shut off, the settlers would be without any means of ever paying the debt. He recommended an extension of time. Two good crops, said Mr. Weisner, and the Yuma settlers would be in good financial condition.

Mr. Weisner referred to the Colorado River compact as being the best hope for the Yuma settlers, but that this hope was blasted when the Arizona Legislature "embalmed" the pact. He also urged that the government maintain the forty miles of levees which the Yuma farmers were maintaining at their own expense. He predicted that the Arizona Legislature would ratify the pact at the next session, and that, with the Colorado River harnessed, the Yuma project would be a complete success.

The Idaho witnesses spoke in much the same tones. J. E. Rice of Caldwell, Idaho, advocated what is generally known as the Miles Canyon plan, and said that the Idaho projects were in condition to "pull out of the hole" if given an opportunity. This plan in brief, is a five-year moratorium, cancellation of penalties on all delinquent charges and to have all delinquent charges be considered as supplemental contracts and handle them after the original contracts were completed.

There are twenty-eight reclamation projects in the country and all but one of these are in arrears with the payments to the government, it was stated at the meeting today. The projects were formed on a basis of twenty-year payments and the designated time for completion of payments in many projects is approaching, but according to a letter from Hubert Work, Secretary of the Interior and read at the meeting today, out of an expenditure of $181,000,000, only $46,000,000, has been paid, leaving an unpaid balance of $135,000,000.

"My Hair Was Quite Gray"

"Only a short time ago my hair was quite gray and beginning grayer. It was falling out. My scalp itched and dandruff appeared.

"Only a few applications of Kolor-Bak stopped the itching and dandruff. My hair soon stopped coming out. Most wonderful of all, however, is that my hair is again its original color. I look ten years younger. No wonder I'm so thankful for Kolor-Bak!" (A typical letter)

"Quer haired—too old for active service"

Thousands have reported just such wonderful results as are told in the above words.

This clean, colorless liquid restores the original color to any gray hair—and the color is uniform. No faded, streaked or "dyed" appearance.

It also keeps the scalp free from dandruff and itching. Results often appear in a week.

Every scientist and physician knows that gray hair is hair that has ceased to receive its normal supply of coloring matter or pigment from certain tiny cells in the scalp because these cells have become inactive from age, illness or some other cause. No matter what the cause, it is amazing to see how the grayness disappears when Kolor-Bak is used. It is a proved substitute for the natural hair pigmentation.

URGE ACTION ON GRAZING

WETS PLAN AS DRYS CHEER

Latter Have Prohibition Birthday Party As Former Prepare Conference; Pinchot Flays Enforcement

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—With the cheers of the drys still ringing in their convention hall in response to assertions that, now that the United States is dry, the movement will be extended to dry up the rest of the world, leaders of the various antiprohibition organizations began preparations here today for their confeence next week.

The Anti-Saloon League andallied organizations, ended their celebration of the "birthday of prohibition" today. Dry leaders reiterated their faith in the prohibition amendment and the Volstead Act in speeches that bristled with challenges to the wets to come out into the open and fight. There was but one discordant voice—that of Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania, who declared that prohibition enforcement today is a national disgrace.

The wets, preparing for their meeting, repeated Pinchot's statement and declared the reason prohibition was not being enforced was that the people did not want it enforced. At headquarters of the Association Opposed to Prohibition it was stated that at next week's conference facts and figures would be produced to convince the country that the great majority of the inhabitants of the United States are utterly opposed to prohibition as it is at present constituted.

WOLVERINES HEAR WAILS OF JOHNSON

Californian Clings to His Ohio Speeches in Bid for Michigan's Support

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DETROIT, Jan. 17.—Senator Hiram Johnson of California, who won Michigan's support in the 1920 Presidential preference primaries, renewed his bid for the favor of Wolverine Republicans tonight in an address here.

In his speech, which followed closely that made recently in Cleveland, Senator Johnson condemned the sale of arms to the Obregon government in Mexico, he assailed the World Court as the "creature of the League," and he reiterated his opposition to the League "with or without reservations."

He unqualifiedly advocated a soldiers' bonus and was equally vigorous in favoring a reduction of taxes, at the same time expressing opposition to the Mellon tax plan.

Other high points in his address were his fling at the Republican National Committee for restoring to Southern States the representation taken from them by the 1920 convention and his criticism of Henry Ford and others for their statements that he would be better if no Presidential election were held this year.

Buckner is about 50 years of age. He went to Chicago with a load of cattle and returned with his bride, a Chicago girl, Mrs. Buckner is about 20 years of age. She is being taken to Council Bluffs with her husband.

NEW OFFER ON SHOALS IS MADE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Secretary Weeks received today a joint offer made by three southern power companies proposing a fifty-year lease to them of the government's power projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., for which $100,000,000 in rentals would be paid during that period.

The companies propose under the lease to construct transmission lines for power, making it available to manufacturing centers of the South and other sections of the country; to provide 100,000 horsepower at cost for use in the manufacture of fertilizer at Muscle Shoals and to contribute a fund of $1,000,000 to be used under government control in electrochemical research. Other provisions include an offer to purchase the Shedfield steam plant at the Shoals for $4,500,000, or lease it, if the government prefers to retain ownership of that unit.

The proposal was signed by C. M. Clark of the Tennessee Electric Power Company, E. W. Hill of the Memphis Power and Light Company and Thomas W. Martin of the Alabama Power Company. It will be carefully studied by War Department officials it was said, before being submitted by them to Congress for final decision along with the other offers being considered by House and Senate committees.

Announcement by Chairman Kahn of the House Military Committee that a "clear-cut" statement on the offer for lease and purchase of the Shoals properties by the Ford interests would be made before the committee, Tuesday, and that other proposals now in the hands of War Department officials should be delivered to that body by that time, caused Secretary Weeks to speed up consideration of the proposals by his department.

It was not believed, however, that the studies could be concluded in time to submit the offers to the House committees by the date fixed by Chairman Kahn.

TROJAN BASKETBALL QUINTET TACKLES CALIFORNIA TOSSERS TONIGHT

BEARS MAY HIT SNAG IN U.S.C.

Bid to Show Much Against Olympic Club

Trojan Defense Will Bother California Men

Coach Turner's Outfit Plays Rivals Tonight

BY ROBERT RAY
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. The U.S.C. Trojans have a very good chance of upsetting the California Bears in their conference basketball games at Berkeley Friday and Saturday nights.

After seeing the Bears bump the Olympic club, 32 to 19, at Harmon gym and comparing them with the Trojans in their two games with the L.A.A.C. Coach Turner's outfit looks a little the better to me.

Tonight the Bears ran up a few more points on the winged quintet, but the Trojans could have scored more points and held the Bears to a lower score, the way the Bears played against the Olympics attempted a "man-to-man" defense against their speedier opponents and the Bears simply ran away from them.

The Bears are a fast, rangy outfit and have plenty of experience, but are getting only one basket out of every four shots against the Trojan "D" five. That is, all but Captain Bruin Boerger—who is good in seven field goals and made a pair of free throws for 16 of his team's total points—is shooting badly. Talt got his man in the end of the first half and scored five goals, but missed a number of several of them setups. Lyon, who played forward with Talt got but two baskets out of seven shots.

Coach Nibs Price announces that the Bear cagers are in good shape, with the exception of Lidar, who is laid up with a sore arm. Lidar did not take part in the game against the Trojans, a lanky sophomore playing the center position in his stead. The same line-up that defeated the Olympic club last week against U.S.C. Capt. Bud Ryan will handle the forward job, Blanton will be at center and Robson and Kincaid will be on the starting quintet.

The Amateur Polo Association has increased twelve new teams to its membership making the total thirty-four. Additional applications to be acted upon will bring the total close to ninety. The annual meeting will take place in New York the 15th inst.

DUSTLESS TRACK AT ASCOT

Chemical Preparation Will Keep Dirt on the Ground While Speed Demons Cavort; Opening Sunday

New Ascot Speedway is ready for the opening scheduled for Sunday. Nothing remains to be done to the track and grounds but some cleaning up work and the application of twelve tons of calcium chloride to the surface of the track. The chemical preparation is considered by experts to be the last word in dust-laying treatment. The surface of the new speedway is rock-like, no sign of cutting having developed during the three days of practice with as many as fifteen cars at a time being on the track.

"I feel that I have made good my promise to produce for George Bentel the most spectacular dirt speedway in the world," said Paul Derkum last night. "When the calcium is applied to the surface late Saturday afternoon my work will be done. This work cannot be done for best effect until eighteen hours before the start of the first race. The track will be lightning fast and smooth as glass. There will be no dust."

Eighteen cars were out for practice yesterday afternoon. Fred Horey exercised his 300 Frontenac and his 183 Deusenberg, following a decision that he would not be permitted to use his 625-inch Fiat with which he has won many races and set several world's dirt-track marks. Ralph De Palma requested that information to the effect that he did not protest Horey's Fiat entry be broadcast. De Palma has never protested a competitor. He did, however, call President Bentel's attention to a clause added to his Ascot entry declining to race against any car of larger displacement than 300 cubic inches. Horey will probably drive an exhibition with his Fiat to show how good it is.

Entries closed at midnight with a total of forty-two auto nominations and seventeen motor-bike speed demons listed. Of the latter eight must be eliminated as the motorcycle sanctioning body will permit but nine starters on a track the size of New Ascot. On Sunday morning, twelve of the auto drivers entered will be eliminated, only thirty being eligible for the qualifying and final heats.

President Bentel announced last night that the advance sale had been very big and that the recreation of old Ascot along modern lines had seemingly made a big hit with the speed fans. Many out-of-town delegations are coming in for Sunday's races. Redlands will send several hundred to cheer for Eddie Meyer, world's dirt-track record holder. Practice will be on this afternoon between 2 and 4.

Newsies Have Joyous Night at Their Club

The newsies had a joyous time of it last night at their clubrooms on Spring near First. A capacity house enjoyed the night's boxing card which proved to be a hummer. Secretary Carlo Curtis wore a broad smile of satisfaction and everybody went home happy. Al Copper and Henry Gussman went to a fast draw. Young Benny Leonard and Young Valentino also fought a good draw. Ted O'Levis was one too many for Kid Louie. Tommy Gibbons and Jack Dempsey went at it hammer and tongs for three rounds. Col. Jack Doyle, patron saint of the newsies, in a luckless moment agreed to referee this set-to. It was a tight argument and Jack was about to cross his arms but changed his mind when some kid yelled "Aw swing with the champ, Jack" and Jack did.

George Smith and Bud Jewett drew. Through the kindness of Manager Gig Rooney, Jimmy Marcus boxed with Tommy Alba, with M. L. Ruwin as referee. It was a friendly exhibition bout. Artie Reynolds, king of the newsies, and Deacon Pyle, godfather of the newsies, also refereed bouts. Nick Moziotti and Max Stauffer sang songs and A. Kimoto and Kawasaki went to a draw at jiujitsu wrestling. Through the kindness of Y. Niurooka, editor of the Japanese Daily News.

REDLANDS HIGH TO TACKLE RIVERSIDE

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE]

REDLANDS, Jan. 17.—Redlands High School basketball teams, heavyweight and lightweight, will tangle with Riverside at the Y. M. C. A. here Friday night in a Citrus Belt League game. Riverside is given the edge, having defeated San Bernardino, while Redlands playing without the services of the veteran Harley Sutt, who is ineligible, has lost two games, one to Pomona and one to Chaffey.

CHARLEY DEAL LIKELY TO PLAY WITH VERNON

Charley Deal, the best third baseman in the Coast League, will in all probability appear at the hot corner for Vernon during the 1924 season. Manager Bill Essick recently gave the Pasadena infielder permission to trade himself to some eastern club, but Deal is growing warmer toward the Vernon proposition and many fans believe that he will be back at his old position when the season opens.

Franklin and Pioneers Meet on Roman Court

Hollywood in Tough Contest With Jefferson

The long grind is over and this afternoon scores of local high school athletes who have been going without their pie and cake in order to be in good shape for basketball hold the spotlight of prepdom and will continue to do so for a month or more. Pie is often the ruin of many a good player, for this delicacy, coaches tell us, often has a distressing habit of rising up and kicking a fellow in the face just at the most important stage of a game. Whether or not the young men in today's contests have been passing up the pastry will come to light without a doubt.

Coach Bruce Kirkpatrick's L. A. High quintet opens the season with the Franklin tossers furnishing the opposition on the Pioneer court. The Kitefiyers refuse to admit that their team is to be mopped up by the Romans. Although most of the men are new, Coach Sam Tenison has thrown together a fast but light aggregation. One of his best men is Morris Gulstine, who hails from the State of Washington, where he used to toss the casaba through the hoop with wild abandon. Gulstine is something of a bean pole and will probably have the jump on Sanders and Newmark, Roman centers.

All of the Kitefiyers are playing their first year as regulars on the Franklin team, Stein being the nearest thing to a vet, as he was on the squad last year. Rhinehart, guard, was one of Tenison's best football bets last year but could not play through the season because of injuries. Long and Hughes round out the quintet.

The Romans will have Herman, Beck and May from last year's five, while Sanders and Middleton, the other two starting players, are ex-football stars. Coach Kirkpatrick's lads are hefty and if they play a slashing, offensive game should find their weight an excellent advantage.

Coach George Costello has a whole raft of veterans at Jefferson, and although all of his men will probably get into the home game with Hollywood at some time or other, gave out Capt. Leffingwell and Rice at forwards, Neal center, and Grossman and Everett, guards. All of these chaps played last year.

Out at Hollywood Coach Paige is still so worried about his team that he couldn't take time to give out a line-up last night. However, it seems to be rather generally noised about that Wills and Ketchum will do the basket tossing, with Ralston at center, Johnson and Lehners are slated for the guard berths.

Manual Arts, Lincoln and Poly drew byes for today. The lightweight teams play preliminary games to the big contests today.

Here are the heavyweight lineups:

SILVA MEETS HAMILTON

Popular Local Bantamweight Takes on Denver Lad at Hollywood Stadium Tonight

When Bud Hamilton and Teddy Silva get together in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion stadium tonight, fistic fans should witness more action than it has been their pleasure to view in these parts for many a day. Silva has fought so many satisfactory scraps at Hollywood and Vernon, that his ability has become a well established fact. It is Hamilton that perhaps a few are skeptical about.

Those who watched him work against Young Farrell at Vernon, however, have no doubts as to his class. Hailing from the Rocky Mountains country, Hamilton made good with a bang at the coliseum, and proved himself just the type of battler that will please any audience. He should give Silva as tough, if not a tougher, argument than did Georgie Marks at Vernon a couple of months ago.

Sid Marks tackles "Wild Man" Gould in the semifinal. Marks has made good in two bouts at Hollywood, but tonight's appearance will be Gould's first before the movie city fans. Matchmaker Tom Kennedy describes the "Wild Man" as a crazy fighter who is liable to cut all sorts of unusual capers in the ring.

Sam Eisman and Marty O'Grady, a pair of heavyweights, box the feature preliminary; Billy Wallace meets Johnny Lucas at 133 pounds; Kid Louie tackles Joe Spiers at 126 pounds, and Frankie Louziano hooks up with Young Sallee at 115 pounds.

Sailor Ritter Holds Manley to Good Draw

In the main event at Los Angeles Harbor at the C.P.O. boxing bouts last night George Manley and Sailor Ritter went to a fast draw. The set-to at times was furious and many present were of the opinion that Ritter should have had the verdict. In the semi-wind-up Leo Barlage, who had the better of almost two rounds took a right to the chin near the end of the second round and went down for the full count. In the special event Hank Gatton drew with Jack Thompson.

Sailor McKenzie drew with Sailor De Marzo. In the best scrap of the night Charley Jones lost to Young Monroe on a foul. Sailor Brett knocked out Tex Jones in the first round. Sailor Cohoon got the decision over Boob McNutt. It was ladies' night and the house was filled to its capacity.

KILLIFER SCOUTING FOR SPRING GROUNDS

Match at Pasadena Golf Club Brings Good Scores

English Players Make Six Birdies When Dormie

BY CHARLES WEST

For the first time since their arrival in Southern California, Arthur Havers, British open golf champion and James Ockenden, open champion of France, were making shots worthy of their titles yesterday when they held Mel Smith and Fred Wright even in a 36-hole exhibition played on the links of the Pasadena Golf Club.

Havers had a pair of 69s, Ockenden two 72s, Wright a 72 and 76, and Mel Smith a 70 and 74. Although they trailed the local stars from the first hole until Ockenden squared the match with an eight-foot putt on the thirty-sixth green, the British professionals gave the gallery golfers an exhibition of clever shooting and ended the battle with a final spurt by pulling the match out of the fire with three birdies apiece when the match was dormie three.

HARD FOUGHT

In the morning round, when all four players were at their best, it was seldom that a hole was won without a birdie. Havers started off inauspiciously, being unable to get his putting touch, but finished with four pars and a birdie on the way out. Mel Smith was deadly with his putter throughout the match, while Wright's long tee shots almost kept pace with Havers's lengthy drives.

At the end of the first eighteen holes the British players were 3 down. Smith added a hole to his advantage on the twenty-second hole with a birdie three, after Wright had held the pros even with a nice putt on the preceding green.

On the thirtieth hole Havers made a beautiful approach, his ball stopping within inches of the cup after a full iron shot from the fairway. Smith was in a trap, but made a perfect out, his ball just missing the cup. Havers's birdie cut his opponents' advantage

TILDEN'S PLAN SCOUTED

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SYDNEY, Jan. 17.—Discussing William Tilden's suggestion for a world's tennis championship, Norman E. Brookes, Australian tennis star, declared today:

"The idea of an annual rotating title contest would spoil the interest in the Davis Cup. The winning nation, say the United States, might not bother to chase the title in Australia but wait until it is rotated to them. Tilden's proposal is a revival of an old idea, propounded when we held the cup so long. Personally, I think the present arrangement is more desirable."

Gerald Patterson says it is a good idea if it is run on right lines. He assumes Tilden will embody in the scheme a provision making holders of the title go abroad to meet challengers under penalty of a forfeit.

University of Oregon Athletic Authorities Seeking New Football Mentor

VIRGIL EARL TAKES A TRIP

Comes First of All Down to See Andy Kerr

Hugo Bezdek Certain to Get a Good Offer

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 17.—Football followers in Oregon are anxiously awaiting the outcome of the scouting trip of Virgil Earl, athletic director of the University of Oregon, who is out looking for a head coach to succeed Shy Huntington at that institution. Earl left Eugene early in January with the announced purpose of holding personal interviews with a selected group of some fifty applicants for the Oregon job. He will also interview others who have not applied for the position, but who are considered possibilities for the place.

COMING SOUTH

Earl's itinerary was not announced, but it is known that it included California, and it is believed that his chief errand there was to talk with Andy Kerr of Stanford. Although Kerr's contract at Stanford has not expired, Kerr is one of the favorite prospects with Oregon students and alumni, and many of them hope that an arrangement may be made for him to come to Eugene. John R. Richards, former Wisconsin coach, who lives in Los Angeles, and Norman C. Paine, former assistant to Alonzo A. Stagg, were others whom Earl was to see. Paine is living at Lindsey, Cal.

The Oregon alumni are somewhat disgruntled because no member of the alumni accompanied Earl on his trip. The alumni are taking a very active interest in the selection of a coach and had hinted to the Oregon faculty that the alumni should be included in any negotiations that are made. However, Earl slipped away before the alumni knew he was going and it is evident that the athletic administration expects to keep the situation in its own hands. It was first hinted that Jack Benefiel, graduate manager, would go with Earl, but Benefiel is still in Eugene.

SEE 'EM ALL

Earl will see a number of coaches in the East, some for advice and others as actual prospects. On the way he is to talk with R. C. Courtright, the Nevada coach, who is among the applicants. Among the outstanding coaches whose advice will be sought is Stagg at Chicago, who is personally acquainted with the work of several of the men Oregon has under consideration.

Then there is Hugo Bezdek. Earl is to have a conference with Bezdek and an offer will be made to the Penn State mentor, whose contract there still has a year to run. It is not thought likely that Earl will be able to induce Bezdek to consider a return to Oregon, but he is first choice with most of the students and alumni and they are going on the theory that it will do no harm to try.

Three Semipro Clashes Carded for Tomorrow

Tomorrow's games in the Greater Southern California Baseball Association will bring six teams together. The Harper-Reynolds club will take on the Vernon Wizards at Exposition Park, the Pasadena All-Stars are slated to play Harry Nelson's K.V. 220 Edison nine at Brookside Park, and the St. Agnes Athletic Club will hook up with the Minor Building Company outfit at Ross Snyder field.

Anaheim will be the scene Sunday of a hot battle between the Anaheim and Long Beach Knights of Columbus teams, who are fighting for first place in their league. The game will start at noon, the winner to play the Oakland K. C. for the championship of California. Hollywood will play Los Angeles at Loyola and Manchester Heights will go to Alhambra for a game with that club.

SKATER McGOWAN SHATTERS RECORD

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PITTSFIELD (Mass.) Jan. 17—Two world's records were broken on Onota Lake today by Everett McGowan of St. Paul, Minn., and Miss Gladys Robinson of Toronto, who set new marks for skating 100 yards. McGowan covered the distance in 5½ seconds. He was able to keep up with the automobile which paced him, and which, the timers said, attained a maximum speed of 52 miles an hour. The women's record for 100 yeards was broken when Miss Robinson, skating unpaced from a standing start, established a mark of 10 2-5 seconds.

Unbeaten Teams in Bank League Tangle Monday

Much interest is being shown in the Bankers' League game to be played by the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank and the Federal Reserve Bank quintet Monday night at the Hollywood High School gymnasium.

Neither of these teams has met defeat in the league games this season. The Federal Reserve has won nine and lost none, while the Pacific-Southwest won seven and lost none. The Federal Reserve won the Southern California championship last season and the Pacific-Southwest boys are out to stop their march this year. An idea of the job they will have is indicated by the fact that the Federal men have shown much class this season in games with Larry Semon, Hollywood Athletic Club, Alhambra Athletic Club and University of Southern California teams.

The present league standings are as follows:

	Won	Lost	Percentage
Federal Reserve Bank	3	0	1000
Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings	7	0	1000
California	6	1	.857
Security Trust & Savings	5	2	.714

LETTER FOR O'LEARY

A letter for Dan O'Leary awaits him in the sporting department of The Times.

OBSERVATIONS by the INNOCENT BYSTANDER

W.M.H.

The appointment of Sid Nichols as head coach at Occidental College ought to give the battling Bengals a new lease on life for the simple reason that the appointment of a new coach nearly always results in renewed interest and enthusiasm on the part of the athletes, students, alumni and also the general public. Particularly is it true when the new coach represents a "system" of athletic coaching which is recognized throughout the country as almost a standard.

Coach Nichols was brought up in the Zuppke school of football at Illinois, which has brought the Illini more fame in seven or eight years than they had won in two or three decades previously. The new Tiger coach expects to install the Zuppke system complete in football and the Tigers, who lose only three regulars this year and draw a splendid freshman outfit, ought to be in for a good season.

Nichols comes to Occidental with an advantage usually not possessed by a new coach for he is thoroughly acquainted not only with the manner in which football is played in Southern California but with the individual material on his squad as he served as a volunteer backfield coach during part of last season.

Apparently the gallery gods of golfdom do dearly love to see the boys get into trouble and out again. The enormous gallery which followed such distinguished citizens as MacDonald Smith, Eddie Loos, Joe Kirkwood and Gene Sarazen was outnumbered by the mob which fastened itself on the tricky seventeenth green which had been so thoroughly and energetically cussed by all the competitors because of its undeniably devilish characteristics.

There must have been at least two thousand spectators clustered around the "fatal" hole, chiefly on the bluff which overlooked it, and they applauded violently the efforts of the players to conquer the eccentricities of the hole. The number of low scores on the hole was nothing short of remarkable considering the ease with which it was possible to get into difficulty by the slightest kind of miscalculation.

Some great Eastern track authority has come out with a pre-Olympic yarn in which he toots the horn of America's high jumpers and mentions as our stars Leroy Brown, Dick Landon, Harold Osborne and Johnny Murphy. Why omit Oliver Corey? The Trojan youngster was good enough to break in on the points in the Nationals a few years ago as a high school stripling but probably was forgotten when his studies laid him low a year ago and prevented his competing at U.S.C.

If Corey returns to school this spring and succeeds in regaining his old-time form he will give any of that quartet something to worry about. Incidentally Coach Pipal claims that he is going to have Cliff Argue jumping around 6 feet 4 this year as the Tiger all-around demon is going to take things easy and concentrate largely on the high jump. He clears 6 feet without any practice whatsoever.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 17.—Abadane, the fleet Irwin performer, made it two straight victories today at Tijuana, by winning the feature event, over the mile and seventy-yard route, in easy fashion. Billy Star ran a superb race to finish second, with Victoire third.

Neg finally came through to win his first race, the opener on today's program. This horse has been considered overdue for some time, but the general public thought otherwise.

Second race, five and one-half furlongs—Badassie won, Scoop Up second, Omega third. Time 1:08.

Famous Guys Who Golf—No. 2

Arnold Statz

There may be better ball players than Arnold Statz, but there certainly aren't any better golfers among the ball players. Recently at the San Gabriel club, near Los Angeles, Statz set a new amateur and professional record for the course by shooting a sizzling 67, five strokes better than par. Statz had seven birdies, and if he ever gets tired of playing lead-off man for the Cubs, he ought to be able to knock down a few pennies as a pro golfer.

Statz learned the ins and outs of golf at Worcester, Mass., where he was employed as a caddy at the tender age of thirteen. He later became an ardent follower of the elusive pill on the municipal course of his home town, and now, while golf is only his recreation, he is the best golfer in baseball.

A year ago Statz competed in the California amateur championship, registering a seventy in the finals and losing only to the famous Fred Wright. Statz does not think that golf hurts his baseball, but he does not play during the ball season, as he says the two games are too much for a person to attempt at the same time. Have you seen Jigger cavort around center field in the Cubs park? But say, you ought to see him drive the old golf ball!

to three holes. The next three holes were halved, Havers's excellent putt on the thirty-third green giving the gallery a thrill, and the English players were dormie.

It was then that Havers and Ockenden came to the tee with their unbeatable brand of golf, Ockenden's approaching and putting making it unnecessary for Havers to do anything startling, although he made birdie for birdie with his partner while the best ball of Wright and Smith was a par in each case.

Mrs. Ike Wentworth and Mrs. C. O. Young tied for the trophy in the blind-par Monkey tournament held yesterday at the Sunset Canyon Country Club, each having a pair of 46's for a medal score of 92. In the play-off Mrs. Wentworth won the cup.

Third honors were taken by Mrs. C. H. Lathrop.

Mixed foursomes will be held at the Brentwood Country Club Sunday by the women's auxiliary of the Southern California Golf Association. A large entry list is anticipated by Mrs. A. E. D. Trabue, chairman of the auxiliary.

MOUNTAIN MEADOWS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POMONA, Jan. 17.—In defeating Red Hill Country Club yesterday by taking six out of eight matches played on the local course, Mountain Meadows golfers have thrown the usual peace and quiet of tri-club officials into a frenzy of excitement and placed an air of uncertainty as to the ultimate victor of the three-club tournament just concluded. First place is claimed by Indian Hill, with two match tournaments won, one lost and one tied. Mountain Meadows claims first place in a tie with Indian Hill on a record of two wins and two defeats.

The cause of all the controversy as to who has won the loving cup is a misunderstanding as to the status of a tie score of four matches indulged in by Indian Hill and Red Hill on the 2nd inst. on the latter's course. According to Indian Hill golfers they have won the tournament, but Mountain Meadows is adamant and maintains the former club is counting on a one-half point garnered by virtue of the tie score with Red Hill. This way of figuring, according to members of Mountain Meadows, is not in accordance with the agreement made by the three clubs more than a year ago.

It is probable that an arbitration committee will be appointed within a few days to settle the controversy and draw up new rules and regulations.

TO RESUME PLAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE, Jan. 17. — After a week in which coaches have been able to correct faults brought out in opening games Friday, Seattle High School basketball teams will resume play tomorrow afternoon with four games being contested.

Soccer Teams Reach Third Round of Play

Third-round play in the race for the Southern California Soccer Association trophy will be staged on Sunday, three ties being on the card. The big game will be at Washington Park, when the Scots and Thistles hook up in a replay of the 3-3 game they staged last Sunday. At 1 p.m. the Long Beach Athletics will be the foes of the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

At Long Beach the Shell Oilers will oppose the Long Beach United in the third trophy battle of the day, which match is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock.

Pasadena is staging a pair of league contests, Rangers and Magyars hook up in the first, kick-off being at 1 p.m., while the afterpiece will bring together Pasadena and the Danes at 3:00.

The replayed game between Scots and Thistles is the culmination of a long and bitter feud between the pair. They have played three times already and the only win has been scored by the Thistles. Then two 3-3 ties came in succession. They hope to settle the difference Sunday in what should be a classic.

ANAHEIM SHORTSTOP SIGNS WITH DENVER

Ronald Bush, who has been playing a great game at shortstop for the Anaheim ball club, yesterday signed a contract to play with the Denver team of the Western League. Manager Vic Ruedy of the Anaheim club recommended the player. Bush is a natural hitter in addition to being a steady infielder.

STANFORD PLANNING FOR MEET

Cardinals Expect Record Crowd at Dedication of Stadium Track

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 17.—With thirty-six men of definite promise, many of them veterans, and with a host of aspiring candidates, Coach "Dink" Templeton of the Stanford varsity track team is planning for the greatest track meet on the Coast, to be held April 26 at Stanford University, when California comes to match prowess with the Cardinals. Plans are being laid for an attendance of 20,000 people at least. The meet will be held in the Stanford stadium, using the new track, which has been seasoned for two years, awaiting the opening day of use. The track was constructed by "Dod" Moulton, famous Stanford trainer, who died last year without seeing the track dedicated.

In 1920 the attendance at the California-Stanford track meet was 9264. In 1921 it dropped to the low figure of 5783. In 1922, 12,393 people saw the two universities battle to a 65½-to-65½ score, and last year 11,745 people were on hand. By holding the meet in the Stanford stadium, those who were unable to get a good seat in former years will have a chance to appreciate the meet. The annual homecoming of the Stanford alumni has been set for April 26, and this, with the added attraction of the final game of the California-Stanford baseball series, and other events now in contemplation, will make it an unusual opportunity to see the traditional rival teams in action.

DECORATORS LOSE TO SPANISH KITCHEN

The New Spanish Kitchen bowling five had on its heavy-hitting clothes Wednesday night when it played and trimmed the Edies Decorators at the Angelus Academy alleys by a 2-to-1 count. The play was in the Interurban League competition.

Play in the Junior League is scheduled for tonight, the Advance Messengers bactling the Angelus Glass team at the Angelus alleys.

It was announced last night by E. H. Cleckner, manager at the Angelus, that the B. H. Dyas Company has placed up two gold medals as awards for the members of the team to win the Southern California doubles championship. The doubles classic opens February 7 at the Angelus and will run for a period of three months. Eighteen teams will compete.

WASHINGTON WILL TAKE ON MONTANA

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE, Jan. 17.—The University of Washington basketball team after winning from Whitman College in a two-game series here Monday and Tuesday will meet the University of Montana here tomorrow and Saturday nights. The Montana quintet is considered stronger than the Whitman five but has yet to break into the winning column. The Gribblies were badly beaten by Gonzaga University last night at Spokane but played four close contests with the University of Idaho and Washington State University earlier this year.

Ralph Gundlach, husky guard and Bob Hesketh, husky forward are still on the injured list but Coach "Hec" Edmundson said today that he believes they will be ready to start tomorrow.

Bicycle sidecars are being used in Germany.

BIG BOUT A CERTAINTY

Dempsey and Gibbons to Battle in Gotham During First Week of June

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Jack Dempsey will defend his world's heavyweight title against Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul challenger, in a fifteen-round decision match in New York, probably at the Polo Grounds, the first week in June, Tex Rickard announced today.

The promoter, who announced several days ago that he had arranged the return match between these rivals, revealed further details in denying reports that he planned to conduct the bout during the Democratic national convention, which will open here June 24, in Madison Square Garden.

At the same time, Rickard disclosed that after the Dempsey-Gibbons fight, contracts for which he expects to haves igned within a fortnight, his next fistic venture will not take place before the middle of July, when he hopes to stage a heavyweight elimination contest between Harry Wills, negro contender, and Luis Angel Firpo, "Wild Bull of the Pampas." The winner of this match, if Rickard's plans materialize, would fight Dempsey in September, providing the champion succeeded in disposing of Gibbons in June.

Rickard, who was a member of the citizens' committee that worked to bring the Democratic convention here, declared he wanted to make it plain that there will be no bouts held here under his auspices during the political conclave, or any effort on his part to commercialize the event.

In this connection, the promoter pointed out that the $55,000 guaranteed the convention for concessions at Madison Square Garden was fixed merely as a minimum return from this source. Any and all profit over that amount will go to the convention, he asserted.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

HOT SPRINGS (Ark.) Jan. 17.—"It is news to me," commented Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, when informed tonight of the announcement made in New York today by Tex Rickard to the effect that the champion would defend his title against Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul early in June.

"If Rickard has arranged for a Dempsey-Gibbons match it is news to both Dempsey and myself," Kearns said. "I wish to state again I have made no arrangements whatever of that nature. In fact, I did not talk very seriously with Rickard about the match before I left New York, and have not signed any agreement, or made arrangements for a fight for Dempsey with anyone.

"I expect Dempsey will meet Firpo some time in July in a return match. It should be understood there are other places than New York who are after not only a Dempsey-Firpo bout, but a Dempsey-Wills fight, and Dempsey-Gibbons contest. It is not improbable either, that we might meet Wills, but as for the Firpo-Wills elimination contest, Rickard is said to have announced, "I am not interested in what those two do in that respect. I do want to make plain, however, that other places besides New York are after the champion to meet Gibbons, Firpo and Wills."

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. — Mr. Rickard tonight made it clear that his plan to have Dempsey defend his title against Gibbons in New York the first week in June was tentative and depended upon the consent of Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, whom he said he expected would be here in a few days.

Commenting on Kearns's announcement in Hot Springs tonight that his project for a return match early in June, was "news" to both Kearns and Dempsey, Rickard said: "It's true that I have not yet made this arrangement with Kearns, but I confidently expect he will agree to it when he arrives here in a few days. In view of the discussions we had recently on the subject, I don't think there should be any difficulty in the way of an agreement."

WILL FIX DATE FOR REGATTA

San Diego Expected to Get Second Annual Event

First Week in August Named as Tentative Time

Officers for Coming Year to be Elected

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Yachting powers of the West will gather here Saturday for the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Yachting Association. Headed by Dr. Albert Soiland of Los Angeles, admiral, the board of control will meet at the office of Secretary Clifford W. Smith at noon.

Fixing the date of the coast championship regatta is the most important detail to be attended to. Commodore Clem Stone and Jerry Sullivan of the Southern California Yachting Association will present the claims of San Diego for the first week of August. San Diego is practically certain to be awarded the second annual regatta, but the date is by no means certain.

Attending of Friday's meeting, besides Admiral Soiland, will be the board of control of the Coast association, composed of Lester Stone, Oakland, vice-admiral; James W. Griffith, Seattle, rear-admiral; Clifford W. Smith, San Francisco, secretary; Melville Dollar, Vancouver; Ed C. Smith, San Francisco and Thomas Chammond, San Diego.

The success of the association's first regatta held in San Francisco Bay last Autumn showed that distance is no bar to enthusiasm of Pacific Coast yachtsmen. It is expected that the entries for the San Diego event this summer will be greater than for any previous event on the Coast.

Besides assignment of this year's date and place, delegates will consider the scene of the 1924 regatta, choose officers for the ensuing season and make plans for the coming year.

Members of the board of control will arrive from points north and south tomorrow evening and Saturday morning.

Convening at noon sharp, they will immediately adjourn, boarding the cruiser Felicia, owned by George Kohn of the San Francisco Yacht Club, and crossing the bay for lunch at the San Francisco Yacht Club headquarters at Sausalito.

At 2 o'clock the serious business of the session will begin, the session lasting until late afternoon.

Dinner at the Corinthian Yacht Club at Belvedere is programmed for Saturday evening.

Sunday members of the San Francisco Yacht Club will entertain visitors and delegates aboard the Felicia on an all-day excursion to points on San Francisco Bay.

Chapter XXXVI

CHUCKLES AND CHORES IN SPRING TRAINING

Spring training always has been to me a sort of lark, and I think it is to most of the regulars who know how to prepare themselves and have no particular worry about their jobs. During the off hours they can sit back and have all the laughs.

For some men, though, spring training is very hard work. When the day is over they are quite ready to crawl in bed at nine o'clock and nurse their sore muscles and bruises. There are some ball players, by the way, who never have had muscular soreness in the spring. Just why that is I do not know, unless it is that they have kept up their athletic exercises during the winter. Personally I never had any trouble at all in getting in shape. To tell the truth the spring training was much easier to me than the hunting, basketball, indoor baseball and so on that I did during the winter.

Always there has been an open discussion as to the advantages of a long training trip or a short one. Some managers even contend that it is better to train pretty well north so that the players will not be affected by the sudden change in climate as they come back home. Clarke Griffith tried this scheme with good results in Virginia. The great majority, though, find it better to go far south where the players, due to the warmth, can ease up their tired muscles without catching cold.

The Pittsburgh club has found Hot Springs to be the best training-place. I always liked it there. Walking up and down those Arkansas mountains was a good muscle builder in itself. You can't walk anywhere in Hot Springs without going up or down hill. The hot waters help a lot in loosening up the muscles.

The main thing the pitchers have to acquire is control. They work in gradually, getting stronger and more accurate day by day.

McGRAW HAS RIGID RULES

The main point in spring training, according to my observation, is the chance of trying out the recruits and seeing what they really can do. Some managers allow the old timers to get in shape according to their own ideas. Others have a rigid system and even the most famous and experienced players have to follow the discipline. The idea of this is that it sets an example for the youngsters. John McGraw is one of those who has a rigid system. One thing about him, though—he will do everything he asks the youngest player to do. He is the first man up in the morning and the last one to leave the field at night.

Miller Huggins, of the champion Yankees, used the system last year of letting the seasoned players get in shape as they deemed best. That worked out all right, too. They won the pennant and the world's championship. So you never can tell which is best. I think the biggest result, after all, is that the players get to know each other better and establish themselves as sort of a family before the hard season starts.

There is never any particular what a player should eat. It must be remembered that a ball player is different from all other athletes in that he has to prepare for an everyday job that lasts all summer. Therefore he must live just as naturally as possible. There is little difference between the diet of a ball player and of any ordinary business man.

To me it was always the fun, the practical jokes and the skylarking of a southern training trip that appealed. I like to laugh, even though I was never much of a jokester myself.

One of the old gags that always gave me a laugh was on the train going to the camp. There would be a lot of raw, young recruits who, of course, had to take upper berths. Rank is as strict in baseball as in the army. The regulars must have the lower berths and they look on it as a matter of right. In fact, the privilege of a lower berth sort of marks a fellow as having made good. For a young recruit to take a lower would be considered a terrible affront to the veterans. It would be like treason.

THE TEXAN GOT THE THIEF!

Well, when these young fellows start most of them have never ridden in a Pullman sleeper and don't really know the difference between an upper and lower. They learn quick, though. We used to tell the youngsters as they were climbing into their uppers that they had better give all their small change to the porters to keep for them as it might fall out of their pockets.

Wanting to do the right thing these poor young kids would shell out their small change to the porter, who would thank them. The next morning they would get such a laugh that they would never even think of asking for it again.

That was a cruel trick to play on these kids, who rarely ever had any more change than the law allows, but it was funny, at that.

We had one big awkward fellow get on the train going to Hot Springs and we called him Red right off the reel. He watched the poker games for awhile, tried to talk baseball to Mr. Clarke—did everything to make himself agreeable.

"Now," one of the boys told him, "coming as a young fellow you had better sit up tonight and guard the valuables. Anything is likely to happen on a train like this. That young fellow over there will be on guard duty tomorrow night."

"Sure," agreed Red. "Glad to do it. I'll watch everything."

He was a big Texan and the look in his eye showed that he meant to do that duty properly, too.

During the night the young fellow, who was half dozing, woke up to see a man going out the door with a whole armful of shoes. He got on the job immediately.

I was awakened to hear a terrible commotion up in the smoking compartment. I heard my name called several times.

"Come up here and help me, Mr. Wagner," he called out. "I've got him, all right."

I went up there and had to wait until the door was unlocked. Then I found the porter over in the corner, scared to death and the big Texan standing over him holding a pistol.

He had chased that porter down, had taken away the shoes that he was shining and had locked him up in the smoking compartment until he got help.

WHAT THOSE NETS ARE FOR

Every ball club in the world, I suppose, works the old gag of making the youngsters sleep with their arms in the little hammocks, so as to keep from falling out of their berths and also to protect their pitching arms.

Claude Ritchey once made a left-handed pitcher move so as to get on the side which had left-handed hammocks.

Chicago will require twenty-eight alleys to run off the A. R. C. bowling tournament beginning February 23.

WHISKY EXPORT UNINTERRUPTED

Negotiations for Rum Treaty No Halt to Shipments

British Mails Aid Promoter of Syndicate Sales

Americans Said to Provide 100 Per Cent Profit

BY PAUL WILLIAMS
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The negotiations for an Anglo-American rum treaty are not interfering with the exportation of Scotch whiskies from the country of origin to the country of dilution. Busy Britishers continue to load ships with the forbidden refreshment and they wait anxiously for cablegrams announcing that their cases have reached proper hands and for certified checks amounting to 100 per cent or better profit to arrive.

Lieut.-Col. Sir Broderick Hartwell, who was lured into the export trade by the quick turnovers, continues through the English postoffice to solicit investors among the inhabitants of England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland. Here is a copy of his bait:

"Dear Sir: I can offer you an opportunity of making 20 per cent on your capital every sixty days. I am shipping a fourth cargo of whisky abroad within the next few days.

10,000 CASES MONTHLY

"A portion of my shipment has already been arranged for but I have still space for several thousand cases to fill my cargo. I have arranged with an American syndicate to take from me at least 10,000 cases of high-class Scotch whisky monthly.

"This syndicate has deposited with me United States gold bonds to the value of $43,000 as a guarantee that the goods purchased will be paid for in cash on their arrival at a point twenty-five miles off shore. I sell this syndicate at an agreed price, my sale is guaranteed and certain and my profits are equally sure. The cargo will be fully insured against all marine risks.

"You can join the already large number of my contributors in these assured profits by contributing $12.90 or upwards. This minimum contribution represents the purchase in bond and the shipping cost of one case of whisky.

INCREASING BUSINESS

"Contributors to my first shipment received their money back with a profit of four shillings ($0 cents) on the pound on October 20. Contributors to the third shipment will be paid on or about the end of January. These former contributors have come in again and in a majority of cases have largely increased their contributions. I want further to increase the number of my contributors and to enlarge my business.

"Barring marine accidents, in which case I return money when received from the insurers I guarantee to return to you any money you contribute plus 20 per cent within sixty days from the date the vessel leaves England. Contributors to this fourth shipment should get the above guaranteed return about March 15.

"This allows a month for bottling, labelling and packing, a month for transportation and a month for lying off the coast for unloading."

SAYS IT'S LEGAL

Sir Broderick refers to this scheme as "legitimate purchase and resale of British goods" and assures his prospects that "export of whisky from this country is perfectly legal. It helps British trade, increases employment and swells the national revenue."

Sir Broderick also produces a copy of a telegram from New York dated November 29, which follows:

"Delighted with quality of goods. Everything unloaded safely. Have cabled today payment due you. Direct your bank cable confirmation receipt and expedite next shipment. [Signed] "COMRADES."

Slater developed the first successful automatic block signal for single track railroad lines, his work leading to his selection as signal engineer for the Southern Pacific Company. He was with the company thirty-eight years.

Pie Stand Blast Kills Passerby; Patrons Escape

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—A mysterious explosion in a restaurant here last night killed a woman passerby forty yards away, but failed to more than scratch a half-dozen customers eating within a few feet of it.

Falling plaster and the debris of wrecked pie stands crashed over those inside the building without causing injury, but bits of flying glass and wood traveled diagonally down and across the street to the front of a drug store, where Miss Pearl Barkin, a 19-year-old girl, was about to board a car, and lacerated her throat so badly that she died.

LAND APPROVED

FRESNO, Jan. 17.—The Griffin tract of 500 acres in Madera county has been approved by the veterans' land settlement committee of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce, according to an announcement yesterday by Ray W. Hays, a member of the committee. The tract of land is located one-half mile north of Berenda between the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads and is offered for the settlement project at $85 an acre in its present condition or $150 an acre if improved.

COURT DENIES PLEA IN FORD AUTO SUIT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) Jan. 17. The $11,000,000 damage suit of Edward H. Huff of Miami, Fla., against the Ford Motor Company of Detroit, is a matter of equity and should be tried by a judge and not a jury, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals decided here today. Huff, while in the employ of the Ford company some years ago, invented the flywheel magneto which features the motor products of the Detroit concern. He asserts the company gave him $10,000 in January, 1906, and agreed to pay a royalty of $2.50 for each magneto of the type used. No royalties ever were received and he enjered suit in the Florida courts a year ago, filing a claim for $11,000,000.

BIGAMIST IS JAILED BY DREAM

Wife, Posing as Friend, Learns Honeymoon Point and Guides Officers

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—William H. Cook, 34 years of age, was held on a charge of bigamy yesterday because of a dream which disturbed the sleep of his wife shortly after he disappeared December 31 from their home here. The dream was fulfilled when detectives escorted Cook and wife No. 2, who is Alice McKinglan, 30, here from Detroit, where they were apprehended.

Mrs. Cook dreamed that her husband had run away and married. The dream lingered in her mind and she decided to investigate. A search of the marriage licenses revealed a license had been issued to Cook and Miss McKinglan. Mrs. Cook then called on the mother of wife No. 2 and, posing as a friend, was told that the couple were honeymooning in Detroit. This information was given police and detectives today returned with the erring couple.

Mrs. Cook said she would first prosecute her husband for bigamy and then seek a divorce.

YANKEES TALK GERMAN LOAN

Dawes Believed Supported by Financiers

Americans Dive Into Task on Reparations

Schacht to be Interrogated on Ability to Pay

BY HENRY WALES
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Jan. 17.—The flotation of an international loan for Germany will be discussed by the committee of experts with Herr Schact, president of the Reichsbank, when he arrives in Paris next week. I learn that Brig.-Gen. Dawes of Chicago, one of the American experts, is determined to stir them into some means of raising a loan to Germany immediately, thus avoiding falling into interminable and involved political discussions which would threaten to break up the committee.

The American experts will warn Herr Schacht to maintain absolute silence over the question of the legality of the Ruhr or any other phase of the occupied territory or other matters likely to cause friction with the French. Gen. Dawes will interrogate Herr Schact minutely on his visit to London, Amsterdam and Zurich to ascertain what English, Dutch and Swiss bankers hold out to Germany in the way of financial help.

Herr Schacht also will be asked what guarantees of security Germany is willing to give for a loan. This may produce the first obstacle if the French and Belgians maintain their attitude that reparations are a blanket mortgage on everything in Germany.

STABILIZATION SOUGHT

Thus far Gen. Dawes's colleagues have not challenged his program that first, German money must be stabilized, and then the budget must be balanced. Now Gen. Dawes explains that marks can only be stabilized by a loan to Germany.

The American experts believe that a very small loan will be sufficient temporarily to stabilize the German currency, even 1,000,000,000 gold marks ($250,000,000) being estimated as enough, particularly if the subsequent work of the experts is crowned with success. It is pointed out that an $80,000,000 loan was sufficient to stabilize Austrian currency.

Gen. Dawes has declared that he believes a loan can be floated if proper guarantees are given, whereby is caused a belief that the American expert intends to raise the question of scaling down the reparations figure of 132,000,000,000 gold marks—$33,000,000,000—as bankers everywhere thus far has declined to give Germany credit on the ground that they considered the total too high. The Germans, too, consider the $33,000,000,000 as being impossible of payment and therefore they have been sending out all their securities and gold.

It is estimated that if the total is reduced to 65,000,000,000 or 70,000,000,000 gold marks ($16,250,000,000 to $17,500,000,000) the Germans would pitch in and try sincerely to pay. Then the foreign bankers would resume their confidence and be willing to lend a hand.

There is considerable speculation in Paris over the selection of Gen. Dawes and his nomination as chairman of the committee. It is generally believed that Washington suggested Gen. Dawes's name after Col. Logan transmitted the Reparations Commission's desire for two committees with Americans participating.

BANKERS INTERESTED

It is generally believed that powerful banking interests—Morgan's name is mentioned—proposed Gen. Dawes in Washington, and that President Coolidge, Secretary of State Hughes and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon agreed. It is known that Owen D. Young is intimately connected with the Morgan interests and that he frequently has been in consultation with the officials of the Morgan-Harjes Bank of Paris.

Gen. Dawes's cocksureness of his ability to put over an international loan for Germany, of which United States bankers would take a large share, and his insistence on jamming this down the throats of the Allies immediately are taken as confirmation that a powerful group of financiers is supporting him.

No. 2542 — 75¢

Herb Wiedoeft's first record is packed on both sides with that famous super-syncopated melody that has made his band one of the most popular dance orchestras on the Pacific Coast.

"Cinderella Blues" is "musically melancholy" in its strains, a catchy tune wonderfully well played, and full of that irresistible dance rythm.

"Shine" is a livelier selection, played with all the enthusiasm and snap of modern syncopation. A tune you will remember, augmented by Wiedoeft's Orchestration supreme.

We can conscientiously say that from every standpoint this is one of the finest dance records yet made—clear as a bell, true-toned and with every sound perfectly recorded.

REFUND IN TAX WILL BE GIVEN PACIFIC GAS

COURT RULES IN CASE OF STEAM PLANT AT OAKLAND

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—The State of California is not entitled to a tax on the gross earnings of a steam plant operated at Oakland by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, Superior Judge Peter J. Shields ruled today when he gave judgment for the plaintiff in an action brought by the Public Utility Corporation against State Treasurer Charles J. Johnson to recover the sum of $4461 in taxes paid to the State under protest.

The taxes were collected under the ruling of the State Board of Equalization.

It was contended by plaintiffs that the steam sold by the company was not a by-product in the manufacture of electricity and therefore the earnings from the sale of the steam was not subject to taxation by the State. It was also contended that the plant was also taxed by Alameda county.

WIFE WANTS HUSBAND FREE ON JAILING HIM

LOS ANGELES WOMAN FIRST ASKS HIS ARREST IN CHICAGO

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—As soon as Mrs. Elsie Ada Bowen, wife No. 1 of Walter C. Bowen, had him safely locked in a cell she wanted to get him out again.

Elsie asked Los Angeles police to have the Chicago blue coats arrest Walter, who she charged with living with Madaline Marie Hooker, wife No. 2, at 5143 Harper avenue. The Chicago police yesterday obliged and wired Elsie her bigamous husband was in jail.

When the Los Angeles woman heard her husband was locked up she promptly changed her mind and today sent him the following telegram:

"Have forgiven you. Anxiously await your return. Am standing by you. Love—Elsie."

Then she told the Los Angeles police to tell the Chicago police to let Walter out again.

MIDDLE WEST NEWS IN BRIEF

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 17.—A daughter suing her 65-year-old mother for a share of the estate of the father, who died twenty-four years ago, came before District Judge Montgomery yesterday. Saying that her mother never had made an accounting of the $5600 estate of George Newlin, Civil War veteran, Mrs. Mary Ferguson demanded $931, plus interest since 1903. The mother, who has filed a cross-suit asking $3220 from her daughter for money alleged to have been advanced in the twenty-four-year period, testified she had been ordered from the house by her daughter.

St. Cloud, a city of 20,000 population, spent in the last twelve months nearly $4,000,000 on building operations, more than double the amount spent the year before, and by far the largest total ever expended on a single year's construction projects in St. Cloud.

The Minnesota State Bank at Amboy was closed because of depleted reserves, A. J. Veigel, State Superintendent of Banks, announced. The bank had deposits totaling approximately $150,000.

KANSAS CITY

W. A. Livingston, one of the most prominent farmers of Kingman, Kan., died while unloading some lumber, preparatory to building a home. Heart disease was the cause.

George Brown, who lives near Coldwater, Kan., went hunting. He loaded his pipe after loading his rifle. An explosion occurred and a bullet popped past Mr. Brown's nose. He had placed a shell from the rifle in the pipe by mistake.

LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 17.—Mrs. William Carothers, who is visiting Mrs. W. E. Edinger, will return February 1 to California.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stege, 82 years of age, widow of Christian Stege, died at her residence, following injuries suffered in a fall last week in which she suffered two broken ribs. Shortly after the accident pneumonia developed.

Dr. Porter C. Layne, 52 years of age, physician and surgeon, died suddenly at his home in Ashland. He was chief of staff of the King's Daughters Hospital and served in the World War as a captain of a medical unit.

War is on in Glasgow between citizens favoring law-enforcement and bootleggers. Declaring that the peddler of whisky and moonshine must go, citizens have organized a "$10 club" to which members contribute $10 each to carry on a fight for a dry town.

INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 17.—Fearing another outbreak in the labor troubles between striking employees of the National Casting Company and the Montpelier Manufacturing Company, Mayor Reynolds has clamped the lid on tight. Hereafter everyone will have to be off the streets by 9 o'clock, with the exception of Saturday nights, when the hour for getting home is officially 11 o'clock. The recent bombing of the Columbia Hotel there was attributed by officials to the labor war.

Fire which for a time threatened to destroy the plant, damaged the assorting room and some of the other departments of the Indianapolis Brush and Broom Manufactory Company's plant, causing a loss of approximately $15,000.

James A. Karsell, 82 years of age, prominent business man of Bloomington, is dead. Mrs. Alberta Brand, 68, of Kokomo, widow of Millard F. Brand, dropped dead of heart disease in her home.

ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 17.—Adjoining towns which call on the St. Louis Fire Department for assistance will have to pay for the services rendered at a rate not to exceed $50 an hour, according to an ordinance which became effective this week. Heretofore St. Louis fire apparatus has been sent to St. Louis county and to East St. Louis, Belleville and the Tricities to assist in fighting stubborn fires without charge.

Ground was broken yesterday for a new students' dormitory at Lindenwood College, which will have housing capacity for eighty-five students. This building will be part of a series of improvements aggregating $250,000.

Fraud in St. Clair county, Illinois in connection with the issuance of relief orders for poor persons is alleged in the report of George H. Eckert, County Auditor, made public yesterday. The report states that many orders for groceries were issued to persons who do not exist, many of them at fake addresses. Eckert recommends a grand jury investigation.

Receiver Oria M. Hill of the Missouri Sweets Distributors, Inc., dissipated all hope of its 1400 stockholders when he reported to United States District Judge Faris that the defunct concern has $84 in the bank and $15,761 deposited with the court from the sale of the shop at Seventh and Olive streets. The 1400 shareholders poured about $437,000 into the project after reading the glowing prospectus issued by the W. L. Schachner Company, which promoted the enterprise. This money is lost.

COOLIDGE CLUB SUPPORT READY

Indianan Principal Speaker on Occasion

Yuma Interested in Sum for Flood Control

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Jan. 17.—Organization has been effected in Phoenix of a Maricopa County Calvin Coolidge-for-President Club. About 3000 members already are enrolled. P. H. Hayes was made president in an enthusiastic meeting in the dining-room of the Hotel Adams. George O. Ford is vice-president, Mrs. Ray E. Munson and Joe Prochazka are secretaries, and Charles A. Stauffer is treasurer. An executive committee of fifteen members will have charge of political activities.

Charles R. Lane of Fort Wayne, Ind., was the main speaker of the meeting at which was again expressed belief that Arizona would support the President, both in choice of national convention delegates and in the general election. No opposition candidate thus far has an organization in Arizona, though suggestions have been made that the State send an uninstructed delegation. The club just formed has drawn no political lines. The only requirement for membership is intention to support Calvin Coolidge for re-election.

YUMA, Jan. 17.—Keen local interest is felt in an appropriation by Congress of $400,000 for flood control work and other reclamation service improvements in the vicinity. It is understood that the appropriation also cares for canal construction on the mesa below Yuma and for long-planned hydro-electric works on the main canal a short distance from the Laguna Dam, in utilization of a drop of about ten feet.

POWER DEVELOPED

Several thousand horse power will be developed, to be utilized in pumping from the main canal on the Arizona side into the high line canals on the mesa. There has been hope that enough power will be secured to supply the city and its manufactureres, but it is understood that this will not be possible. Further development of the mesa district will be of great benefit, it is believed.

Despite protests in courts for many years, the Yuma irrigation project finally has been advised by the United States Supreme Court that it must repay the Reclamation Service a cost charge of $73 an acre. Collections on the twenty-year basis are to be started. It is asserted that the project has been completed but denied by the Water Users Association.

CHARGE HIGH

The assessed charge is considered exorbitant, as the Yuma Valley farmers asserted they signed the original agreement with understanding their assessment would be no more than $35 an acre. A number of changes were made in the original plans and the acreage was cut down by elimination of land north of the Gila River, when it was decided that the main canal should be on the California side, Arizona to be served by means of a siphon at Yuma.

There also is local consideration of the charge against the Yuma project of the total cost of the Laguna Dam. It has been expected that this expense would be shared to a large degree by California irrigation projects. Several plans have been made under which the Laguna Dam would be utilized for the diversion of water to Imperial Valley, but these plans still are in abeyance and the Yuma project stands charged with all the Reclamation Service costs.

BAY CITY MAN MADE STATE FIRE MARSHAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—Gov. Richardson today appointed Jay W. Stevens of San Francisco State fire marshal. The office of State fire marshal was created by the 1923 Legislature, and the duties are to see that all laws and ordinances relating to fires and fire protection are enforced. The statute also states that the fire marshal must report to the district attorneys all cases where there is reason to believe that a fire has been the result of a crime, or that a crime has been committed in connection with it. The position is an honorary one and the law empowers the fire marshal to appoint as many deputies as he chooses from the various fire chiefs.

WORK OUTLINES PARK POLICIES

Inclusion of New National Areas Defined

Individuality in Districts Prime Asset

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—A statement of the policy of the Department of the Interior with regard to the creation of new national parks, contained in a letter addressed to Senator Fletcher of Florida by Secretary of the Interior Work, was made public today. It follows:

"Under the theory and practice of the United States government since 1872, when Yellowstone National Park was created, our national-park system is made up of areas inclosing scenery of quality so unusual and impressive or natural features so extraordinary as to possess national interest and importance as contra-distinguished from local interest. Such outstanding examples of typical world architecture as the Grand Canyon, exemplifying in unequaled grandeur the highest accomplishment of stream erosion, or the rugged portion of Mt. Desert Island in Maine, which are incorporated in the Lafayette National Park, exemplifying unique rock forms in association with quite extraordinary eastern forests, compelled immediate recognition of national-park values.

"The national parks, therefore, must not be lowered in standard, dignity and prestige by the inclusion of areas which express in less than the highest terms the particular class or type of exhibit which they represent.

"Size is not important so long as the proposed park includes within its boundaries those scenic elements that meet established standards, but the area must be susceptible of effective development to make it accessible to the people and of convenient administration and control. Duplication of exhibits already in the national-park system must be carefully avoided in order the individuality of the members of the system may be maintained.

"And when once established by Congress along well-studied boundary lines they must be conserved in their natural state, untouched by the inroads of modern civilization, so that coming generations, as well as the people of our own time, may be assured their use for the purposes of recreation, education and scientific research."

BLACK HAND SHUTS WAY TO REWARD

Man Who Caused Murderer's Arrest Fears to Apply for $5000

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Jan. 17.—Fear of being killed by the Black Hand organization for betraying the hiding place of R. Delfinio, the Pennsylvania murderer who is held for execution in Lackawanna County Jail for the assassination of one of his countrymen, prevents the informant from making himself known and getting the reward. Five thousand dollars was offered for information leading to the arrest of Delfino. He was captured here several months ago.

The Italian colony in the city is much excited about the betrayal and a threat has been issued that the informant will be dealt with in an expeditious manner. Several Italians are under suspicion, and one man found his home being so closely watched that he disappeared from the city.

The police have offered to pay the money to the man, but the Scranton authorities insist that the man present himself and personally sign the receipt for the reward.

ha quedado establecido, fuera de toda duda, que últimamente estuvo en la Baja California, Harry J. Dunlap, el bandido de la plaza, sospechoso de asesinato. Cree el sheriff que todavía se halle Dunlap por allí, quizá en las cercanías de Mejicali, y antes de volverse hoy a Los Angeles, dejó destacados en la frontera, para que estén en observación, a los tenientes sheriffs Stern y Patton.

Se presume que Dunlap haya estado en Ensenada este último domingo. De allí se le siguió la pista otra vez hasta Tijuana, adonde debe de haber llegado unas cuantas horas antes que el sheriff. Según noticias de ésta, salió de Tijuana ayer como a las 5, con otros dos o tres individuos, rumbo a Pacoti?, un pueblecito de la frontera, que se halla en una carretera de poco tránsito.

Hacia allá se dirigieron inmediatamente Traeger y su gente, quienes creen que el criminal dejó el coche y está escondido en alguna casa de rancho, pues algunos de los rancheros de cerca de Mejicali tienen fama de albergar bandidos.

Entusiasmados por la prima ofrecida por la captura de Dunlap, los policías mejicanos le andan siguiendo las huellas, y presúmese que será cogido con toda seguridad.

Como la frontera está muy vigilada, supónese que, al aparecer de nuevo por allí, será arrestado sin duda. Sábese que va a Mejicali por licor y narcóticos, y dice el sheriff que estos dos vicios le harán caer en la trampa.

Dunlap fue señalado en Ensenada como criminal, según le dijeron al Sheriff Traeger las autoridades de dicho puerto; pero no se atrevieron a aprehenderlo por temor de que no viniesen por él las autoridades americanas. Prometieron, sin embargo, echarle el guante y meterle en la cárcel, caso de que se presente por allí otra vez.

24. Le encargaron el CONTROL de las operaciones del banco. Dígase "la inspección". Ni "control", ni "controlar" forman parte aún del vocabulario castellano, lo que no empece para que a cada paso los usen muchos escritores modernos, cometiendo galicismos unas veces, y anglicismos otras. Me permito indicar aquí al lector cómo pueden verterse al español algunas expresiones inglesas y francesas en que figuran "to control" y "contrôler": "He cannot control himself" no debe traducirse: "él no puede controlarse", sino "él no puede o no sabe gobernarse", "dominarse" o "reportarse", según los casos. "To control or check an account", en inglés, o "contrôler un compte", en francés, se traduce por "verificar", "examinar", "comprobar" o "cotejar" una cuenta, según los casos. "He could not control his engine", "no pudo o no supo gobernar su máquina". "I have a controlling interest in this corporation", "tengo representación dominante en esta compañía", o "tengo mayoría de acciones o de votos en esta compañía". "Cette montre est en or contrôlé" se traduce: "este reloj es de oro contrastado", es decir, sellado con la marca del ensayador oficial, previa comprobación de la ley del metal. 25. La conducta de este hombre peca contra las CONVENIENCIAS. Dígase "contra el decoro". "Conveniencias" (plural) significa en castellano "haberes", "rentas", "bienes". 26. Le hicieron un hermoso retrato al CREYON. Dígase "lápiz". 27. Le DIO CUENTA de sus operaciones. Dígase "le informó", pues "dar cuenta de una cosa" significa dar fin de ella, destruyéndola o malgastándola: "Pronto dio cuenta de su herencia". 28. Para distraerse se arrojó A CUERPO PERDIDO en los negocios. Dígase "se entregó por completo a los negocios". 29. NO ERA AUN CUESTION de votar el empréstito. Dígase "no se trata aún". 30. No hay que CHOCAR LA SUSCEPTIBILIDAD de ese niño". Dígase "herir la delicadeza". 31. DADAS las circunstancias actuales no es aceptable su proyecto. Dígase "en vista de las circunstancias actuales". 32. DERATIRSE contra las dificultades en la vida. Dígase "bregar". 33. Esa composición parece UN DEBER de literatura. Dígase "un ejercicio". 34. Un círculo de DEBIL diámetro. Dígase "corto". 35. El soldado debe arrostrar los peligros de DEBILIDAD. Debe decirse "flaqueza", según de Toro. Con todo, la Academia da también a "debilidad" la acepción figurada de "carencia de energía o valor en las cualidades o resoluciones del ánimo". 36. Mañana DEBUTA la notable cupletista Fulanita. Dígase "se estrena", pues la Academia no ha dado cabido al galicismo "debutar", por mas que a cada momento topamos con él en los periódicos, así como con su derivado "debutante". 37. Las DECEPCIONES de la vida le habían vuelto algo escéptico. Dígase "Los desengaños". 38. DEROGAR a sus principios. Dígase "faltar a sus principios" o "quebrantar sus principios", pues "derogar" quiere decir "abolir", "anular" (to repeal).

REVIEW PLEA FILED

Attorney Seeks to Test Election of Bankruptcy Trustee

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Jan. 17.—Hearing of the petition of I. Henry Harris, Los Angeles attorney, for review of the election of W. E. White as trustee of the E. Y. Foley Company, and E. Y. Foley before Referee Clyde H. Thompson here will be held on the 28th inst. White was elected trustee in the bankruptcy proceedings over the opposition of some creditors.

The suit is merely to test the status of the funds in question, Foley, a Fresno shipper, went into bankruptcy some time ago.

BABBITT

BY

SINCLAIR LEWIS

Dr. Drew turned, without slackening his briskness. "Well, Brother Babbitt, what c'n I do for you?"

"I just wanted to ask— Tell you how it is, dominie: Here a while ago I guess I got kind of slack. Took a few drinks and so on. What I wanted to ask is: How is it if a fellow cuts that all out and comes back to his senses? Does it sort of, well, you might say, does it score against him in the long run?"

The Reverend Dr. Drew was suddenly interested. "And, uh, brother—the other things, too? Women?"

"No, practically, you might say, practically not at all."

"Don't hesitate to tell me, brother! That's what I'm here for. Been going on joy-rides? Squeezing girls in cars?" The reverend eyes glistened.

"No—no—"

"Well, I'll tell you. I've got a deputation from the Don't Make Prohibition a Joke Association coming to see me in a quarter of an hour and one from the Anti-Birth Control Union at a quarter of ten." He busily glanced at his watch. "But I can take five minutes off and pray with you. Kneel right down by your chair, brother. Don't be ashamed to seek the guidance of God."

Babbitt's scalp itched and he longed to flee, but Dr. Drew had already flopped down beside his desk chair and his voice had changed from rasping efficiency to an unctuous familiarity with sin and with the Almighty. Babbitt also knelt, while Drew gloated:

"O Lord, thou seest our brother here, who has been led astray by manifold temptations. O Heavenly Father, make his heart to be pure, as pure as a little child's. Oh, let him know again the joy of a manly courage to abstain from evil—"

Sheldon Smeeth came frolicking into the study. At the sight of the two men he smirked, forgivingly patted Babbitt on the shoulder, and knelt beside him, his arm about him, while he authorized Dr. Drew's imprecations with moans of "Yes, Lord! Help our brother, Lord!"

Though he was trying to keep his eyes closed, Babbitt squinted between his fingers and saw the pastor glance at his watch as he concluded, with a triumphant, "And let him never be afraid to come to Us for counsel and tender care, and let him know that the church can lead him as a little lamb."

Dr. Drew sprang up, rolled his eyes in the general direction of Heaven, chucked his watch into his pocket, and demanded, "Has the deputation come yet, Sheldy?"

"Yep, right outside," Sheldy answered, with equal liveliness; then, caressingly, to Babbitt, "Brother, if it would help, I'd love to go into the next room and pray with you while Dr. Drew is receiving the brothers from the Don't Make Prohibition a Joke Association."

"No—no thanks—can't take the time!" yelped Babbitt, rushing toward the door.

Thereafter he was often seen at the Chatham Road Presbyterian Church, but it is recorded that he avoided shaking hands with the pastor at the door.

III

If his moral fiber had been so weakened by rebellion that he was not quite dependable in the more rigorous campaigns of the Good Citizens' League nor quite appreciative of the church, yet there was no doubt of the joy with which Babbitt returned to the pleasures of his home and of the Athletic Club, the Boosters, the Elks.

Verona and Kenneth Escott were eventually, hesitatingly married. For the wedding Babbit was dressed as carefully as was Verona; he was crammed into the morning coat he wore to teas thrice a year; and with a certain relief, after Verona and Kenneth had driven away in a limousine, he returned to the house, removed the morning coat, sat with his aching feet up on the davenport, and reflected that his wife and he could have the living-room to themselves now, and not have to listen to Verona and Kenneth worrying, in a cultured collegiate manner, about minimum wages and the Drama League.

But even this sinking into peace was less consoling than his return to being one of the best-loved men in the Boosters' Club.

IV

President Willis Ijams began that Boosters' Club luncheon by standing quiet and staring at them so unhappily that they feared he was about to announce the death of a Brother Booster. He spoke slowly then, and gravely:

"Boys, I have something shocking to reveal to you; something terrible about one of our own members."

Several Boosters, including Pabbitt, looked disconcerted.

"A knight of the grip, a trusted friend of mine, recently made a trip up-State, and in a certain town, where a certain Booster spent his boyhood, he found out something which can no longer be concealed. In fact, he discovered the inward nature of a man whom we have accepted as a Real Guy and as one of us. Gentlemen, I cannot trust my voice to say it, so I have written it down."

He uncovered a large blackboard and on it, in huge capitals, was the legend:

George Follansbee Babbitt—oh, you Folly!

The Boosters cheered, they laughed, they wept, they threw rolls at Babbitt, they cried, "Speech, speech! Oh, you Folly!"

"That, gentlemen, is the awful thing Georgie Babbitt has been concealing all these years, when we thought he was just plain George F. Now I want you to tell us, taking it in turn, what you've always supposed the F. stood for."

Flivver, they suggested, and Frog-face and Flathead and Farinaceous and Freesone and Flapdoodle and Foghorn. By the joviality of their insults Babbitt knew that he had been taken back to their hearts, and happily he rose.

"Boys, I've got to admit it. I've never worn a wrist watch, or parted my name in the middle, but I will confess to 'Follansbee.' My only justification is that my old dad—though otherwise he was perfectly sane, and packed an awful wallop when it came to trimming the City Fellers at checkers—named me after the family doc, old Dr. Ambrose Follansbee. I apologize, boys. In my next what-d'you-call-it, I'll see to it that I get named something really practical—something that sounds swell and yet is good and virile—something, in fact, like that grand old name so familiar to every household—that bold and almost overpowering name, Willis Jimjams Ijams!"

He knew by the cheer that he was secure again and popular; he knew that he would no more endanger his security and popularity by straying from the Clan of Good Fellows.

V

Henry Thompson dashed into the office, clamoring, "Georgy! Big news! Jake Offutt says the Traction bunch are dissatisfied with the way Sanders, Torres and Wing handled their last deal and they're willing to dicker with us!"

Babbitt was pleased in the realization that the last scar of his rebellion was healed, yet as he drove home he was annoyed by by such background thoughts as had never weakened him in his days of belligerent conformity. He discovered that he actually did not consider the traction group quite honest. "Well, he'd carry out one more deal for them, but as soon as it was practicable, maybe as soon as old Henry Thompson died, he'd break away from all association with them. He was 48; in twelve years he'd be 60, he wanted to leave a clean business to his grandchildren. Course there was a lot of money in negotiating for the Traction people, and a fellow had to look at things in a practical way, only—"

He wriggled uncomfortably. He wanted to tell the Traction group what he thought of them. "Oh, he couldn't do it, not now. If he offended them this second time, they would crush him. But—"

He was conscious that his line of progress seemed confused. He wondered what he would do with his future. He was still young; was he through with all adventuring? He felt that he had been trapped into the very net from which he had with such fury escaped and, supremest jest of all, been made to rejoice in the trapping.

"They've licked me; licked me to a finish!" he whimpered.

The house was peaceful, that evening, and he enjoyed a game of pinochle with his wife. He indignantly told the tempter that he was content to do things in the good old-fashioned way. The day after, he went to see the purchasing agent of the Street Traction Company and they made plans for the secret purchase of lots along the Evanston road. But as he drove to his office he struggled, "I'm going to run things and figure out things to suit myself—when I retire."

FISH COMMISSION TO SUE FOR FUNDS

TEST SUIT MAY RELEASE SURPLUS TIED UP IN STATE TREASURY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—Arrangements have been made by the State Fish and Game Commission for instituting a friendly test suit in the Supreme Court to determine whether the State Board of Control may grant the commission a deficiency appropriation out of its surplus funds in the State treasury.

George D. Radcliff, chairman of the State Board of Control, declared today that the commission has agreed to bring a suit against State Controller Riley to force him to draw a warrant against the surplus fund on a deficiency claim to be approved by the Board of Control. Riley is agreeable to the suit.

The real object of the suit is to find a legal way to permit the Fish and Game Commission to use surplus funds "frozen" in the State treasury as the result of the decisions of the Supreme Court in the budget suits. The commission's surplus fund, which totals approximately $150,000 at present, represents the money collected by the commission in excess of the appropriation allowed in the budget bill.

According to Riley, the commission is desirous of using $100,000 from its surplus fund in the furtherance of its fish and game propagation and protective program this year.

WOMEN FIGHT EDICT ON JURY

Barrier Erected by Court Causes Protest

Ban Service to Arouse Plea for Rights

Girl's Charge Against Man Stirs Tempest

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 17.—When Superior Judge Edgar Lece announced that he intended to bar women jurors in certain cases before his court, he did not reckon with the Women's Civic Center, which declares the jurist is exceeding his authority by imposing his proposed limitations. The issue, they said, would be placed before the District Attorney.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Civic Center was called this morning to consider the question. The particular case which Judge Lece had in mind in deciding to eliminate women jurors is one in which a young girl is the principal witness against a man charged with a serious offense. Because of the character of the evidence anticipated, Judge Lece ruled that it would be unfit for a mixed jury to hear.

Mrs. Della Haman, president of the Civic Center, said she and her associates take the stand that the young woman has some feeling and that she should be protected. She said if it was fit for the young girl to tell a courtroom packed with men her tale of brief, that it was fit for women jurors to hear it and judge the case.

"If we are not permitted to serve on the jury, then we will ask the District Attorney to have the case tried behind closed doors," said Mrs. Haman. "The court should have some regard for the young girl, who is to give her testimony. Women have as much right to hear it as have the men, and more of a right to judge whether the girl has been wronged."

EVIDENCE IN MAIL THEFT DISCOVERED

Bank Wax Found in Garage Said to Incriminate Anaheim ex-School Head

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ANAHEIM, Jan. 17.—Concrete evidence, which, according to United States postoffice inspectors, fixes definitely participation in the robbery of the Anaheim postoffice on J. R. Abernathy, former superintendent of schools in Anaheim, now in the County Jail pending a preliminary hearing, has been unearthed at the Abernathy home, 503 North Zeyn street, and is now in possession of the government men.

The first tangible clews were found last night when Inspectors G. S. Rose, C. D. Lewis and F. E. Jarvis searched the Abernathy garage and found, according to their report today, bits of sealing wax of the variety used by the First National Bank of Anaheim in sealing packages of currency for shipment. These, according to the inspectors, have been pieced and found to bear the same "characters" used by the bank to identify their money.

The bits of sealing wax were discovered in a pile of sweepings under a new sedan purchased for cash by Abernathy from a Los Angeles firm on the 14th inst., one day before his arrest on a charge of participating with J. L. Findlay and Charles R. Wheeler, both employees of the local office, in the robbery of the mail in which it is said approximately $25,000 was obtained by the three men.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

EL MONTE, Jan. 17.—James Bascome Freer, pioneer resident of El Monte, known many years as Uncle Jim," died at his home in Monrovia Wednesday, 81 years of age. One of First Natives of Anaheim Succumbs at Hospital

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ANAHEIM, Jan. 17.—Mrs. Stella Yeager, one of Anaheim's first natives, and for thirty-three years a resident of Fullerton, died last night at the Fullerton Hospital. Smith, he drove to the office, and the two men were promptly held up by a pair of bandits, who forced the brothers to run their car up a dark street and relieved them of $101 in currency and $76 in checks. A gold watch, which J. E. Smith told the hold-up men he prized for sentimental reasons, was returned to him.

Births for 1923 totaled 1917, the banner month being October, with 216. Boys outnumbered girls.

STUDENTS FAVOR BOK PEACE PLAN

Pomona College Ballots Show 203 for and 10 Against Proposal

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLAREMONT, Jan. 17.—The Bok peace plan was presented to the student body of Pomona College in a brief address by Dr. Charles G. Neely, professor of constitutional history and law, at chapel services.

Prof. Neely made no attempt to influence the sentiment of students in any way, simply outlining the plan in order that it might be thoroughly understobd. A ballot box was placed in front of Holmes Hall in order that those interested might register their decision, for or against the plan. This vote resulted in a total of 217 ballots being cast of which four failed to vote either way. Ten voted "no." Four of these were legal voters and six nonvoters. There were 193 students who voted "yea," sixty-four of whom were voters and 139 nonvoters. This made a total vote in favor of the plan of 203 for and ten opposed. Ten of the faculty also voted at this time, all of whom registered themselves in favor of the plan.

In looking over the ballots it was noticeable that they represented the outstanding leaders of the student body, and the vote may be considered representative of the attitude of the student body generally.

From meager reports already in on the Bok plan, it is evident that the Pomona College vote, with its tremenodous majority in favor of the plan, represents the general sentiment of the educational institutions all over the country.

Venice Plans New Road to Los Angeles

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SAWTELLE, Jan. 17.—So that the West Los Angeles district may be connected with Venice by a short route a new boulevard is proposed which will connect the Rose-avenue extension with Pico Boulevard.

Venice is at present working out plan for the extension of Rose avenue from its present terminus at Lincoln Boulevard eastward into Los Angeles. The city has instituted condemnation proceedings to carry Rose avenue to its easterly city limits and the County surveyor has completed a survey from that point to National Boulevard at Featherstone avenue, Palms.

Hugh Pomeroy, secretary of the Regional Planning Commission has mapped out a plan for a diagonal from Rose avenue to connect with Pico Boulevard at its intersection with Exposition Boulevard. This boulevard will also pass through the intersection of National Boulevard with La Ballona Road.

Mr. Pomeroy's plan will provide for the interconnecting of Pico, Exposition, National, Rose and Ballona Road by easy angles. The highway will be 120 feet in width, according to subdividers.

DAMAGES IN JAIL DEATH

Jury Holds Calipatria Marshal and Others Must Pay $10,000 for Life Lost in Blaze

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, Jan. 17.—Mrs. Martha Cox was today awarded damages of $10,000 by a jury because her husband, William Cox, was burned to death in the Calipatria Jail, April 1, 1923. The verdict is against the former City Marshal, A. Starritt, and two of his deputies, and the American Surety Company, which was on the Marshal's bond for $2000.

The evidence showed that Cox was placed in the Calipatria jail and later Fred Seiler, charged with intoxication, was locked up with Cox. The jail, which was a one-room structure of concrete with wooden lining, was isolated.

Seiler is believed to have piled the bedding in a corner and set fire to it in the hope that he would be released when the fire was discovered.

The blaze was not seen until too late to save the lives of the two men, as the volunteer firemen were giving their annual ball.

It was charged in the Cox complaint that Marshal Starritt was negligent in not removing matches from Seiler's pockets before he was placed in the jail.

FACES THEFT CHARGES

Burglar Suspect Captured After Chase; Wanted Elsewhere

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Jan. 17.—Police here today said Laurence F. Richardson, accused youthful drug-store burglar, who was captured yesterday morning after a gun chase through the downtown streets, is wanted in several eastern cities for burglaries and other crimes. Police were advised by telegraph today that Richardson is being sought by the authorities at Ardmore, Okla., and several Texas towns for alleged burglaries and hold-ups.

Descriptions of the prisoner held here as sent by eastern police departments tally, local police say. Richardson maintains a strict silence regarding his past. He was captured by Officers Joseph Hale and L. R. Hollingsworth before daylight yesterday after he was seen leaving the Crescent Drug Store, 1092 Atlantic avenue. Another man, who was seen with him, escaped. Richardson was captured after officers had fired a fusillade of shots after the fleeing pair.

TOWN UNEASY WITH DYNAMITE AROUND

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 17.—Residents of Elsinore and vicinity are uneasy over the fact that ninety-four sticks of dynamite and 1200 caps, stolen from the powder house of the Los Angeles pressed brick company at Alberhill by six small Mexican boys, are supposed to have been carelessly thrown in various spots in that locality. The youngsters have steadfastly refused to tell what they have done with the dynamite. Of 100 sticks stolen six have been recovered, found alongside the highway some distance apart. The boys are being held in the detention home here.

PIONEER OBSERVER GIVES RAIN FORECAST

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

Wright, a student of natural history, who first pioneered San Fernando Valley forty years ago, and has ever since been a keen observer of weather conditions in relation to the habits of animals. He declares that today, for the first time this season, gophers have been engaged in throwing dirt out of their burrows in the ground. He says that in extraordinarily dry seasons this has never failed to be followed almost immediately by generous showers.

NAMED FOR COOLIDGE'S COMMITTEE

Visalian Given Place in Central California League of Clubs

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VISALIA, Jan. 17.—J. K. Macomber of Tipton, chairman of the Board of Supervisors and vice-president of the Coolidge Republican Club of Tulare county, has been named a member of the campaign committee of the Central California League of Coolidge Clubs. Information to this effect was received here today from Franklin Lowney, secretary of the Coolidge League, with divisional offices in Fresno.

Lowney also announced that another Tulare county man named by a place on the list of officers, W. B. Nichols, widely known citrus grower and shipper and formerly of Lindsay, who has been appointed treasurer of the Central California Coolidge League.

That a large delegation of local Republican leaders would attend the conference of Coolidge Clubs of the Seventh Congress District at Fresno Saturday was evidenced here today in the marked interest which has been aroused in the impending caucus. It is considered likely that one or more Tulare county Republicans will be candidates for delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cleveland.

The Fresno meeting will be held in the Hotel California and the sessions will start at 2 o'clock, with Miles O. Humphreys presiding.

Lewis H. Smith of Fresno, Vance Anderson of Bakersfield, Frank Cressey of Modesto, Guy Knupp of Porterville and Hubert H. Briggs of Stockton will be among the principal speakers at the conference.

J. A. Chase, president of the Tulare County Coolidge Club, has a prominent place on the program and will also speak before the Coolidge meeting Saturday.

BRIDGE TO REOPEN

Span Near Oxnard in Service Again Monday

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OXNARD, Jan. 17.—The Montalvo bridge across the Santa Clara River a short distance from Oxnard will be open to traffic Monday. The bride has been closed for months, during which time a new floor and three new spans have been put in. The repair work was due to a fire of incendiary origin which destroyed three spans. A lunatic who caused a score of fires in Oxnard set the bridge afire and was caught some time later. Ventura county is paying for a complete overhauling of of the bridge, which when completed will be turned over to the State.

The opening of Montalvo bridge will eliminate a detour through the river bed, which is becoming impassable, or a longer detour through Saticoy.

GLOBE GRAIN REDUCES NOTES

Milling Company's Statement Makes Good Showing

Nearly Half Million Cut in First Fortnight

Union Oil Rights Explained; Automotive Sales

Reduction of notes payable of $475,000 in the first fifteen days of January is reported by A. D. Buckley, secretary of the Globe Grain and Milling in a supplementary statement to the annual report sent to the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. At the close of business on December 31, 1923, the account showed notes payable of $3,266,000, and on the 15th inst., this sum had been decreased to $2,790,000.

The balance sheet for 1923 shows total current assets of $5,338,210.55 and current liabilities of $2,352,121.76. Plants and investments amount to $7,604,662.45, and receivables, less reserve for losses, total $1,691,641.33. Merchandise inventory stands at $2,206,197.19, or a gain of $763,005.84 over the condition reported for the first six months of the year.

Cash on hand of $822,745.64 is $512,890.87 over the position as of June 30, 1923. The surplus and undivided profits account increased in the past six months by $184,116.81 to a total of $1,449,436.38.

Dividends paid during the year amounted to $192,500 on the first preferred and $16,000 on the second preferred. Since organization, Globe Grain and Milling has paid seventeen dividends on the first preferred totaling $936,271.52; seven dividends on the second preferred of $40,061.34, and $3,609,671.31 in cash and $4,582,450 in stock on the common.

The corporation has authorized capitalization of $15,000,000 divided into outstanding shares of $2,600,000 first preferred; $200,000 second preferred and $8,000,000 common stock.

UNION OIL RIGHTS

Stockholders in the Union Oil Company and Union Oil Associates, in the opinion of officials, are not fully aware of the value of the subscription rights recently mailed to them, and which are quoted on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The privileges involve the right to purchase new stock to the amount of $4,500,000 of the Union Oil Company, each shareholder having warrants to buy new stock equal in par value to 5 per cent of the par value of the stock now owned. The new Union Oil stock is offered at $100 and the Union Oil Associates stock at $45 per share.

Union Oil rights are quoted on the exchange around 85 cents and Union Oil Associates at 35. According to the interpretation of stock rights on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange a right is the privilege of one old share to purchase a certain proportion of the new stock offered, the holder of 100 shares, for instance, having 100 rights.

This confers a privilege of considerable value upon the stockholders, enabling them to sell 100 rights in Union Oil Associates or the number sufficient to buy five shares of new stock, for approximately $35. The owner of 100 shares of Union Oil stock is able to sell his 100 rights for approximately $85.

Because of a misunderstanding of the definition of stock rights on the local exchange many stockholders, according to officers of the Union Oil Company, have obtained the impression that the 100 rights necessary to buy five shares of Union Oil were only worth 85 cents on the exchange.

AUTOMOTIVE SALES

Sales of passenger cars in Southern California for 1923 totaled 134,227 according to the compilation made by the Automobile Publishing Company. December sales amounted to 10,051. The distribution of motor trucks in the year numbered 14,173, and 1213 in December.

DAILY TRADE TALK

Better Business Waits on Storm Signals; Wig-wag to Homeseekers; New Bank Units

BY CHAPIN HALL

Since the first of the year which opened under the most auspicious trade conditions there has been no occasion to materially change the viewpoint expressed at that time, to wit, that general business was good enough to warrant continued activity for a period covernig at least half of the year. This will take us into the convention fights followed by the campaign which ordinarily has a tendency to slow things down somewhat. Next summer, however, such a contingence is less likely than in any Presidential year since Bryan's first free silver rodeo which, because of its basic character had a bad effect upon business. The nomination of Coolidge, which now appears probable on an early ballot, will have a steadying effect upon finances and trade, and barring at present unforeseen developments politics will interfere but little in the affairs of barter and trade in 1924.

While conditions locally are excellent there is a growing feeling of concern over the delayed rainfall. The season is advancing and moisture is badly needed. Farmers and growers are resorting to irrigation for the first time in many years at this season, and unless the drouth is broken before long, serious losses may ensue. Stock men are complaining of the scarcity of green feed in the mountain ranges, and in most districts the rainfall has not been sufficient to sprout the new crops. The snow pack at the summit of the High Sierras is reported at thirty-two inches as compared with a seventeen-year average of sixty-two inches. In the Southland conditions are even worse, and the watersheds are not yet prepared for the requirements of the long normal dry spell. There is plenty of time yet for an ample rainfall, but for the sake of continued good business, the shorter the delay the better.

In Los Angeles and the Metropolitan district January is establishing some new trade records, both in wholesale, manufacturing and retail lines, and this notwithstanding the fact that continued warm weather has had an effect upon the seasonal movement of winter clothing. There has been no appreciable diminution in building, new financing, market activity or any of the factors going into the establishment of turnover statistics. There is the customary oversupply of labor which is always evidential at this season of the year, but which is somewhat accentuated by reason of the thousands of new arrivals who hitched up the family flivver and started for California without much idea of what was going to happen after they arrived.

PREMATURE IMMIGRATION

One old man told Trade Talk yesterday that in Chicago, where he lived, there was so much discussion of the glories of Southern California, and of the rapid growth of this community and of the plenteousness of work that he had no hesitancy in embarking upon the adventure with only a few dollars surplus cash, and without any prospect of a job. Now he seeks charity. There is a tremendous volume of work here, but because of the advertising Los Angeles is getting by reason of her giant strides thousands of ill-advised adventurers are steering this way in the vain hope that dollar bills grow like oranges upon trees. If it could be borne in upon these happy-go-lucky homeseekers that they should bring with them ample financial resources to last over a reasonable period, and not expect to enter upon immediate tenancy of their "Castle in Spain" both the tourist and this Mecca would be benefitted.

Returning to our knitting which purports to be the business outlook the belief seems to be general that we may look for a spring trade of unusual volume, although a San Francisco bank points out in a new review that "there still exists a note of caution in business, based perhaps upon a price level that is felt to be high; not surprising when the experiences of the last three or four years are taken into account."

People everywhere are chafing under high living costs, and as a prerequisite to any relief in this quarter, there must be brought about a genuine lowering of the fixed charges imposed by the Federal government. Not for many years has the country evinced greater interest in securing the enactment of specific legislation than in the case of the tax-reduction proposal, so generally indorsed by big business, little business and the people generally who realize how much they have at stake in the improvement that would follow a freeing of capital from high-tax penalties upon its profits.

NEW BANKING UNITS

Five new units will join the First National-Pacific Southwest banking group in February. These are the First National Bank and Trust Company of Santa Paula and the Santa Paula Savings Bank, under the presidency of C. C. Teague, and the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Santa Paula, with branches at Saticoy and Fillmore, Roger G. Edwards, president.

Through the decentralized method of control, these banks will remain independent units, with the same officers, directors, stockholders and employees.

The transactions do not entail an outright purchase of stock. The stockholders of the First National Bank and Trust Company, the Santa Paula Savings Bank and the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, through an exchange of shares in the First National Bank of Los Angeles, the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank and the First Securities Company, become copartners in the entire business of the First National-Pacific Southwest group. The benefit to the communities represented by the merging banks and branches will be felt through the added capital placed at their disposal.

Under the statement of condition of December 31, last, the aggregate resources of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank and the First Securities Company were $263,923,086.77. Under the same call for statements, the First National Bank and Trust Company of Santa Paula showed total resources of $2,064,726.61 and those of the Santa Paula Savings Bank $492,302.07, an aggregate of $2,557,030.68. Under this call the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank showed total resources of $2,277,270.20. The aggregate resources of the Santa Paula institutions on December 31 were therefore $4,834,300.88.

RAIL EARNINGS

Net earnings of the seventy-four leading railroads of the United States in 1923 will amount to no less than $893,979,000, according to an estimate just completed by the Standard Statistics Company of New York.

This is an increase over 1922 of no less than $187,214,000, or 26.5 per cent. The increase is the more remarkable in view of the fact that the gross revenues of the same roads were only 13.6 per cent higher and unusually heavy expenditures were made on maintenance. The compilation shows that only seventeen of the seventy-four have lower indicated net earnings for 1923 than 1922.

While the average change in gross revenues is less than the change in net earnings, it is noteworthy that onyl two companies showed a decline in gross revenues—as against the seventeen that showed a decline in net earnings.

FOREIGN INTERESTS ON BEAR SIDE OF COTTON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The reaction continued in cotton futures on the local market today, early strength again preceding the closing decline. The market was largely professional, with heaviest volume of selling coming from southern interests and wire houses. Foreign interests were also arrayed on the bear side in the late trading.

The list advanced moderately in the forenoon, going up 15 to 30 points net before Wall street selling checked it. The decline, which then began, was slowed by scale-down buying orders placed for old bull account and some trade buying. Midsession levels showed the list about unchanged. In the early afternoon "rading, a second moderate rally brought out heavy selling, the list declining further on cotton goods price reduction and closing weak, 55 to 65 net lower for the active months, with October off 20 points net.

Spot was quiet, 70 points decline, 23.10 cents for middling upland.

Southern market: Galveston, 23.05 cents, 65 points decline; New Orleans, 23.25 cents, 65 points decline; Savannah, 23.29 cents, 66 points decline; Augusta, 23.75 cents, 63 points decline; Memphis, 23.75 cents, 25 points decline; Houston, 23 cents, 55 points decline; Little Rock 23.50 cents, 50 points decline.

TIPS FOR TAXPAYERS

In computing net income taxpayers are allowed to deduct from gross income deduction for losses incurred not only in the taxpayer's business but losses sustained in any transaction entered into for profit, or if arising from "fires, storms, shipwreck, or other casualty." Deductions for losses are allowed only to the extent that they are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

Claims, for losses should conform closely to the wording of the statute. While a taxpayer may feel certain that property owned by him is worth less than the purchase price, he is not allowed a deduction until the loss is made absolute by the sale or other disposition of the property.

Frequent claims are made for deductions for losses in the sale of residence property. A loss sustained in the sale of a residence, which at the time of purchase was bought without intention of selling, is not a deductible item "because it was not a transaction entered into for profit." For the same reason, a loss sustained in the sale of an automobile purchased for personal use may not be deducted. The intent to make a profit must have existed at the beginning of the venture.

A manufacturer compelled to scrap machinery because it has gradually become obsolete may deduct the loss sustained if he has sold or otherwise abandoned the machinery. Usually, to be deductible, as a loss, the assets upon which the loss has been sustained must have completedly disappeared as a resource of the taxpayer.

Security: First Mortgage on valuable business corner and modern Class "A" store and office building now approaching completion at S.W. corner of Sixth and St. Paul Sts., Los Angeles. The bonded indebtedness amounts to less than 60% of total security pledged.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Speculative Buying

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—With buying activity centered in foreign and speculative rail issues, bond prices today moved to higher levels. Demand continued good for all classes of securities, with no apparent slackening in the recent heavy volume of trading.

Trading interest again centered in the St. Paul issues, although profit-taking checked the advance of the past several days. The convertible 4s made a substantial gain, however, and the debenture 4s of 1934 touched 57 1-4.

Strength of Pierce Arrow 8s was a feature of the industrial list. Dealers reported a heavy turnover of public utility bonds at higher prices. Prices of United States government and Treasury issues held steady.

Considerable interest was shown in the sale of the $40,000,000 Argentine government loan, which met with excellent response.

French municipal bonds, particularly Bordeaux 6s and Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean 6s, led the advance in the foreign group.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Following are closing quotations on bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Furnished by Logan & Bryan, 639 South Spring street.

SPRECKELS ACQUIRES INTEREST IN FEDERAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—An announcement by Rudolph Spreckels, president of the United Bank and Trust Company of San Francisco, that he had acquired control of 100,000 shares of stock of the Federal Telegraph Company was made public here today. The total number of shares of the company is 300,000.

Spreckels announced that important new contracts were being obtained from steamship companies for the company's wireless service. The Federal recently signed with the Chinese government for the installation of a series of powerful wireless stations in that country.

NEW YORK CURB

Mixed Prices

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Mixed price movements occurred in today's curb market as opposing speculative forces struggled for control. Gains and losses were about evenly divided at the close, with most of the changes of a fractional character.

Standard Oil of Nebraska, Cities Service and Indiana Pipe up 1 to 2 points, were the leaders of the oil group. Increased activity took place in Continental and Mutual Oil on reports of a merger, but the stocks closed practically unchanged on the day.

In the industrial section, Glen Alden Coal and Gillette Safety Razor each moved up about 2 point, while Gold Dust lost ground. Motors were heavy, Durant dropping 1 point to 31. Considerable trading took place in the Radio shares, but net changes were unimportant.

Following are the closing quotations on the New York Curb market. Furnished by Logan & Bryan, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 639 South Spring street.

METAL MARKETS

Daily Review

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLEVELAND, Jan. 17.—Daily Metal Trade today says: "Buying of pig iron becomes heavier at Boston, but is slow at Toronto and Montreal, where immediate needs are covered. Cold drawn steel bars and strips are bought actively by automotive interests for first quarter delivery which causes firmer quotations. Chicago lags somewhat on buying of reinforcing bars but Eastern consumers cover extensively. Copper is steady at New York at 12.40 to 50 cents. Zinc is strong at 6.42½ to 45 cents and lead firm at 8 cents, St. Louis. Tin is easier at 40 cents.

$40,000,000
Government of the Argentine Nation
External Sinking Fund 6% Gold Bonds of 1923, Series "A"
Due September 1, 1957.

Principal and interest payable in the city of New York in United States gold coin without deduction for any Argentine taxes or impositions present or future. Interest payable March 1 and September 1. Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1000 and $500 registerable as to principal only.

For further information regarding this issue of bonds reference is made to a letter received from Felipe A. Espil, Esq., Charge d'Affaires of the Government of the Argentine nation at Washington, copies of which may be obtained from the undersigned and which he has summarized as follows:

GENERAL: "The Argentine Republic has an area of approximately 1,100,000 square miles, or over one-third of the area of the United States, and leads all South American countries in volume of foreign trade. There are today 22,355 miles of railroad. The government itself has considerable mileage under construction."

GOLD RESERVE: "The total note circulation amounts to pesos 1,362,564,000 paper, equal to pesos 599,528,000 gold, which is covered by a gold reserve of pesos 475,003,000 (equals U. S. $458,300,000) or 79%, one of the highest in the world."

FINANCES: "The national debt as of December 31, 1923, at gold parities of exchange, amounts to pesos 932,000,000 gold, being equivalent to $100 United States per capita as against over $200 per capita for the United States. In addition, the nation guarantees the bonds of the National Mortgage Bank, which is self-supporting and has a large reserve of its own. Argentine credit in Europe ranks very high. A large number of pre-war Argentine loans are listed in London and on the Continental stock exchanges of Europe, none of which carries a higher interest rate than 5%. During the war the Argentine republic made large advances to some of the Allies, besides repurchasing a large part of the Argentine securities previously placed in European markets."

PURPOSE: "The proceeds of this issue will be applied toward the payment of short-term notes included in the total debt as stated above."

RESTRICTIONS: "The government covenants, and the bonds shall so provide, that if, while any of the bonds of the external loan of 1923 shall be outstanding, the government shall create or issue or guarantee any loan or bonds secured by lien on any of its revenues or assets, or assign any of its revenue or assets as security for any guaranty of any obligation, the bonds of the external loan of 1923 shall be secured equally and ratably with such other loan or bonds or such guaranty."

M. H. LEWIS & COMPANY

DIVIDEND RATE TO BE ADVANCED

Public Utility Company is After Permission to Reclassify Stock

Permission to increase the dividend rate on its 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock to 7 per cent will be asked of the Railroad Commission by the San Joaquin Light and Power Company at a hearing on the 22nd inst., and if authority is granted, the company will ask the stockholders to approve the necessary amendment to the articles of incorporation.

Dividends have been regularly paid on the 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock since 1917, but in the three preceding years no payments were made, leaving accrued dividends to the amount of $17.50 per share. The amount of the stock outstanding totals $6,500,000, and the accrued dividends amount to $1,037,500.

The company sets forth in its application that the earnings of the business at the present time are sufficient to justify the reduction of this accumulation, but it also points out that because of the rapid expansion of its business during the past five years and demand for capital, a large amount of surplus earnings have been reinvested in the business, and it would be a hardship at this time to pay out the full amount of the accrual in cash. It therefore proposes to make an immediate disposition of the whole accrual on the following basis: To pay in cash $4.50 per share and increase the dividend rate on the stock from 6 per cent to 7 per cent. This proposal is the equivalent of asking the preferred stockholders to invest $13 of their accrual in additional preferred stock at a price at which the stock would yield them 7.70 per cent.

The plan would give stockholders an immediate settlement of the accrued dividends, which will have a much better effect upon the market value of their stock than if the company were to attempt to pay off the accumulation in installments in cash over a long period of time, and at the same time affords a favorable opportunity for reinvestment of a portion of the money, according to a statement made yesterday at the office of the company.

Important Questions

BANKS, insurance companies, trustees, guardians — those having charge of trust funds—must exercise the utmost discretion in the selection of their investments.

Can you afford to be any less careful in the investing of your funds?

Are you justified in accepting, for the sake of a slightly higher yield, the anxiety which inevitably follows the purchase of securities subject to the danger of depreciation?

Those are very important questions.

Purchasers of our Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates are free from anxiety at all times. They have the satisfaction of knowing that their principal is safe, and that they are receiving the highest rate of interest consistent with maximum safety.

These Certificates are secured by first mortgages which never exceed 50% of the conservative appraisal values of the pledged properties. They are legal for Savings Banks and trust funds in California, and largely purchased for that class of investment. Moreover, they are exempt from State, County and Municipal taxes. Thus the yield of 6% is equivalent to the higher gross interest rate of many taxable securities. They are issued in any denomination from $100 up, and interest is mailed on due dates. Hence there are no coupons to clip.

Investigate this safe and convenient form of investment. Call, write, or telephone for further information.

National Thrift Week - Jan. 17th to 23rd

Building & Loan and National Thrift

THE Building and Loan Associations of America are the only institutions which devote their entire efforts to the encouragement of thrift, saving and home ownership—vital factors in the prosperity and welfare of the nation today.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS do not build houses. Their activities are strictly limited to:

1. Providing a means of safe and systematic saving—made profitable for the small as well as the large saver.

2. Making loans on the monthly payment plan for the building and buying of homes.

The first activity makes possible the second. Every dollar placed in the Associations by savers is loaned on first mortgages to prospective home owners.

Today throughout America approximately three and one-half billion dollars is loaned to home-owners by BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS assisting in the construction of over a million homes! This tremendous aid to our national welfare and prosperity has been made possible by 6,800,000 savers who now have their funds in BUILDING AND LOAN.

Is your money helping?

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey announced yesterday in New York an advance of 1 cent a gallon in the price of all grades of export gasoline.

Jonah Jones In

With an initial output of 1750 barrels a day, the Jonah Jones No. 3 well has just been completed in the Signal Hill field by the General Petroleum Corporation. Gravity of the oil is given at 29.6 deg., which makes the well one of the best producers from a quality standpoint in the Walnut-avenue area.

The well was drilled on a lease belonging to Jonah Jones, local real-estate dealer, who is interested in various Signal Hill properties now being developed by the General Petroleum Corporation. Jonah Jones No. 1, on the same lease, was completed some time ago with an initial flow of 4500 barrels, and is still rated as a good producer.

Jonah Jones No. 2 is the most recent well to be completed in the local field by the G.P. interests. It is said that new wells are to be started here soon by that organization.

Plans Pipe Line

The Pan-American Petroleum Company is planning to build between 150 and 200 miles of main trunk pipe line during the coming summer. Plans for this big piece of extension work have already been mapped out.

It is understood the company plans to run this line from its big new refinery at Watson Junction to the Elk Hills naval reserve, going by way of Tejon pass, along the Ridge Route.

The pipe line will likely run feeder lines into the Buena Vista Hills territory to pick up purchased oil from the various companies, and will also drop feeders into the Midway, Maricopa and McKittrick fields.

This network of pipe lines will virtually duplicate the pipe-line installation of the General Petroleum Corporation, extending from the San Joaquin Valley oil fields to Southern California tank farms, but the two lines combined would scarcely equal the oil-pipe-line facilities which now extend from the San Joaquin Valley to San Francisco Bay, it is asserted.

Leasing at Anaheim

The leasing of 350 acres of land in the Katella district, immediately south of the Anaheim city limits, and of a fifty-acre block in West Anaheim, with an agreement to drill, on the latter before February 14, marked the week's activities of the Coast Land Company, which has been operating in the Anaheim field for more than a year.

Material will be delivered at once for the erection of a derrick in West Anaheim and according to the contract active drilling will be under way by February 14.

Selection of a drilling site was somewhat delayed pending the adoption of an ordinance which prohibits drilling inside the city limits of Anaheim. This ordinance is now in effect and under its terms the Coast Land Company's well will be situated just outside the city limits.

A bonus of $10 an acre and a rental of $5 a month are being paid for the land, it is stated. The Coast Land Company was the first active outfit in the Anaheim field, and was securing information regarding oil possibilities there even before the Standard Oil Company entered the territory. The leases in the Katella district are the first to be secured in that section and these contracts contain a three-year drilling clause.

Little information is being given out regarding the progress made at the Standard well west of the city. It is asserted, however, that the results are encouraging, and that there has been a good oil showing. Similar reports are made at the Cypress well and Miley-Keck well, both located in the Anaheim region. The drill is in hard formation at the Orange well and progress is slow.

Making Special Pipe

The Union Oil Company of California is making up two-inch drill pipe to drill out its Bell No. 1, the first big producing well in the Santa Fe Springs field. This hole has been drilled to the Meyer sand, four and one-half-inch casing having been carried to a depth of 4670 feet, where it was cemented. Bell No. 1 will be remembered as the well which came in during October, 1921, with a flow of 4400 barrels a day, which tested 31 gravity. It was the first big producer of light gravity oil in Southern California, and really started the feverish oil development which prevailed at the Springs for two years.

Big Foster Producer

Ranking as one of the largest producers completed by the Fred B. Foster interests since their entry into the Signal Hill field the Foster No. 65 was completed late yesterday with an initial flow estimated at 2500 barrels.

The well was originally drilled to 4935 feet, but was later sidetracked and backed up to the 4771-foot level, from which depth the hole is now producing. Oil is flowing through 3900 feet of two and one-half-inch pipe. The well is located on the Pauley lease, at Lovelady avenue and Signal Hill Drive.

Crude Imports

Daily average imports of petroleum at principal ports for week ended the 12th inst. were 295,857 barrels, compared with 303,143 for the previous week. Daily average receipts of California oil at Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports were 261,143 barrels, compared with 204,429 for the previous week.

Pennsylvania crude oil was advanced 25 cents and 10 cents a barrel and is now being quoted for the Bradford district $3.75 a barrel. There were no changes reported for crude-oil prices for the other major districts, Midcontinent being quoted from $1 to $1.50 a barrel, according to the gravity of the oil; Gulf Coast at $1.25, with some companies quoting grade "B" at $1 and California crude ranging from 60 cents to 75 cents a barrel, depending upon the gravity of the oil.

In Cap Rock

The Long Beach Petroleum Company's well on Frankfort avenue in the western fringe of the Signal Hill field, is drilling in hard cap rock at 4426 feet, according to officials of the California Drilling Company, which is doing the work.

The well was cemented at 4190 feet, and after drilling through, the bit is reported to have encountered a broken formation, with the last thirty-five feet in sticky shale.

Rigs Two Wells

Two new wells are to be started within the next few days, by the California Drilling Company, which is now rigging up to spud in shortly.

In Long Beach the Regina Judd No. 2 will be started on the same lease with the Regina Judd No. 1 on American avenue. Regina Judd No. 1 has been on production several months and is said to be pumping about 500 barrels per day.

The McKenzie & Morton No. 1 well will be started in the Torrance field on Acacia street, between Narbonne and Eshelman avenue, in the Lomita district.

ROAD BUILDING AIDS BUSINESS

Surfaced Highways Get Boost From Chicago Show

Total of 40,000 Miles Added to Last Year

Conservative Farmers Meet to Settle Things

BY ARTHUR D. WELTON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1924, Public Ledger.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The American road builders' association is holding its twenty-first annual convention and the national good roads show is in progress at the Coliseum. There are several thousand delegates and visitors attending the convention and there is more than $1,000,000 of road building machinery on exhibition.

Statistics of roadbuilding in 1923 will not be available for several months and such statistics are never complete. The road building programs of the several States show a more elaborate character each year, but accuracy in figures comes only from the government which, in 1922, has disbursed over $90,000,000 toward the construction of 11,400 miles of highway which cost the States an additional $216,000,000. There are 187,406 miles of highway in what is called the Federal aid system but that is by no means the extent of good roads in the United States which has altogether nearly 3,000,000 miles of roads, much of it bad and some unspeakable.

The estimate of Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the government's Bureau of Public Roads, is that 40,000 miles of surfaced roads were completed in 1923, which was 3000 miles more than was provided in 1922. The total of surfaced roads in the country Mr. MacDonald places at 400,000 miles and this mileage, he says, will be doubled in ten years.

Better than either cost, investment or mileage of roads as an indication of the interest in this development is the estimate that the convention and show will bring together 30,000 delegates and visitors who are concerned in the making of roads and road machinery.

It may be significant in this connection that the debt of State governments increased 175 per cent from 1912 to 1922, or from $422,000,000 to $1,162,000,000. During the same period the debt of county government increased 168 per cent, from $171,000,000 in 1912 to $1,968,000,000. Of course, the increase in neither case was entirely the result of new road construction but it is probably very much the largest item. State programs calling for from $20,000,000 to $60,000,000 for new roads are not uncommon. If Mr. MacDonald's prediction for the next decade is fulfilled, the amount invested by that time will run into several billions of dollars.

The end of road building is far off. The work has hardly begun in many States. But enough surfaced roads have been constructed to make the problem of maintenance, repairs and replacements one of increasing importance. The taxpayer has a hard road before him even if he prefers to regard it as a motorist.

CONSERVATIVES MEET

Another convention that invites attention is one called by the Illinois Manufacturers' Association. This has called together not only manufacturers but farmers, particularly, "conservative farmers," meaning those who have not been carried off their feet by the plans and promises of leaders who think agricultural distress calls for a government relief expedition. It is expected that this convention will adopt resolutions or approve recommendations covering such matters as railroad rates, the disposition of Muscle Shoals, and cooperative marketing. They are supposed to present a solid front against what some of them term socialistic and communistic influences. These are adjectives as fondly used by the conservatives as "capitalistic and privileged" by the radicals. In both cases they mark the spirit of extremism and indicate rather an emotional state than a capacity for factual analysis and appreciation. However the convention has many men of ability on its program and it may make a contribution without perhaps inducing Magnus Johnson to believe that there are two sides to any question, to say nothing of every question.

NEW INSTALLMENT PLAN

The bucketshops, if any, have a new enemy in Chicago. They are to be fought by a corporation which will make it possible for anyone to buy listed stocks by paying 20 per cent down and the remainder in twelve monthly installments with interest on the unpaid balance at 6 per cent. The new company is called the Investors Fidelity and Deposit Company and its composition and purpose have been highly commended. Stocks purchased through it will be escrowed with a trust company against completion of the payments so that marginal speculation will be impossible. Otherwise it is stated that it will not compete with regular and reputable brokers who carry such accounts when they do carry them, as an accommodation and not for profit.

The new company has a good plan and may do a substantial business. It undoubtedly would if it could promise profits with the same recklessness that characterizes the operations of its chosen competitors. However, it takes two parties to complete a bucketeering operation and the one is usually if not necessarily as avid as the other. Bucketeering is hardly to be associated with legitimate brokerage operations. It belongs in the class with shell games, crap-shooting, roulette and falls short in comparison with poker and faro. It is very doubtful if the Investors Fidelity Deposit company will attract any business from the handbook makers for instance, or make the worshippers of chance less responsive to the lures of the bucketeers. But it is a good try.

Alhambra to Launch Campaign for Amphitheater

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, Jan. 17.—An active campaign is soon to be launched to arouse interest in the coming special election when a $25,000 bond issue to provide an amphitheater and art center will be presented to local voters.

The exact date for this election has not yet been set, but it will probably be some time in March. The project is being fostered by the Alhambra Pageant Association, of which Dr. O. S. Barnum is president. Petitions containing the names of over 1200 voters asking for the special election were recently presented to the City Commission.

The proposed amphitheater is intended to be the center of large community activities and to form a permanent home for the annual Easter pageant.

MATE HURLED RAZOR

Woman Seeking Divorce Charges Child Abduction, Too

When Frank P. Burris accidentally cut himself while shaving he became enraged at his wife and threw the razor at her, according to a complaint for divorce filed yesterday by Mrs. Marie Burris.

Mrs. Burris, who said she and her husband separated December 26, 1923, asserted Burris came to her house the 13th inst., and, on the pretense that he wanted to take their baby out for a ride, left with the child and has not since been seen by her.

Burris was also alleged to have thrown a can of coffee at his wife and to have cursed her because the missile went wild.

Third Day Sees No Jury Chosen in Murder Case

The third day of the trial of Jack Ferdinand, John Geregac and John Sears, on a charge of murder, closed yesterday in Judge Avery's court without a jury having been selected.

There were four women and eight men in the jury box when court adjourned at 5 o'clock but members of counsel stated they did not expect to have the jury completed and sworn in before late today or tomorrow morning.

The defense yesterday exercised eight peremptory challenges while the State used four. There are twenty-seven remaining for the defense and six for the prosecution.

Ferdinand, Geregac and Sears are charged with the murder of Arthur C. Chapman, young insurance broker, during a hold-up last November.

FILM PRODUCERS ORGANIZE TO PROMOTE INDUSTRY

Dozen of Southland's Largest Companies Form Corporation With Hays's Backing

In perhaps the biggest stride forward the industry has ever taken, officers of the largest motion-picture producing companies of Southern California yesterday forwarded to the Secretary of State at Sacramento articles of incorporation for the formation of a local corporation to be called the Association of Motion-Picture Producers, the purpose of which will be the moral, educational and financial uplift of the industry.

Announcement of the newly-formed organization was made by Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., at the offices of O'Melveny, Millikin, Tuttle & Russell, where the articles of incorporation were drawn.

IN FOSTER INTERESTS

"I am not in fostering the commercial interests of all those engaged in the motion-picture business by encouraging and maintaining the highest moral and artistic standards of motion-picture production and develop the educational as well as the entertainment possibilities and general usefulness of the motion picture" will be the chief purpose of the association, it was stated in the articles of incorporation.

In a statement issued by Mr. Hays and Mal Walter K. Tuller, vice president, said the association is "a part of the activities connected with the visit of Will H. Hays with a view of effecting a plan for the elimination of abuses and other improvements in the industry."

Those original incorporators listed as follows: Associated First National Pictures, Inc., Cecil B. DeMille Film Company, Inc., Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, Douglas Fairbanks Pictures Corporation, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Corporation, Louis B. Mayer Corporation, Louis Mayer Productions, Inc., Metro Pictures Corporation, Principal Pictures Corporation, Hal Roach Studios, Inc., Joseph Schenck Productions, Inc., Schulberg Productions, Inc., Universal Pictures Corporation, the Vitagraph Company of California, and Warner Brothers.

EFFICIENCY LACK SHOWN BY BUREAU

Hill-Street Pavement for Tunnel Cut After Long and Unnecessary Delay

Proof of the inefficiency of the political Bureau of Power and Light was pointed out yesterday by builders of the Second-street tunnel, when bureau workmen cut the new pavement on Hill street at the entrance to the tunnel, in spite of the fact that the bureau has had many months to do this underground work before the pavement was laid. The gas, telephone and other utility companies received the same notice months ago that the bureau received, said A. J. Hill, contractor for the tunnel yesterday, and these companies proceeded to change their underground work on Hill street before the new pavement was laid.

Not so the political Bureau of Power and Light. In spite of the fact that repeated notifications were sent to the bureau that the paving for which property owners had been assessed thousands of dollars was soon to be laid, the engineers of the bureau made no effect to do the underground conduit work. The grading was completed and the railway tracks on Hill street were lowered. The utility corporations completed their conduit work. And still the Bureau of Power and Light made no effort to make necessary changes in its Hill-street underground cables, although the bureau employees had told the contractor that the bureau had many changes to make in its underground system at the entrance to the new tunnel.

The pavement was laid on Hill street. A day or two elapsed, and yesterday the political ownership engineers and workmen from the Bureau of Power and Light attacked the new pavement, cut long trenches, removed the pavement and began to work underground at the entrance to the tunnel.

PAVING ORDERED

The improvement of Evans street between St. George street and Hyperion street, in the Hollywood district, by paving with six-inch concrete was ordered yesterday by the City Council.

Thinks Rum Ring Using Blackhand

Officer Cline and Warning

Assistant captain of detectives believes death missives sent officers to deter them in hunt for Italian who slew Mrs. Max Anderson and her son were not sent by Mafia or other society. He thinks moonshine gang shielding Giuseppe Curatola is responsible.

POLICE GET DEATH THREATS

Black Hand Notes Order End of Hunt for Curatolo, Slayer of Mrs. Anderson and Son

The receipt of two Black Hand letters threatening death to police officers trailing Giuseppe Curatolo, Italian asserted slayer of Mrs. Max Anderson and her son Kai, was disclosed yesterday by Acting Assistant Captain of Detectives Cline.

The first of the grim missives was found yesterday by Patrolman H. J. Hess of the Lincoln Heights division. It had been pinned to the seat of his machine and read:

FIRST WARNING

"You know too much. Quit your job or we will get you."

At the bottom of the sheet of heavy brown paper on which the note was written was a life-sized hand painted in black. The hand apparently had been painted in with a black liquid and a shoe dauber.

Patrolman Hess lives at 2662 Carlton avenue, a short distance from the spot where Mrs. Anderson and her son had been shot to death. Capt. Cline stated that Hess has had no part in the search for the killer, but expressed the belief that the warning was sent to him because he lived in the neighborhood and would naturally assist the police in every manner possible.

DETECTIVE THREATENED

The second Black Hand note was received by Detective Lieutenant Romero, an Italian officer detailed to the search. This was received by the detective in his mail at Central Station, Capt. Cline stated. The contents of the note were not divulged but are understood to be similar to the one pinned to Patrolman Hess's automobile.

Police officials made no attempt to discount the danger in which the two officers threatened have been placed. They are convinced that the threats came not from the Black Hand members themselves but from a bootleg band which would go to any lengths to protect itself. They believe further that the band availed itself of the Black Hand in order to make the threats more effective.

Every precaution is being taken to safeguard the two officers. Detective Romero is being closely guarded by fellow-officers. He has been working on the case since the killing of Mrs. Anderson and her

A. L. Rowland and W. E. Evans Are Delegates

BY THE WATCHMAN

With an enthusiastic unanimity that reflected both party vigor and party harmony, more than 300 delegates to a conference of Ninth Congress District Republicans in Pasadena yesterday adopted without a dissenting vote resolutions indorsing the candidacy of President Coolidge and followed this by nominating W. E. Evans of Glendale and A. L. Rowland of Pasadena as the Ninth District's choice for delegates to the Republican National Convention pledged to the President's nomination and election.

The Republican conference also unanimously voted to present the name of Mrs. Florence Collins Porter of South Pasadena, former Republican national committeewoman, as one of California's seven delegates-at-large. Ratification of the foregoing indorsements will be sought at a State convention of Coolidge supporters to be held in San Francisco February 12.

STATE PARLEY DELEGATES

Delegates to the State conference, who will likewise serve as vice-presidents of the California league of Coolidge Republican Clubs, were elected as follows: W. M. Orr, John Robert White, Galen H. Welch, State Senator A. Burlingame Johnson and Nicholas T. Edwards.

Mr. Edwards, who was placed in nomination for delegate to the national convention, was heartily cheered when, as a reading of the Restaurants serving rhubarb sauce because Franklin introduced rhubarb into America; school children quoting Poor Richard's proverbs until teacher held her ears; doors and windows of dwellings flung wide because "Ben" was the original fresh-air "fiend;" bathing beauties actually taking a dip in the surf because Franklin was a swimming teacher; theologians shaking hands because "the greatest American" was a champion of religion; Frederick Warde, John Steven McGroarty and other noted speakers flooding the Biltmore Hotel and Grauman's Metropolitan Theater with streams of superlative adjectives—these were only a few of the things Los Angeles people did yesterday to tell the world they were glad Benjamin Franklin was born 218 years ago.

Nearly 1000 persons attended the Franklin Day program given at Grauman's Metropolitan Theater in the morning when John Steven McGroarty paid an eloquent tribute to America's versatile genius.

SAYS AMERICA SAFE

"Contrary to the opinions of many calamity howlers, America is not jazzing her way to ruin," said Mr. McGroarty. "Our republic is perfectly safe so long as the people hold to the ideals pronounced and practiced by Benjamin Franklin."

Music for the occasion was furnished by the R.O.T.C. Band from the Franklin High School and by Henry Murtagh, organist. An interesting feature of the program was the electrical demonstrations provided by the Southern California Edison Company and the General Electric Company. This remarkable entertainment by the electrical experts was repeated an hour later at the Biltmore Hotel. Following the display, at the latter place, Frederick Warde, veteran actor, remarked: "That key which ran down the cord from the kite was the key that opened the door to Ampere, Edison, Steinmetz and all those other men of genius who have practically revolutionized industry by their almost miraculous achievements."

MRS. BARNES PRESENT

The celebration at the Biltmore Hotel, given by the Master Printers Association, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, was presided over by Maynard McFie and among the speakers were L. J. Quinby, Boyle Workman, William P. Jeffries and Dr. H. E. Barnard.

The electrical display was in charge of Arthur Spring of the General Electrical Corporation and L. E. Peterman of the Southern California Edison Company. A feature of the meeting was the singing, by Otto Proetz of the new song "The World's Prayer," composed by E. Milton Classen.

The honored guest was Mrs. Caroline Barnes, aged 92 years, a great granddaughter of Benjamin Franklin. Mrs. Barnes is the daughter of Charlotte Bach, who

GEN. MORTON HERE TODAY

Ninth Corps Area Commander to Speak at Army Dinner and Inspect Reserve Officer Units

Maj.-Gen. Charles G. Morton, commanding the Ninth Corps Area with headquarters at the Presidio, San Francisco, will arrive here this afternoon to spend several days inspecting reserve officers' units hereabout and to attend the dinner tonight of the Association of the Army of the United States.

Gen. Morton is second ranking officer of the Army, second only to Gen. Pershing. He will be at the Ambassador and will be accompanied by his wife.

TO INSPECT AIR FIELD

Gen. Morton will inspect the Reserve Aviation Field at Clover Field, Santa Monica, on Saturday morning, and in addition the Reserve Officers' Training Corps in high schools, colleges and universities in this vicinity; the units at Jefferson and Polytechnic high schools Tuesday morning, Franklin High School and the University of California, Southern Branch, on Monday.

The general is particularly interested in the training corps and devotes much of his time to its organization, believing that in time of national emergency no other military department will prove as useful as that of the young men now under training in the educational institutions of the country. The healthy growth of the organization in Southern California is a source of great satisfaction to him.

The dinner of the Association of the Army of the United States will be given tonight at the Elite, 632 South Flower street. This organization is composed of active, retired and reserve army officers, and has a local membership of more than 900. It is devoted to perfection and co-operation of the various branches of the service.

GEN. HOLBROOK TO SPEAK

The chief speaker at the dinner will be Maj.-Gen. Willard A. Holbrook, chief of cavalry of the Army, who will speak on the role of cavalry in present-day warfare. Gen. Holbrook, whose headquarters are at Washington, has been in San Francisco visiting his brother, Col. Lucien R. Holbrook, chief of staff of the Ninth Corps Area. Col. Holbrook also will be down for the dinner.

Another speaker will be Maj. Ford Ashman Carpenter of Los Angeles, who is a staff specialist of the Officers' Reserve Corps. He will speak on the military significance of the meteorology of Southern California.

Officers, former officers and others wishing to attend the dinner should make reservations by calling Maj. Frank Drake, C.A.C., acting liaison officer, 625 Detwiler Building, telephone 825055.

'GAS GRAB' PETITIONS FILED

Checking by City Expected to Throw Ordinance for Survey to General Election

Referendum petitions bearing 53,766 signatures were filed yesterday afternoon with City Clerk Domingues, thus compelling the City Council to place before the voters or repeal the two ordinances recently enacted at the behest of the Municipal Bureau of Power and Light authorizing the expenditure of $50,000 of public funds as a starter toward the bureau's efforts to condemn and operate the $17,000,000 electric properties of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation. The filing of the petitions automatically halts the expenditure of the money, as the petitions bore 38,216 more signatures than required by law.

The City Clerk will at once start checking the signatures on the petitions to eliminate the signatures of persons who are not registered voters. As a former successful referendum petition filed against a similar "gas grab" ordinance authorizing the expenditure of $25,000 checked nearly 60 per cent legal signatures, it is expected that the checking of the petition filed yesterday will result in 35,000 or 40,000 of the signatures being found those of registered voters.

In order to save the taxpayers the $80,000 expense for a special election to vote upon the two ordinances, the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation asked that the petition be checked only to the point where there will be a slight excess over the 20,550 names required to place the two "gas grab" ordinances before the voters at a forthcoming general election. Under the law a referendum petition bearing signatures of 15 per cent of the registered voters of the city forces the Council to call at once a special election, while a 10 per cent petition compels the Council only to place the legislation being subjected to a referendum upon the ballot at a forthcoming general election.

Leo M. Harvey, president of the Harvey Machine Company and head of the new company, stated yesterday that actual construction work will be started by June and completed in twelve months' time. Plans for the new structure will be prepared by the Milwaukee Building Company which will be in complete charge of all building operations.

CORNER VALUABLE

According to specifications provided by Mendel Meyer, member of the building concern, the structure will be of reinforced concrete, Class A and fireproof construction, with a frontage of 100 feet on South Hill street and 150 feet on West Tenth street. It is the intention of the builders to arrange specialty shops on the ground floor and loft and office space in the upper stories.

C. B. Simpson of the William May Garland offices represented all parties in the real estate transaction which involves the sale of the corner for a reported consideration of $500,000. LASWELL FREED OF ATTACK

Broker Takes Blame for Whipping of Headmaster at Military School

A verdict of not guilty was returned in favor of Beecher Laswell, a broker charged with assisting his 15-year-old son in severely whipping Robert Gooden, headmaster of Harvard Military School. Eight of nine women and three men in Police Judge Fredericksen's court Monday. The verdict was reached on the first ballot of the jury after twenty minutes of deliberation.

Robert Gooden, an Episcopalian, is head master of Harvard military school where Roger Laswell, the boy, was a student until he expelled for infraction of school regulations. Testimony during the trial revealed that Laswell, accompanied by his father, went to the school on the evening of October 7, last, and that the boy was beaten into unconsciousness. The complaint charged the father with assisting in inflicting the fatic blows, using a section of battery was introduced by him. The boy took the stand yesterday, absolving his father of any participation in the thrashing he had given the director and personally assuming all responsibility for

THEATER GREETING

"I found the chapel with my son and young Laswell. "Dr. Gooden was seated at the organ," he continued, "and I said: 'Good morning.' Dr. Gooden replied: 'Good morning.' Dr. Gooden, what's the matter with the boy of mine?' father asked. 'I don't want him around here,' Gooden replied. Gooden said the father: 'You have expelled him from school, but why have you reported that the boy is a bad character to associate with and why did you threaten to expel those students who did not join him? The only reason I have for expulsion that I have been able to learn is that he is a gentleman—and I'm not sorry for it.'

POLY SENIORS DECOLLARED

Dignity of Lower Grade Offended by Wearing of Sportive Neckgear, with Wide Wings Inscribed

Smash! bang! crack! rip! tear! "Ouch, le'go my neck!" They removed a few collars yesterday at the Polytechnic High School.

The collars were worn by the upper or A grade of the senior class. They were high collars, with wide wings on which the wearers had written their names and other things, thereby offending the dignity of the members of the lower or B grade. Hence the decision to remove them.

THE FORMULA USED

The general formula used was as follows: Selecting a victim, several of the underclassmen leaped upon various portions of his anatomy and jerked the offending wearing apparel from his neck. Sometimes their hands missed the neck, it was reported, and landed on other spots.

That, presumably, is why Fred Horvitz, 19 years of age, 8717 South San Pedro street, was taken to the Receiving Hospital shortly after the scrimmage suffering from "contusions of the nose," according to the doctor's report.

TWENTY-FIVE DECOLLARED

About twenty-five collars were removed—mostly in pieces—within a few short minutes during the noon luncheon period, as near as could be learned, and about as many more survived the struggle. The fracas started when several of the offending collar wearers attempted to enter the school cafeteria. Soon more than a score of students were engaged. The battle then became general and was waged all over the school grounds, much to the glee of hundreds of members of the other classes, who loudly applauded each time they heard the rip of linen. The sounds permeated the confines of the building and Coach Voyle Brennen, backed by John Burke, gymnasium instructor, and Mr. Skinner, Spanish teacher, hurried to the scene and were partly successful in saving a few remaining collars.

Revenge is sworn by the upper senior class. Today their rivals are scheduled to appear with variicolored socks on and threats that they will go home barefooted are said to have been heard in the halls of the institution of learning at Grand avenue and Washington street yesterday afternoon.

GREER TRIAL PLAN OPPOSED

Bishop of Episcopal Diocese and Head of Hospital Objects to Court Hearing Today at Bedside

The word of a high churchman in Los Angeles threatened last night to prevent the proposed preliminary hearing today at the Good Samaritan Hospital of Horace Greer, former chauffeur for Mabel Normand, who is being held on a charge of assault with intent to kill Courtland Dines, young millionaire clubman of Denver.

The illness of Dines, who has been confined in the hospital ever since the shooting, has delayed Greer's preliminary hearing for so long that Justice Hanby announced his intention of holding the hearing at Dines's bedside in the hospital today, if necessary. Dines is the State's most important witness against Greer.

PLAN OPPOSED

But the Rt. Rev. Joseph H. Johnson, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Los Angeles late last night put his foot down on holding any court in the Good Samaritan Hospital—today or at any other time. Bishop Johnson is president of the board of directors of the hospital. When reached at his home last night, he expressed surprise and consternation over the proposal to hold court in the hospital. It was news to him that such a thing had even been proposed.

"Why, we're running a hospital, not a courtroom," Bishop Johnson exclaimed when asked if he would oppose such a move. "We certainly will not permit anyone to hold court in Mr. Dines's room. Such a thing is preposterous.

BISHOP TO FIGHT

"Such a hearing, drawing as it would a number of persons with attendant excitement, would disturb the peace and quiet of the hospital and might bring serious consequences to other patients in the hospital. For the sake of these patients we couldn't think of permitting it. I don't think any court would force us to do it and if they tried to we would oppose it vigorously and take the matter to court ourselves, if necessary."

Bishop Johnson announced that he would confer with the hospital attorneys immediately and instruct them to take every legal step necessary to prevent any proposed hearing at the hospital.

Justice Hanby's plan to hold court at the hospital came as a result of a statement from Dr. Guy Cochran, Dines's physician, that his patient would be unable to appear in court at Greer's preliminary hearing today.

Both Mabel Normand and Edna Purviance, who were present in Dines's apartment at the time of the asserted attack, have been subpoenaed to appear at the preliminary hearing.

Dr Cochran declared yesterday his patient was unable to leave the hospital although his condition has not taken a turn for the worse. When asked if he would give his approval to Justice Hanby's plan to take the court to Dines's bedside, he said he could not say un-

PLOT SEEN TO ROB SCENARIO WRITER

What is believed to have been a plot to rob Miss Grace Page, scenario writer of 245 West Orchard avenue, of a diamond worth $10,000 and other jewelry was revealed yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Hamilton and Townsend. The officers, it is learned, had been summoned to lure Miss Page to a lonely spot and said a man had been arrested making statements about the house on several occasions, presumably believing it a good chance to commit burglary. The deputies learned of the plot, they said, when they went in search for Harry J. Dunn, alleged bandit, in Miss Page's garage.

vote showed the nomination of Mr. Evans and Mr. Rowland, he arose and moved that the nominations be made unanimous.

Judge Allard of Pomona and G. L. Buck of Long Beach served as president and secretary of yesterday's Republican conference—the first to be held in California at which delegates to the national convention were nominated. The fact that this initial rally resulted in the unopposed selection of Coolidge supporters was hailed as an excellent indication of the sentiment of the Republicans of the State.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Resolutions adopted by the conference indorsing the accomplishments of the Harding-Coolidge administration and pledging the Republicans of the Ninth Congress District to support the nomination and election of Mr. Coolidge follow:

Whereas, the Republican party three years ago came into power when the war and the events following its conclusion had left the country in chaos and financial uncertainty, and under the administration of Warren G. Harding the nation was carried through a period of intense post-war deflation without panic or alarm, and the adoption of a national budget system has resulted in the saving of more than $300,000,000 and the fiscal year has closed with a large cash balance to our credit in the national treasury instead of the usual deficit; and the Washington Disarmament Conference planned and called by our late President Harding is the most potent factor for the preservation of the world's peace ever undertaken and accomplished by any nation, and the establishment of a world's court as recommended by him will be one of the strongest agencies in the support of universal peace; the extension of farm loan and rural credit has been of inestimable benefit to the farmer and to the nation as a whole, the President's recognition of co-operative marketing is the adoption of the California solution of the farmers' most vital problem; the passage of a wise, fair, revenue-producing protective tariff and the efforts of the administration now nearing accomplishment to abolish the twelve-hour working day in the steel industries, and its efforts in furtherance of child labor protection and women's welfare legislation, and care for disabled veterans of the World War will be of great benefit to the country at large; and,

Whereas, President Calvin Coolidge has announced his determination to carry out the wise and humane policies inaugurated by the administration of President Harding;

Therefore be it resolved, by the delegates present at this Ninth Congress District Republican conference, that we indorse these policies of the administration of President Harding and recommend President Calvin Coolidge for his support of them, and do pledge our best efforts to secure the nomination and election of Calvin Coolidge to succeed himself as President of the United States and pledge our delegates to the national convention to use every honorable means to secure his nomination.

Tuesday's meeting," declared Mr. Hays.

It is understood that officers of the association will be elected at the meeting and that Mr. Hays will outline the work he expects the association to accomplish.

HAS MET GROUPS

"I have been holding meetings of groups of producers for the past few weeks, with our action today as a result," said Mr. Hays, "but Tuesday will be the first time they will meet as a body." The meeting will be in the association's rooms on Hollywood Boulevard.

"This association is the California instrumentality to carry out the purposes in which the national association is engaged," Mr. Hays declared further. "It is planned to put a proportionate foundation under the second largest industry in the country."

Those conversant with the situation declared last night that the association is the fulfillment of an ideal that Mr. Hays has worked for ever since he became the head of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America and that he has designed it to meet the public demand for better pictures, with a higher moral and artistic standard.

til he knew what the "court" included.

PLAN DEFENSE PLEA

Preparations went on yesterday for the prosecution of Greer, whose case, it is believed, will not be brought to the attention of the grand jury now. The defense will demand a reduction of bail today, according to Clarence B. Conlin, Greer's attorney. It is understood that self-defense will be pleaded by the chauffeur.

The preliminary examination will be conducted at 10 a.m. today in Justice Hanby's court in the Alhambra Hotel Building. Because of the prominence of Dines and of the national interest in the connection of Miss Normand and Edna Purviance with the case, it is believed that one of the greatest crowds in the history of the local justice courts will attend the hearing.

Justice Hanby has declared his intention of taking the court to Dines's bedside at the Good Samaritan Hospital, should he not appear, so it is believed the hearing will go on as scheduled.

On the results of it and subsequent court proceedings many believe the future of both Mabel Normand and Edna Purviance in motion pictures depends. Action was deferred yesterday by the Club Women's Association of Chicago on a proposed ban of Mabel Normand's pictures, until Miss Normand's side of the story could be heard.

The decision of the club women elicited a statement from Mack Sennett that Mabel will appear before the club if it wants her and she is able to travel. "I will move heaven and earth to get Mabel there if the club women of Chicago want her," Sennett is said to have declared.

Attorney Conlin declared last night that if another continuance is asked today, he will demand a dismissal of the charge against Greer. If the chauffeur should be arrested a second time, he will make application for a writ of habeas corpus, he said.

The purpose of the program was to enable the students to come into close contact with the practical side of journalism, and speakers representing eight of the Southern California papers gave their personal experiences in the various lines of newspaper work.

CLARKE WAITE SPEAKS

The first speaker on the program was Clarke F. Waite, of the San Pedro Pilot, who talked on the mechanical side of the work. He said that it was not necessary to have a thorough knowledge of the mechanical side of the industry in order to become a successful publisher, but that the most important thing was to build up the good will of the public. He was followed by Justin Cramer of the Orange News, who spoke on the business management of a paper. He emphasized the fact that it was necessary to maintain a spirit of co-operation between the various departments of a paper.

Harlan G. Palmer of the Hollywood Citizen spoke next, and gave his idea of what the editorial policy of a paper should be. "Circulation," was the topic of the address made by J. P. Baumgartner of the Santa Ana Register. He said that the quality and character and the method of obtaining circulation was more important than the quantity of circulation.

ENTERTAINMENT FOLLOWS

The morning speeches were followed by an entertainment in the old chapel hall. After a short musical program, "The Brink of Silence," a one-act playlet, was presented by the members of the college of speech.

In the afternoon Cromble Allen of the Ontario Report, Roy Driscoll of the Pomona Bulletin, S. S. Conklin of the Long Beach Telegram and J. R. Gabbert of the Riverside Enterprise talked on subjects that were of vital interest to the journalism students. At 4 o'clock the meeting was adjourned and the delegates were entertained by a dance at the Delta Gamma House.

LASWELL FREED IN SCHOOL CASE

'everything is true but the dirty lies of his—'

DEMONSTRATES BLOW

"I clenched my fists and hit him," said young Laswell, descending from the witness stand and demonstrating on the jaw of his attorney, John S. Richardson, how he struck the blows.

Roger declared that as he continued to rain fisticuffs upon the minister, Dr. Gooden scuffled with him, kicked him several times, and they whirled down the aisle of the chapel toward the door.

"Father tried to separate us," he continued. "He kept telling me he wished I wouldn't do that. We scuffled out through the door. I had him down on the ground and I think I hit him several times then. Father finally succeeded in dragging me from him."

"Did your father at any time strike Dr. Gooden?" the boy was asked.

"He did not," Roger replied.

He told how Dr. Gooden lay unconscious on the ground. A woman came running out. It was a nurse from the school infirmary.

"Where is Bobby?" the nurse inquired, according to the boy.

"Who is Bobbie?" Roger was asked.

"She was referring to Dr. Gooden as Bobbie," Roger replied. "That's his nickname. His first name is Robert."

RELATIVES TESTIFY

Young Laswell was preceded to the witness stand by his mother and by his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Upington, who testified that Roger had returned home on the evening of the affair with a badly bruised shin, that he complained of the injury for several days and was later sent to a physician to have the injury X-rayed to determine if his shin bone had been fractured. It had not.

Laswell, the father, corroborated the story told by his son.

"I put my boy in our car," Laswell continued. "Until Dr. Gooden was on the ground outside the chapel I could not control Roger. I drove away and met a policeman. I told the officer that my boy had just beaten up his teacher and asked advice. The officer took us to the Wilshire police station, but the officer in charged declined to meddle with the affair and sent us home. I advised them to arrest my boy, for he had committed a serious offense, but the police sergeant thought different."

Nine witnesses—bankers, business men, doctors and neighbors—testified as character witnesses for Beecher Laswell. The defense then closed its case.

BISHOP TELLS OF BUMPS

Witnesses for the prosecution earlier in the day included Bishop Coadjutor W. Bertram Stevens of the Episcopalian Diocese of Los Angeles. He told of feeling the bumps on Dr. Gooden's head. Dr. Harry G. Marksmiller testified to the physical condition of Dr. Gooden, as he had found it shortly after the threshing occurred.

As on the day before, Judge Frederickson's courtroom was crowded with interested spectators—Bishop Joseph Johnson, many ministers in clerical garb, army officers and a score or more of uniformed students from the military school.

CITY "GAS GRAB" PETITIONS FILED

tion, when the referendum petition was filed, said:

"The petition filed today is the answer of 55,766 people to the Power Bureau's desire to put an end to electric competition in Los Angeles. The rapidity and ease with which these signatures were obtained was a source of great satisfaction to the company as proof of public confidence in us after our serving the people of Los Angeles for the past thirty-five years.

NOT FIGHTING CITY

"We are not fighting the Power Bureau. The Bureau is fighting us. There is more than enough business in Los Angeles for both the Bureau and the company but we will not stand idly by and let the Power Bureau grab our properties. We are confident that if these two ordinances come to a vote of the people, the answer will be that we have made good and are not to be driven out of the electric business and the city handed over to a Power Bureau monopoly dominated by Dr. John R. Haynes and other radical political ownership propagandists.

"In 1923, the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation spent $4,000,000 on electric extensions to keep pace with the growth and needs of the city, and this year we shall spend $4,500,000 on these betterments and additions. To this $4,500,000 should be added $2,500,000 we shall spend this year on the construction of our Seal Beach steam plant for the generating of electricity for Los Angeles consumers. The ultimate cost of this plant will be $12,000,000 and it will add to our generating capacity, 288,000 electric horsepower. These expenditures show that we believe the people of Los Angeles stand for a square deal to those individuals and companies with thousands of stockholders which have been serving the people here for many years, as we have been doing since our company was established in 1889."

LOAN BODIES BACK WEEK FOR THRIFT

League of Local Building Associations Commended by President Coolidge

Under auspices of the United States League of Local Building the Loan Associations, national Thrift Week opened yesterday, beginning on the anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, the world's greatest exponent of thrift.

Indorsements of Thrift Week and its purposes have been voiced by President Coolidge and Secretary of State Hughes. The President's letter says:

"I am glad to know, through your letter of October 24, of the plans which the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations is maturing, with a view to bringing home to the American people the lesson of thrift and the desirability of home ownership. No greater contribution could be made to assure the stability of the nation, and the advancement of its ideals, than to make a nation of home-owning families. All the instrumentalities which have been devised to contribute toward this end are deserving of encouragement, and I have been pleased to know of your program to bring national attention to this cause. I hope it will meet with the fullest measure of success.

"Most sincerely yours,

[Signed] "CALVIN COOLIDGE."

The selection of the Building and Loan League as the official organization for the direction of Thrift Week campaign is due to the important part which building and loan associations are playing throughout the United States in the promotion of frugality, saving, thrift and home ownership.

LIGHTING SYSTEM ORDERED

The installation of an ornamental lighting system on Jefferson street, between Vermont and Ninth avenues, was ordered yesterday by the City Council.

YALE ALUMNI TO ELECT

Officers for the ensuing year will be elected at the annual banquet and meeting of the Yale Alumni Association tomorrow night at the University Club. Minott Osborn, secretary of the Yale alumni advisory board, will be the guest of honor and speaker of the evening.

BLACKHANDERS WARN OFFICERS

son. Detective Lieutenant Underwood has been working with him.

SEARCH INTENSIFIED

The receipt of the blackhand notes yesterday served only to intensify the search for Curatola. It was stated by Capt. Cline that the slayer suspect had been seen at the home of some of his friends a short time ago. A squad of police and detectives have been sent out to the house to keep it under surveillance. They expect to conduct a thorough search for the slayer in the house and the immediate neighborhood.

Instead of giving up the search Detective Romero immediately proceeded to the Italian quarters of the city after receiving the death note and questioned a number of Italians as to their knowledge of the slayer's movements. He returned to Central Station late in the afternoon and declared he would continue the search.

Mrs. Anderson and her son were slain last Saturday night. The woman and her son occupied a house at 3650 Carlton avenue. The house was owned by Curatola. He and his family lived in the rear. Curatola was recently arrested on a charge of manufacturing liquor. Later he was released and again engaged in his trade.

PUT BLAME ON TENANT

Police raided his house a second time and he was sentenced to serve a term in the County Jail. It is believed that he became convinced after his release from jail that Mrs. Anderson had informed police regarding his activities.

Saturday morning he went riding with his family. He returned in the evening and walked into the back yard of Mrs. Anderson's home. He opened fire on Mrs. Anderson without warning, killing her almost instantly. Her son Kai, attracted by the shots, ran out of the house after Curatola. The latter turned and fired. The son was mortally wounded and died a day later.

Since then the search for the slayer has been carried to all parts of Southern California. Police early became convinced that the slayer was being sheltered by friends, members of a rum ring. The receipt of the black hand notes yesterday verified this belief.

DAMAGES DENIED

Judge Hewitt yesterday denied damages of Jacob I. Greene, who asked $10,000 from John M. Eustace and Kate Eustace, asserting false imprisonment. Greene was arrested at the instance of Eustace, who suspected him of having stolen some money. The money was later found in the Eustace home, but the defendants insisted that they had reason for suspicion.

HOMAGE PAID BEN FRANKLIN

"APOSTLE OF ENGLISH"

Frederick Warde, the speaker of the day, was presented by Mr. McFie who recalled the days of a quarter of a century ago when Mr. Warde often spoke to the students at the old Normal Hill School and who called Mr. Warde "an apostle of pure English in the American wilderness."

"It is not enough that we 'honor' this towering genius of American history by naming a library room after him," said Mr. Warde at the close of an eloquent address. "We should make it imperative on the school teachers to tell the youth about his wonderful life and achievements in order that the young people may have an example by which to live, an incentive to self-development."

FRANKLINS VS. FORDS

"Benjamin Franklin was born of an old England father and a New England mother," said the speaker. "He was the fifteenth child in a family of seventeen. Think what a splendid type of man his father must have been! What a vigorous, enterprising man to colonize a new country!

"And yet, if each of Benjamin's father's descendants had followed the old man's example, each being the head of a family of seventeen children, I tremble to think of what the consequences might have been," said Mr. Warde. "In such a case Congress would have been compelled to have passed a bill limiting immigration and there would now be more Franklins than Fords in the world.

"Had you stopped to consider, gentlemen, what would have happened in nine generations if each of Benjamin's father's descendants had followed his example in the matter of raising families of seventeen?" asked Mr. Warde, dramatically. "I figured it all out the other night and I calculated that in nine generations the Franklin family would have produced two trillion fifteen billion nine hundred and ninety three million nine thousand four hundred and forty-nine children."

"A SUPERDREAMER"

The speaker said that he cannot reconcile the statement made in one Franklin biography to the effect that Benjamin had ever considered being a church leader.

"He read all books except theology and books of poetry," said Mr. Warde. "His life was one of practical service to his country and to the world. With him, to dream meant to act. He did not deal with abstractions but with facts. When he theorized it was for the purpose of finding a way to the demonstration of practical laws. His wisdom and versatility shall long be a challenge to the thinkers of the world. 'A genius is a headland into the Infinite.' Measured by his achievements, Benjamin Franklin was the greatest genius America ever produced."

FRANKLIN'S MEMORY HONORED BY MASONS

Past Grand Master of Masons of Pennsylvania Benjamin Franklin will be honored at noon today by the Masonic Club of Los Angeles at its weekly luncheon in the club rooms in the Alexandria. Those in charge of the event have arranged a special program for today and a larger gathering than usual is promised. Charles E. Haas, president of the Masonic Library Association, will be the principal speaker. "Benjamin Franklin, Man and Mason," will be the topic of his address. There will be special music by the club orchestra under the direction of Dick Bailey.

Mr. Brooks was last seen by Dr. Charles L. Edwards of the city schools, who reported the disappearance. The police had no clew either in the disappearances of Miss Helen Beatty, 19 years of age, of 1153 West Fifty-fifth street, and of Miss Bertha Brown, 17 of 3614 Elm street, Graham Station Detective Lieutenants Lloyd and Roberds are looking for all three.

Mondon, 219 West Thirty-eighth street. W. A. Brown will be funeral director. The deceased was 93 years of age. He was a member of Stanton Post, G.A.R., and the Proximo Club. He is survived by Mrs. Mondon and three grandchildren, Abram F. Mondon and Miss Evelyn Mondon, and Mrs. W. E. Haney, all of Los Angeles.

Business Men in Council to Help Children's Drive

One hundred and fifty business men of Los Angeles last evening met at the Los Angeles Athletic Club and, following a dinner, planned their ways of co-operating in the money-raising campaign of the Los Angeles committee of the American Committee for the Relief of German Children.

No time was given to speeches, many of the number having recently been visitors in Germany and all were fully apprised of the fact that millions of children are suffering from undernourishment and disease. The evening was devoted to a purely business discussion on the matter of quick money raising.

Harry R. Bogart, personal representative of Maj.-Gen. Henry T. Allen, national chairman, was present and aided in formulating plans for a speedy canvass of present Los Angeles citizens who were either born in Germany or still have relatives in the stricken districts.

J. Dabney Day, president of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank, yesterday sent word to the executive committee that instructions had been given for the receipt of money by that institution and its seventeen branches throughout the city, to be turned over for child relief. Other banks reported that similar plans were being made.

A HORSE APIECE

Four of the grand jurors were themselves found to be customers of an Arkansas bootlegger whom the inquisitors were preparing to indict. It should be either easy or hard to convict under such circumstances—we forget which.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

There is a definite slackening of industrial activity in several of the large manufacturing centers of the East, but there is no depression in Los Angeles as yet and we may be able to push it aside. We are developing new industries all the time.

THE DREAMERS

There's a patient in the asylum at Kalamazoo who persists in the belief that he is running for President and is going to be elected. The trouble is that not all the folks with this hallucination are in restraint. Some of them are suffered to wander over the country telling strangers all about it.

FAIR AND WARMER

They have been having an unusually warm winter in Alaska and some of the pioneers at Dawson City are reported as worrying about a prospective ice famine. On the Yukon the stuff is hardly four feet thick. It would be tough if the government were asked to provide ice for the suffering Alaskans.

PEST AGAINST PEST

A Mississippi cotton planter says that the Argentine ant will destroy the boll weevil and furnishes proof on his own acres. But nothing on God's green earth will destroy the Argentine ant. This idea of setting one pest after another is fine business for browsing scientists, but may be tough on the rest of us.

INVESTORS ARE BUSY

The Corporation Commissioner reports business in his line as being nearly 50 per cent greater in recent months than for the same period a year ago. This is in the department of creating and extending corporate activities in industry and finance. This is not oil shooting itself into space, but represents varied aisles of endeavor. There is nothing dangerous in the prospect. It is not a run of careless finance, but a definite response to business conditions and requirements.

THE REANGUARD

Los Angeles men are said to be good dressers. The head of the sales department of one of the greatest hat manufacturing houses in the world says that our citizens wear the niftiest grade of velour lids that can be obtained. Many of them have their helmets built to order at a cost of from thirty to fifty bucks apiece. It is possible that the Hollywood influence has something to do with it. One of the screen heroes is said to have something like 100 different brain shields in his collection. It takes quite a lady to beat that record.

THE JERSEY MOSQUITO

Nine counties of New Jersey are asking State support to the extent of $1,000,000 in order to give battle to the mosquito. It may yet be necessary to offer a bounty on "skeeters" of $1 a pelt in order to make the State safe for New York commuters. It has cost New Jersey over $1,000,000 to drain and oil one-half of the swamps that have served for breeding grounds for these infamous insects. The expectation is that it will take at least another $1,000,000 to make a total job of it. Modern science asserts that mosquitoes really have no warrant for existence, but it is still a task to dispossess them of the State of New Jersey.

A SEA-LEVEL CANAL

An eminent French engineer, who was with De Lesseps in the days of the French pioneering at Panama, is now in this country—having recently made full inspection of our great canal. He announces that for the business of the world and the needs of America a wide sea-level canal is an absolute necessity and Uncle Sam may as well begin operations at once. The present system of locks is pitifully inadequate and cumbersome when judged against future demands. There need be no hesitation about embarking on the larger enterprise. The canal can always be operated at a profit, no matter what be the ultimate cost. We may even venture into billions without fear.

ENDURING GOVERNMENTS

We are informed that Sweden is the most persistently enduring country in Europe. The land has been occupied by the same people and their forbears for some 5000 years and the government has been running pretty much the same as it is today for nearly fifteen centuries. Until Minnesota was put on the map the Swedes stuck rather closely to the home place and looked after their fishing, dairy and farm interests. Now there are nearly 2,000,000 of them in America, but otherwise they have not been much given to emigration. Their country is popularly presumed to be a bit bleak and uncomfortable, but it is fine stuff for the Swedes and has given them strength and hardihood above the ruck.

NAGGING THE JAPANESE

A little sane common sense applied to the Japanese problem in California will add to the reputation for fair play of the United States, to say nothing of averting uncomfortable and dangerous possibilities.

No one—not even the Japanese government—disputes the fact that the immigration of Japanese laborers has been properly and rightfully regulated. The law denying Japanese the right either to own or lease land in California is on the statute books and is there to be enforced.

In the circumstances, the yowl of certain journalistic agitators is about like climbing the rooftops to scream "Fire" after the engines have gone home and the insurance adjustors have arrived.

The Japanese now living in California have a right to be here and they should be treated with courtesy, justice and decent consideration. Even the operations of the antileasing law should be carried out with reasonableness and without attempt to confiscate the crops already in the ground.

It is the melodramatic rubbish that has been injected into the Japanese question that makes it dangerous.

It began to be a question shortly after the United States annexed the Hawaiian Islands in 1900. The influx of farm hands seeking the higher wages of California stirred up considerable feeling and excitement in both countries and finally resulted in the so-called "Gentlemen's Agreement."

There were two phases to this: One was that no laborer should be allowed to come to the United States; this pledge has not been broken. The other was that the agitation and attacks on the Japanese should be discouraged. This pledge we have failed to keep.

In order to help the matter, about 1910, Baron Hayashi of the Foreign Office refused to issue any more passports to laborers for Mexico or Canada. Certainly, the Japanese more than fulfilled their obligations.

Under the general plea of keeping out the Japanese agitators have made the most gross exaggerations of fact.

One of these is the statement that the Japanese government is trying to get some kind of foothold on this continent, either through immigrants or a naval station. They hark back to the Magdalena Bay incident, which had no basis in fact. Most of the Japanese there were fishermen from San Diego and San Pedro employed by Aurelio Sandoval of Los Angeles in canning fish and turtles.

The Japanese who are now in California will stay here, unless they move East, for most of them left Japan when they were very young, before universal education had been provided. These know very little of Japan and are kept clannish only because we do not allow them to be anything else. But some of their children graduate in our universities, thoroughly Americanized; some of them not knowing how to read or speak Japanese.

The Japanese government appreciates our desire not to have the Coast filled with Asiatic laborers. Nobody wants that condition. But those Japanese already here are just as lawfully here as any of the rest of us. To nag them is merely to make us trouble, to confuse Japanese politics and to generally complicate matters over an issue that is passed.

THE PITCHER AND THE WELL

California's senior Senator has Presidential ambitions. He has them as naturally and unavoidably as a dog has fleas. One knows their presence by the whining and the scratching. Recently he made a speech about it back in Cleveland, O. Many of the citizens of the Buckeye State show a tolerance toward him and his ambitions; for he made an important contribution to the Harding nomination in 1920.

Wood was the leading Progressive candidate. Harding was the dark horse. Johnson injected himself into the campaign and kept enough votes away from Wood to make his nomination impossible. Harding was nominated as a compromise candidate; about the best compromise, by the way, that a Republican convention ever made.

When Roosevelt passed there was such a scramble for his mantle among ambitious Progressives that it was torn in shreds. Wood seized the largest remnant, but Pinchot and Johnson each carried away a tatter. After trying vainly to make use of it Wood draped his fragment about the sarcophagus of his fallen leader; but Pinchot and Johnson still cling to their plunder, now worn so threadbare that it has to be labeled in order to be recognizable.

Johnson delivered his keynote speech; and even his friends admit that it was badly off key. There was some jubilation in the press after it was delivered; but, unfortunately for the Johnsonian ambitions, the jubilant notes were sounded in the publications which are the strongest supporters of President Coolidge. It acted on the enthusiasm of the Johnson group like a wet blanket. They are still willing to accord him three cheers; but his financial backers are reported to have closed their safes with a time lock that will not open until the middle of July.

Several eastern newspapers that cast their lot with the now defunct Progressive cause in 1912 lent their columns to the support of the Johnsonian Presidential ambitions in 1920 and were inclined to favor him again this year. But, since the delivery of the Cleveland speech, they have frankly admitted that, as a Presidential candidate, he is impossible. They find him a pitcher that has gone too often to the well. The Detroit News, once friendly to Johnson, commented as follows:

> Senator Johnson's keynote speech at Cleveland only has added to the impression growing among Washington politicians that his Presidential boom is destined to be one of the greatest fizzles in political history. . . . He touched upon a number of issues chiefly by evasive scolding. Analyzed, his speech discloses definitely only one affirmative declaration, and this in favor of the soldier bonus. . . . He singularly ignored the railroad problem, the rock on which is assembled the most effective group of insurgent Republicans. . . . Even before Johnson made his speech it was generally agreed, even by his few friends here, that he was losing ground. These men hoped the Cleveland speech would turn the tide; but there is no evidence yet that it has won him a single worth-while supporter so far as the garnering of convention votes is concerned.

Frank Kent, political editor of the Baltimore Sun and one of the foremost journalistic experts in national circles, wired to his publication the following comment on the Cleveland address:

> In politics these "eat-'em-alive" type are formidable in exact proportion to their ability to scare the other side. The moment that signs of futility appear people instantly stop being afraid of them and start laughing at them. And that is fatal. Something like that seems to be happening to Hiram Johnson. Certainly there is no one here any longer afraid of him, and certainly a great many people are making a joke of him. The Cleveland speech was made last night. Hiram shot his bolt. It was not a big gun—it was merely a popgun. He did not have a thing—not a single thing—up his sleeve. . . . In Washington he is considered as having "fizzered" badly at Cleveland, to be entirely without a real issue, without any chance at all of winning his fight and actually without a sound reason for staying in it.
> With Mr. Wrigley, his prize political angel, making subtle, not to say serpentine, statements about the possibility of withdrawing his support from Johnson and his personal liking for Coolidge, with Henry Ford squarely back of the White House candidate, with Borah and Norris and Kenyon treating him as if he had the measles, and La Follette as though he had the leprosy, and with his big-gun speech missing fire, these are discouraging days for Senator Johnson.

In his Cleveland speech Senator Johnson sought to make an issue of clean elections. This brought only a tone of mocking skepticism from the eastern press. The Detroit News reminded him bluntly that "When the issue of clean elections was presented definitely in the Senate, in the proposal to oust Senator Newberry, Mr. Johnson went to California and dodged the vote."

One by one the chickens are coming home to roost on the doorstep of Senator Johnson, whose ambitions far outstrip his ability. While he has won some victories in his home State, his record in national politics is that of a consistent loser. And such a record is as fatal in politics as in sports.

BUSINESS BEFORE POLITICS

All normal signs point to a prosperous year for 1924. In only one way can that prosperity be lessened or defeated. The country may get an unexpected setback if members of Congress are allowed to sacrifice business for politics. By making their views felt on the leading economic measures before Congress the people have it in their power to prevent their Senators and Representatives from botching the work of the nation. Decisive action now is as important as a decisive vote next November.

According to the Federal Reserve Board, production, expenditures and savings were greater in 1923 than in 1922 and these are the three items by which the prosperity of a people are best measured.

The year as a whole was marked by a large industrial output, practically full employment, a sustained demand for goods and an unusually stable level of prices. The income of industrial workers approximated 13 per cent higher than in 1922 and wage advances greatly exceeded those of the previous year.

In agriculture, at the prevailing farm prices, the total value of the year's crops showed an increase of 12 per cent. The volume of railroad traffic was the largest on record. A peak demand was reached in construction of buildings and sales of automobiles. Everywhere, in all lines, the American business barometer stands at "set fair."

With so propitious a start the best New Year resolution a business man can make is to keep constant pressure bearing on our legislators and politicians that national interests may not be subordinated to private or sectional aims. Only one really troublesome issue at present demands legislative action—that of taxation. An issue so vital to the whole people must not be allowed to deteriorate into peanut politics.

So far as can be gathered from opinions expressed in all parts of the country the American people are enthusiastically in favor of the Mellon tax plan. It is a clean-cut proposal, a relief measure to insure continued prosperity and to reduce the cost of living. It is drafted according to the mandate given to the Republican party in 1920 by a multitude sickened with Democratic extravagance.

Compared with the relief for the taxpayers embodied in the Mellon proposals the success of any party or small section of a party is of slight matter. Those politicians opposing their enactment into law are doing so from selfish or narrow party motives. The most vital thing before the people at present is through pressure on their Representatives to force Congress to pass the tax plan proposed by Secretary Mellon, a master of finance, an expert above the rut of partisan politics.

Prosperity is with us. It should remain with us. Every voter can do his part to make 1924 even more prosperous than 1923. The politicians alone can upset this happy arrangement. And they cannot do so if the citizens act now to prevent what in November their votes may be too late to cure.

Electors, put public opinion to work in Congress—now; let those Representatives who are tying up the nation's business know what to expect next fall.

HOW IT STARTED

Finger Prints in Identification

It is interesting to note how many of the "modern" developments of science and invention had their origin really in bygone times.

One of these is the use of finger prints in identification, which, we find, was known and practiced in the days of Babylon.

The story is told on unearthed clay tablets bearing writings, which, deciphered, turned out to be receipts for valuables given by contemporary royalty in the keeping of trusted officials. At the bottom of each tablet, or under each receipt as it were, was found a curious imprint—the seal of the finger print pressed into soft clay.

The modern system and use of the finger print in the detection of crime dates from the efforts of Sir Francis Galton, famous traveler and scientist, who was the first to give serious attention to the subject and to devise a method of classification which made practical their use as a certain means of identification.

RIPPLING RHYMES

THE LANDLORD

The landlord is a genial gent, a man of charm and grace; and when he asks you for the rent a smile adorns his face; 'twould grieve him much if discontent should in your heart have place. He'd see his tenants blithe and gay when he comes to the door; he fain would see you romp and play about your cottage floor; and yet the coin he bears away will come to you no more. The landlord used to seek my shack as each new month appeared, and merry quip and cheerful crack he filtered through his beard; and yet he made my skies seem black, his footfall much I feared. The coin he took I used to need to buy things at the store, to buy a helpful book to read, a couch on which to snore; he took away my chicken-feed and it came back no more. The landlord came to get the price with manners most benign; alas, his bearing cut no ice, nor did his greeting fine; I bought his shanty twice or thrice and then it wasn't mine. At last I built myself a hut, hard by the village pound, and when at eve the doors are shut there happiness is found; it is a humble dwelling, but no landlord comes around. To other doors the landlord goes to bone men for the rent and vain and empty quips he throws, with wit and humor blent; but from my treasure chest he knows he'll never draw a cent.

MAKING PEACE PICTURES

BY HARRY CARR

No real progress will ever be made toward putting the soft pedal on war in the school histories until peace is made as dramatic and picturesque as war.

Gilbert K. Chesterton, the British essayist, suggests that this be accomplished by giving civilians a chance to wear uniforms and to look thrilling.

He points out that a uniform ought to be devised for the adornment of the man who has virtuously paid his income tax; the young man who has just become engaged to be married should have the right to wear a peculiarly gorgeous and lovely one. Chesterton says, with scorn, that he is not sure what kind of uniform should be worn by a prohibitionist; but he is sure there should be one and that it should be buttoned down the back.

Behind this wit there is a good deal of sound truth.

I remember the stuff with which they filled my head when I was a little schoolboy. I had the military complex so thoroughly ground into my soul that I was quite convinced that the only career possible to a really respectable man was to wear a sword and spurs and kill people.

I was raised on "Sheridan's Ride" and "Charge of the Light Brigade;" and I regret to say that Napoleon, the worst bloodthirsty blackguard in all human history, was the idol of my youthful dreams.

To this day, whatever music that moves me at all always brings up mental visions planted there in childhood. For instance, can any human being see why "The Beautiful Blue Danube" should go with a picture of a regiment of Hungarian cavalry with tiger-skin dolmans over their shoulders and, at their head, a young colonel mounted on a magnificent chestnut charger that foams and dances?

A famous waltz song that should go with visions of girls and flowers always brings to my mind the vision of a battleship sweeping into action, slipping along with horrible ponderous quietude, the water splashing from her prow and the crew on deck clearing the ship for action.

These details are always precisely the same, showing that it was a fixed idea implanted upon a sensitive subconscious mind.

Who can doubt that the World War was the culmination and fruition of just such visions implanted broadcast?

I remember riding through Germany on a train. We looked out upon dreary, sodden, little farm villages; we saw farm laborers drudge-bent like the figures in "The Man with the Hoe."

Then, in Berlin, I saw the boys from these farms after they had been turned into soldiers.

I saw them marching down Unter Den Linden, through the great Brandenburger Thor. A magnificent military band marched at their head; occasionally, as they marched, the brasses of the band would be silenced and the field music would take up the refrain and send your blood galloping through your veins with the shrill scream of the trumpets and the drums.

As they passed the guardhouse by the gate you heard the rasp of the sentry's voice; the roar of the corporal of the guard.

And then, as the guard relief formed, you heard their muskets snap and crash to present arms. And, like an answering echo, you heard the voice of the officer of the day ringing out a word of command; and the Hessian boots of the marching soldiers come crashing down on the asphalt as the marching step changed to the parade step that we have nicknamed the "goose step."

Once a German farmer boy has lived through that and, thereafter perhaps, has set astride of a magnificent war horse, dressed up like a grand opera tenor with a long horsehair plume fluttering and wind-tossed upon his glistening helmet, a silver breast plate glittering and shining upon his chest and a gleaming sword in his hand; and when he has stood on guard at a palace gate exchanging salutes with an Emperor . . .

Well, you have fixed an idea in his impressionable mind; and when his term of service is over and he goes back to the farm and the hay rakes you can be pretty sure what his dreams are going to be about as he shovels barn manure.

The first time I saw a squadron of heavy artillery going into action it gave me a thrill that almost stopped my heart.

And I shall have to say that no experience in civilian life ever gave me quite the dramatic flush—the kind that makes the fingers grow cold and your heart pound—like a night bombardment I saw in Poland when the whole horizon was lit with the flashes of the giant skoda guns as they began the horrible rataplan of the drums of death pounding down the forts of the Russian Czar.

I remember a day in London, when I saw a new draft of recruits marching down the Strand to the trains. At the head of the contingent marched a Scots Guard band with their kilts flapping as their feet snapped and clicked against the pavement; the pipes were skirling and the big bass drummer was flinging his drum sticks in the air and catching them. As they marched along every soldier in uniform on the sidewalk snapped to attention.

The rearmost one of those new soldiers was a little weazened-up clerk carrying a suit case. His nose was red and he looked peaked and underfed. It occurred to me that he was on the way to look like one of those Scots Guards before the army got through with him, and that his soul was about to be filled with a fixed idea that never would come out of it; an idea that promised nothing for the peace of the world.

CITY IDEA CROPPED OUT

Dr. Harry A. Garfield of Williams College was praising the theory that during the summer poor in many thousands of slum children a country week.

"It is pathetic and amazing," he said, "to see slum children in the country. There was a crowd of little Bostonians at Lake Sunapee, New Hampshire. Three or four of these Boston urchins were standing about in the woods behind Ben Mere when one of them looked upon a cow's nest containing condensed milk cans.

"'Hi, fellers!' he yelled in great excitement. 'Hi, come here quick! I've found a cow's nest!'"—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

MADE IT STING

Metcalf came and told his wife about meeting an old friend during the day.

"And he said he know you when I was a little girl?"

"No, Edith," replied Metcalf. "He didn't say anything of the kind."

"But," said Mrs. Metcalf, "you just said he did."

"No, Edith, I didn't. What I said was that he said he know you when he was a little boy."

This was rather brutal, but Metcalf was smoking a Christmas gift from his wife.—[Prize Story in Judge.

Horses Set Serum Standard

Two horses, Charlie and Jim, belonging to Uncle Sam, furnish the blood from which is set the standard required for all the diphtheria antitoxin made in the United States. These horses are supported by the taxpayers and do no work. They live in idle luxury frolicking in a beautiful pasture on the banks of the Potomac near Washington most of the time. They were selected for their long service because of their heart. Once every four months workers in the Public Health Service take away a small quantity of their blood to use in this serum. The operation causes the horses no discomfort and they do not seem to miss the blood. They have served in this capacity for the past seven years, saving thousands of lives, and are as happy and healthy as horses can be.—(Pathfinder.

All Have Wealth

No matter whether Rockefeller or Ford is richest as more dollars go, every person has some one worth more to him or her than their combined wealth.—(Puck.

President Coolidge wants a reduction downward revision of the taxes along the lines suggested by Secretary Mellon. He will not approve any tax bill which is merely a patchwork based on political expediency. The Mellon bill has received widespread support. The President is convinced of its desirability.

ARERS DANCE TO KHJ MELODY

Ton Orchestra Offers Entertaining Tunes

ed by Miss Toft and Jack Conners

Given in Memory of Benjamin Franklin

BY E. C. ORMISTON

country enjoyed their distinctly original and pleasing arrangements of the popular numbers.

The orchestra is composed of Jack Deebie, saxophone and clarinet; Victor Massie, saxophone and clarinet; Cushman Branch, violin; Bob Sawyer, piano; Andrew Partridge, bass saxophone; Leyton Goffin, trumpet; George Johnson, trombone; Gay Martin, banjo; Buddy Johnson, drums and xylophone; and Carlyle Stevenson, saxophone and leader.

The orchestra was assisted by Miss Bobbie Toft, female baritone, and Jack Conners, tenor. Miss Toft entertains regularly with the orchestra, and contributed a most pleasing portion of the program. Her songs were given accompaniment by Bob Sawyer at the Knabe, and Cushman Branch, violinist.

The tenor, Jack Conners, was host of the Bon Ton Ballroom before the fire which destroyed it, and is now acting in the same capacity at Sunset Pier, where Carlyle Stevenson and his orchestra played Saturday and Sunday of each week. He specializes in appealing numbers which he gives with a warmth of feeling that carries beyond the microphone.

L. J. Quinby, representing the Master Printers' Association, and speaking in honor of "Benjamin Franklin Day," addressed Radioland in eulogy of the Father of Electricity.

At the conclusion of the studio program, somebody juggled a few connections which resulted in the ether being violently disturbed by the syncopated melodies of Art Hickman and his crew, playing in the supper room of the Biltmore. This dance music was continued until midnight, interspersed with the reading of news items.

The noon program featured piano solos by Frank Anderson, pianist-organist of the Liberty Theater of Long Beach. His numbers evidenced the technique and sound musicianship of the unusual artist. He played for the friends of KHJ through the courtesy of F. Stannard, manager of the Liberty Theater, and the West Coast Theaters, Inc.

L. H. LaLeavitte, tenor, favored with a solo, accompanied by Florence Heacock. He sang Bartlett's "A Dream."

Mrs. Luella C. King, representing the Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke on the subject of "Thrift." Her advocacy of the household budget system should be met with the unanimous approval of Radioland.

Broadcast by remote control from the Biltmore, Frederick Warde was introduced as "Dean of the Stage" and gave an address in commemoration of Benjamin Franklin. An exhibition of some of the wonders of electricity was also staged, the loud flashes of sparks being heard via radio.

The children's program presented two juveniles, Charles Edwards, 9 years of age, and Rosalie Tuso, child soprano. Charles played the piano in a promising manner. He is a pupil of Mrs. Ferrahim. Little Rosalie played her own accompaniment and sang several songs in her sweet childish voice.

Dr. R. E. Lee, in charge of the research department of the Fleischman Company of New York, spoke on the subject of "Bread, the Staff of Life." After which Uncle John related a bedtime tale, designed to prepare the lads and lassies for the trip to Sleepy-eye Town.

One of the 1280 tests. Before washing, the nainsook used in this test stood a "pull" of 2950 points.

After washing with FAB, this sample of the same goods stood a "pull" of 2950 points also—as strong as the original.

After washing with another kind of soap flakes, this sample of the same goods broke at 2800 points. It had lost 150 points of strength.

After washing with a third kind of soap flakes, this sample of the same goods broke at 2550 points. 400 points of strength lost.

Use FAB for baby's garments, which must be clean and soft. After washing, boil diapers to prevent rash.

This hosiery wears better if washed often. With FAB you need not rub. Do not dry over radiator or stove.

FAB suds do not run colors that are fast in plain warm water, under the same conditions. The finish of fine materials is preserved.

Delicate china and glass washed with FAB are shiningly clean. And your hands stay soft and smooth.

FAB makes a thick shampoo suds by reason of its cocoanut-oil. Rinses easily and leaves the hair soft and glossy.

The Cloth Testing Machine tests the strength of cloth with scientific exactness. The machine stretches the material by slow and gradual motion until it breaks. The hand on the dial stops when the material parts. This determines the precise amount of "pull" which the fabric will stand.

Dainty things washed with FAB last longer—this machine proves it!

This Cloth Testing Machine is used in the Domestic Science Department of one of the leading Universities.* With it, experts recently tested what soap flakes do to the strength of fabrics. That test means a lot to you—and to your clothes.

The test is a simple one—but scientific and very accurate.

The experts cut a piece of nainsook into strips. They left one unwashed. The other strips they washed with different brands of soap flakes, according to the makers' directions, and all under the same conditions of temperature, rinsing, etc.

Then, one by one, all these samples were tested in the Cloth Testing Machine. The instrument, with an accurate and even pull on every thread, strained each square of cloth until it broke. The dial of the machine automatically registered the exact point of breaking.

After this test on nainsook, they made others on silk and woolen, 1280 tests in all.

These careful and impartial tests prove that the FAB way is the better way to wash. They show by actual figures that materials washed with FAB wear better.

FAB, you see, is the safe soap flakes for all your washing. FAB is made with cocoanut-oil, that is so gentle, and yet so sudsy and cleansing. FAB flakes dissolve at once and completely in water. They make a rich, plentiful suds that flow freely back and forth through the fabric. It's these free-flowing FAB suds that take out the dirt and restore dainty cleanness. And FAB will not "run" colors that are fast in plain warm water, under the same conditions.

Why not start now to enjoy the advantages of FAB—so easy and safe to use for your washing. Ask for it today, at your grocer's.

BIENNIAL PLANS GOING FORWARD

Two Major State Chairmen Already Appointed

Partial List of Committees is Given Out

Bay City Offers Fullest Aid to Convention

BY MYRA NYE

The big biennial machinery is working at last! Two of the chief mechanicians and engineers came down from San Francisco to be present at the send-off. They are Mrs. Aaron Schloss, a past president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, this week appointed chairman of courtesy for past presidents during the biennial convention in June, also chairman of legislation, and Mrs. L. P. Boyce, State chairman of press.

Perhaps these two dainty and pretty clubwomen would not like to be called mechanicians, but the title of engineer puts them in a valiant class. Yesterday in Mrs. Robert Burdette's office in the Bank of Italy, was organized the committee of departmental work with Mrs. J. A. Nash of this city at its head. Associated with her are: Mrs. Maynard Force Thayer, who is to prepare the work and the way for Mrs. Percy Pennybacker of Austin, Tex., both of them chairmen, the one locally, the other nationally, of American citizenship; Mrs. Schloss to prepare for Mrs. Edwin Franklin Whits of Indianapolis in the department of legislation; Mrs. Boyce for Mrs. James A. Read, press, Fayetteville, Ark.; Mrs. Randall Hutchison for Mrs. Rose V. S. Berry, Berkeley; Mrs. Seward Simons for Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, chairman of international relations, as well as president of the general federation; Miss Gertrude B. Brainerd for Mrs. John D. Sherman of Chicago, department of applied education, and Mrs. Margaret Frick of Redondo, for Mrs. Elmer Blair of New York City, for child welfare.

Mrs. Boyce brought from San Francisco a letter from the Chamber of Commerce of that city signed by Col. Charles A. Simmons, manager, to the local board offering co-operation in all their plans and proclaiming a 100 per cent interest in this great convention of women which is coming to Los Angeles.

Diet and Health
By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

ACTIVE EXERCISE

Yesterday we talked on the mechanical devices for giving needed passive exercise to those who, for some reason—extreme overweight, weak heart, voluntary inertia (common name, laziness.) etc.—cannot take active exercise. Today I shall give some exercises to those who do not come under that heading.

First to review a little the need for exercise: It is highly important that while you are cannibalistically consuming your own fat, you tone up and strengthen your muscles; increase your circulation to bring extra oxygen to the seats of the mighty so as to help consume them, activate your internal glands, wake up your gray matter and strengthen that and the rest of your nervous system, etc., etc.

If you have not been in the habit of exercising, better begin with only four or five of the movements and gradually work up to a greater number. Even then, you must not be surprised if you are stiff and sore for a while. You will realize that you have muscles you never dreamed of. But persist, and you will soon like your exercises and will notice that you are not nearly so old as you thought.

To begin: When you awaken and realize that it's time to be up and doing, before you leave your bed make believe that you are a cat. Put one front paw forth and stretch thoroughly, then the other; then your hind paws the same.

Now forget you are a cat and don't reassume any feline characteristics during the rest of the day. This is highly important.

Now impersonate an open jackknife trying to shut itself up gradually. You do that this way: Throw your hands over your head, then throw them forward, raising your body ten or twelve inches from the bed. Repeat, this time going still further. Each time go back to the level. Keep on doing this and increasing the distance your body goes forward until you are shut up. Repeat this process of closing yourself ten to fifteen times.

Now, holding on to the bed, reverse the process, your feet are over your head; to this gradually as you go forward. Work up to [illegible] teen times.

Now forget you are a [illegible] don't do anything [illegible] the day, either.

Get up! This is to [illegible] I am going to call you [illegible]

Now go through [illegible] and-touching-the-[illegible] bending-your-knees [illegible] bend forward [illegible] the erect position, then [illegible] little more, and back [illegible] repeating until you [illegible] touch the floor. CITY EMPLOYEES ASK FOR INSURANCE FUND

The City Council was yesterday urged, in a communication from the City Employees' Benevolent and Protective Association, to increase $1 a day the compensation paid drivers of municipally-owned and operated motor trucks, so that drivers could obtain adequate personal and property liability insurance. With incurance, the communication stated, the public could receive compensation for personal injury and property damage done by city trucks, police machines and fire apparatus. Under the law the city government is exempted from paying these damage claims.

The property, which is located at 1417 West First street, is valued at $12,500. A will naming a son and daughter, Mrs. Josephine Hanscom and Charles A. Augustine, was filed, but the contestants declared that their mother was of unsound mind and was prejudiced against them.

THE LAST WORD.

BY ALMA WHITAKER

NEUTER LOVES

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Fancy confessing a love for a pet hairpin! How silly. Nice practical people should not have these foolish notions.

But I have discovered that I have quite a lot of little neuter loves. Just things. That dear old hairpin, for instance. One of a packet that cost about 15 cents. It isn't even real shell, just a cheap imitation. But it has a nice, cosy little curve to it, and I always save it for the top of the coil on the left side of my head, the best-looking side. Whole packets of hairpins have come and gone, but that one has been such a friend. It always seems to be saying a cheery "good morning," and somehow stands out in the tray, no matter what old hairpins are piled up around it. I really wouldn't feel dressed if I had to go without that nice little hairpin.

Then there is a dear little old pair of curved nail scissors. They came from England with me seventeen years ago. They have been used shamefully—to snip string, cut paper, rip old seams and even to dig out stubborn corks. But they always stay sharp. I have tried to supplant them with brand-new stylish scissors, but that little old pair still hangs around, always ready for any emergency when the grander ones get themselves mislaid.

And there's my little, thin, old silver thimble. I seem to have had that always. I have bought grand new sewing outfits with bumptious-looking new thimbles, but that little silver thimble must have been my first love—can't sew anywhere near as well with any other.

I have a pet steel knife, too—just a shabby little old thing that would be a disgrace to any dinner table. But it is sharp and flexible and oh, so competent. I can filet sand dabs and flounders and baby halibut so stylishly with that clever, slithery, little old knife, where a new, hard, glittering, expensive one would be no use at all. I can't even travel without that knife—just tuck it in my suit case. There is nothing like a really expert, dependable little old knife in a crisis. Everybody in the house loves that knife.

There's a pet flower case, too—I think it cost about 75 cents, but there is just something about its shape and depth and color that makes flowers look twice as charming and, I vow, last twice as long. Other grander vases seem trying to compete with the flowers in glory, but this little old darling submerges its personality for the greater glory of the blooms within it.

And my linen closet holds several dear indispensable old friends. Oh, I certainly have my pet towels, my pet table cloths, my pet dish cloths and my pet face cloths. And they are never the grandest, most expensive ones. Nice, soft old towels that have grown old gracefully and sort of caress the skin. Nice, smooth, silky old linen table cloths with loving little darns in them that have seen our little family through all sorts of ups and downs. Dear, ragged old table napkins, large enough, soft enough, silky enough to be real comfy—and old enough not to make one fussy about getting them stained.

A certain old wooly pair of blankets holds a firm affection in my heart. Let who will have the fine new blankets, but that old pair of mine, that have cosied me up through so many vicissitudes, are mine, mine, mine. When I make a hundred first-class excuses for not staying places overnight I just know in my heart that that pair of snuggy blankets are the really, truly reason.

I have pet stockings, pet handkerchiefs, pet waists, pet pillows, pet chairs, pet teapots—all sorts of pet inanimate things that don't seem at all inanimate to me. When such wear out or get broken I get quite sentimental and mushy about them. I mend and patch and stick and glue and tack as long as they can be coaxed to hold together. They have played such an intimate part in my life—and all noble service.

I still mourn a dear little white comb which, by some cruel trick of fate, became separated from me on a Chinese boat. I never had such a perfect comb before or since. It only cost 35 cents, but it was the ideal comb—teeth just the right length and smooth, strong, yet flexible and caressing. Everybody in the house coveted that comb and naughtily borrowed its services against all the best principles of exclusive hygiene. It was just the right comb for hubby's parting, infinitely the best comb for brother's pompadour, and no comb could ever arrange my little bang with quite the same right curvy finesse that that comb did. I made a perfectly awful fuss when it was lost and our Chinese servitors could never understand why an otherwise reasonable "mistress" got so wrought up over a comb she admitted wasn't very intrinsically valuable. But I lost a beloved friend when I lost that comb.

I will wager we all have these little neuter loves. You know how men get to love some shabby old coat, some disreputable pair of old shoes, one particular shirt, one special pair of socks. Long after they dare not wear them any more they treasure them up and genuinely suffer when some unsympathetic wife turns them out of house and home. Because you see, these things are "home"—these little neuter loves play such an important part in "home." Anybody can have a house, but it takes all sorts of sly little loves and treasures to make a home. Watch the boy, for instance, who has a corner in a home that is all his own, that harbors all his foolish little neuter treasures, that holds him with a hundred fine intangible little loves—you can pick that boy out of a crowd. There is something sure and confident about him, something affectionate and sentimental, something solid and true. It has to be a mighty big counter-attraction that makes that boy slip his moorings and then he will always harbor and treasure fond and tender regrets.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

That Awful Backache

How many backaches would be avoided if the sink and kitchen table were adjusted to the right height for the housewife. They are almost always too low for the average woman. It would cost but little to have the sink raised and the kitchen table could be elevated on blocks of wood with no expense.

Lower Gas Bills

IN OUR preceding statement it was shown that the rate for electric service in Los Angeles under municipal ownership and political operation is one-tenth of a cent per kilowatt hour higher than it was from July, 1914, to April, 1917, under corporate management and commission control.

Attention is now called to the rates for a Los Angeles public utility service which is unaffected by political operation, namely: gas service.

Prior to April 1, 1923 the base rate for gas was 68 cents per 1000 cubic feet of 750 B. t. u. gas or 9 cents per thousand British thermal units. Since April 1 the rate has been 68 cents per 1000 cubic feet of 850 B. t. u. gas, or 8 cents per thousand British thermal units. This means a reduction of 11% in the cost of the same heating service by gas.

An increase of one-tenth cent per kilowatt hour in the electric rate under municipal ownership and political operation—

A reduction of 11% in the cost of gas service under corporate operation and commission control—

DIVORCED BY PICTURE DIRECTOR

Dancer of Ziegfeld Follies Chorus

Mrs. Nicholas A. Dunay

ANOTHER member of the Ziegfield Follies chorus was divorced yesterday in Judge H. Thompson's court when Nicholas A. Dunay, film director, testified that his wife, known as Nina Byron, ignored him after he had paved the way for her success as a dancer. He said that he married her in 1919, when she came to this country from New Zealand, but that when she made a name on the stage she promptly forgot him.

GAZOOBAS WARFARE LOOMS

Whole Carload of Ferocious Foes of Gypsy Moths and Other Pests on Way Here From Africa

A whole carload of ferocious Gazoobas are on their way to California, there to indulge in ferocity. Ferocious Gazoobas is not their name, although it might well be. They haven't any, except a mixed Greek and Latin one of forty-nine or more syllables, which will not be reproduced here. The Gazoobas were caught in South Africa, and will be liberated at the University of California agricultural department at Davis.

It will not, however, be necessary for Californians to make any special preparations to defend their lives against the Gazoobas in case the Gazoobas increase in numbers and spread to all parts of the State as is expected. Nor will they interest the big-game hunters, ferocious as they are.

Gazoobas are only ferocious toward Gypsy moths and other insect pests, but they attack and destroy these without mercy, or so it is asserted by Dr. Leland O. Howard of the entimology section, Department of Agriculture at Washington. They were tried out in New England last summer, with good results.

The Gazoobas are having a long trip. From South Africa they traveled to Southampton, from Southampton to New York, and the rest of the way they are traveling in a special refrigerator car, kept at 40 deg. Fahrenheit. They had this same temperature on board the steamers. This temperature keeps the Gazoobas alive but comparatively inactive, a desirable state for them to be in en route as the problem of feeding them would otherwise have proved troublesome. When the Gazoobas unfold their wings in the California sunshine, they will get very busy at once.

MOTHER WINS CHILD FIGHT

Father Collapses When Daughter's Custody Is Lost; Domestic Drama Scenes in Two States

The final act of a domestic drama that had its scenes in two States was enacted in Juvenile Court yesterday where Judge Archbald released Rose Lena Fleming, 8 years of age, from Juvenile Hall and turned the child over to her mother, Mrs. Mae Fleming of Sherburne and Norwich, N. Y.

L. B. Fleming, father of the girl and a manufacturer of automobile fender braces, who was in court to resist the habeas corpus action instituted by Mrs. Fleming, from whom he is divorced, suffered a complete collapse when the court handed down its decision. He was carried into the judge's chambers where court attaches worked over him for almost an hour before he was resuscitated.

DECREE IN NEW YORK

It was brought out in the testimony that Mrs. Fleming had been awarded a decree of divorce from Fleming in the Supreme Court of New York State, the decree provided Fleming was to have the custody of the daughter. However, Mrs. Fleming was to enjoy the pleasure of visiting the girl on such occasions as she desired.

Fleming, according to his testimony yesterday, was in ill health and decided to come to California. He brought the child with him, not knowing it was not to be removed outside the jurisdiction of the eastern court. When he arrived here he was arrested on a charge of kidnaping his own child, but the case was dismissed in Justice Court when Fleming offered papers in evidence showing that he had been awarded the custody of the child. The girl, in the meantime, was placed in Juvenile Hall and Mrs. Fleming hurried West to seek to have the child returned to New York.

DECREE MODIFIED

Mrs. Fleming told the court her former husband left New York with their daughter pending action in the courts on a petition brought by her to have the divorce decree modified to grant her custody of the child. She stated her petition was later allowed and she then instituted search for Fleming and the girl.

A copy of the modified decree was placed before Judge Archbald, who said after reading it that the only thing he could do was to turn the child over to her mother.

Mrs. Fleming left the courtroom immediately and it was stated she expected to leave with her daughter for New York.

CLOSE ON DUNLAP'S TRAIL

Sheriff Certain Badge Bandit Was in Tijuana Recently; Arrest Expected Soon

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

TIJUANA (Baja California) Jan. 17.—The presence of Harry J. Dunlap, badge bandit and murder suspect, recently in Baja California, has been established beyond all question, in the opinion of Sheriff Traeger. He believes Dunlap still is here, probably in the vicinity of Mexicali, and before he started back for Los Angeles today he left Deputy Sheriffs Stern and Patton on a detail of indefinite term to watch the border.

Dunlap is believed to have been in Ensenada as recently as Sunday. From there he was traced back to Tijuana, which he is thought to have reached a few hours before the Sheriff. He left Tijuana, according to the Sheriff's information, about 5 o'clock yesterday with two or three other men, bound for Pacoti, a small border town on a little-used road.

The Sheriff and his party pursued at once. They believe he left the car and is hidden in a ranch house. Some of the ranches near Mexicali have a reputation for harboring criminals.

Excited by the reward offered for Dunlap's capture, the Mexican police are hot on the trail and his eventual capture is believed certain. With the border watched closely, it is believed he is certain to reappear and be arrested. He goes to Mexicali for liquor and narcotics, the Sheriff says he learned, and these two habits are believed certain to trap him.

Dunlap was known as a criminal in Ensenada, authorities there told Sheriff Traeger, but they did not arrest him for fear American authorities would not come after him. They promised to keep a close watch and place him in jail if he comes back. Ensenada was turned inside out for Sheriff Traeger's benefit, and the port authorities held the steamer Sinaloa hours beyond her sailing time so that she might be searched. Dunlap visited two different narcotic establishments during his Ensenada stay, it was said.

Sheriff Traeger's mind was relieved on one account by his Ensenada trip. A man named Berg, whose arrest Sheriff Traeger had caused there once, resulted in a suit in Ensenada courts for false arrest and the Sheriff was expecting to be served with the papers when he arrived. He learned with pleasure that Berg had got into a jam with the Ensenada police and had left town.

Deputy Sheriffs Stein and Patton are armed with the authority of the Mexican government to take Dunlap wherever they find him and remove him from Mexico without further ado.

A man answering Dunlap's description has been seen in San Luis Obispo, a telephone message received at the Sheriff's office last night said. This man was brought into town by two automobilists who picked him up on the road and afterward chanced to see one of the circulars giving Dunlap's picture and description. The message said the town was being searched for the stranger and that all roads leading out were covered.

Wrigley to Set Off Fifty Tons of Explosives

When William Wrigley, Jr., touches a button tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, a great mountain of rock will shiver, gyrate skyward and then settle to earth in a cloud of dust, at Pebbly Beach. Fifty tons of dynamite and a spark of electricity will enable Mr. Wrigley to complete the project.

For almost two months workmen have been drilling holes into the solid mountain. One or two holes penetrate more than a hundred feet. These have been filled with sticks of dynamite. It is said that the blast planned for Saturday will contain the largest quantity of explosives ever used at one time in Southern California.

Immediately after the mountain has been shattered, the huge rock crushers recently installed, will commence their work of grinding and breaking rock to be shipped to the mainland for road construction work. The blast will place in commission the great plant that has been in preparation for one year.

It is understood that many notable personages will be at Pebbly Beach as guests to witness the blast. Among the experts in construction work will be officials of Los Angeles and Orange counties, Los Angeles Harbor Commissioners, County Supervisors, and officials of Long Beach.

PENNELL LAUDS WOOL MILL IDEA

Says Growers of West Will Back Los Angeles

Terrific Waste in Long Haul to Eastern Plants

Declares Consumer Also to be Benefited

The movement recently launched to establish a woolen industry in Los Angeles is one of the most important developments the city has ever undertaken and one that will have a profound effect in hastening the progress of a large section of the West, in the opinion of Lewis Pennell of Helena, owner of extensive sheep ranches in Montana, and Federal wool administrator during the war.

Mr. Pennell, who is now a Los Angeles visitor, was in conference with department heads of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, discussing plans for the proposed enterprise, particularly ways and means whereby the wool producers of the States tributary to this city may co-operate with local interests in getting the project established.

"Woolen mills in Los Angeles will be of inestimable benefit not only to the city itself but also to the producers of all the surrounding States, who will be able to effect a great saving annually in transportation charges on their product," said Mr. Pennell. "Not only will economy result from the saving on the west but also on the unfinished product, which now is being manufactured in the East and is then brought out here at high cost to supply the consumer."

Speaking of the waste represented by the long hauls now necessary, Mr. Pennell stated that at least 60 per cent of the weight of the raw wool shipped to the factory consists of foreign substances that have to be eliminated in the process of manufacture.

"I have even seen a shrinkage as high as 72 per cent in some instances," he said. "Of course, the shipper has to pay transportation on these waste substances, which charges represent a total loss. It is therefore to his interest to reduce the hauls as much as possible."

During his term of service as wool administrator Mr. Pennell had charge of the purchase of all wool that was used for the making of uniforms and army blankets.

"I had a good chance to observe at that time how expensive the present system of handling western wool really is," he said. "More than once my associates in the government services discussed the advantages that would result from the establishment of woolen works located nearer the point of production. The move started in Los Angeles is the first step in the direction of developing such an industry, and I hope the plans may be carried out without interference."

ISLAND RANCH IDEAL

Mr. Pennell owns an interest in the San Clemente Sheep Company, which is conducting a sheep ranch on San Clemente Island, off the California coast. This island, which is about twenty-two miles long, is owned by the government, and has been leased by the company for a long term of years.

"San Clemente is particularly well adapted to sheep raising," said Mr. Pennell. "We now have some 14,000 animals there, and the island is capable of sustaining 20,000, to which number our flocks will eventually be increased. One of our early difficulties was the absence of an adequate water supply, but this has now been remedied by the construction of reservoirs, where enough water can be stored to meet the demands. There are a few springs on the island, and by installing a system of pipes we have obtained adequate distribution."

The sheep on San Clemente need but little care, as th eclimate is favorable, and they are beyond the reach of coyotes and other animals that interfere with sheep raising in many other sections. The wool, which amounts to something over 100,000 pounds annually, is shipped east through the canal.

CATTLE CEASE DRINKING

Hawaiian Inland Herds Derive Moisture From Dew on Grasses, Senator Dairyman Reveals

Stock-raising without water would seem a dubious enterprise but they're doing it in Hawaii, according to Robert Hind of Honolulu, a member of the Senate of the Territorial Legislature.

Senator Hind, who is a guest at the Biltmore, is in the stock business himself, his specialty being dairying. He is on the Pacific Coast to study dairy methods here, having visited the great Carnation dairy farms in Washington before coming to Los Angeles. He has a herd of 100 Holstein cows on his dairy farm, which is situated just outside Honolulu.

NATURE HELPS

"Of course, you can't maintain a dairy without water," said the Senator with a smile. "Where they operate without water is on the big ranches in the interior. In this locality there are no running streams and wells," he said. "The output is confined solely to beef and hides. It may seem like cruelty to maintain herds without providing water, but as a matter of fact it seems to work no hardship on the animals.

"Apparently nature enables cattle to exist without water as a drink when they are deprived of it. They quickly learn to take advantage of every bit of moisture provided on their grazing grounds. For instance, they never feed in the daytime but always at night when the grass is covered with a heavy dew. They have tremendous areas to range over and the herds are always found in any spot that may be visited by a shower or where there is fog. Also, the grasses of Hawaii, which are very nutritious, carry a considerable amount of liquid. By these means, it seems that the animals are able to obtain enough liquid refreshment to keep in good condition."

HABIT FORGOTTEN

Mr. Hind declared further that cattle raised on ranges without water seem to forget how to drink. "Strange as this may seem, it is an actual fact that a herd after several months on a waterless ranch will refuse water," he said. "If they attempt to drink they don't seem to know how and only after considerable practice can they resume drinking water in a normal fashion."

The Senator said the chief troubles of the ranchmen of Hawaii are wild goats and hogs which impair the range.

GOATS BOTHER

"These animals, which number hundreds of thousands, have their retreats among lava beds and do much damage to the grazing grounds," said Mr. Hind. "The goats are the descendants of domestic goats which were introduced into the islands at an early day and eventually threw off the shackles of domesticity. Valiant efforts are being made to exterminate them.

SARDINE CATCH EXTENSIVE

Fifty-five Million Pounds Brought to Local Port During Year; Production Leads World

Fifty-five million pounds of sardines, or four of the silver fish for every man, woman and child in the United States, were caught off Los Angeles Harbor by the local fishing fleet during 1923, according to a statement issued at the harbor yesterday by the California Fish and Game Commission. The 1924 catch is expected to be even greater, with the present season in full swing.

Los Angeles Harbor in the last three years has become the world's greatest sardine fisheries center, according to C. S. Bauder, commissioner in charge of the Commercial Fisheries Bureau at the port. Twenty-five million one-pound cans of sardines will be packed here during the year for world distribution, according to plans.

Ten of the twelve packing plants are now operating at full capacity, with seventy boats working in the Santa Barbara Channel nightly. All the vast flood of the fish handled annually by local plants is caught within two hours' run of the port.

"Development of the sardine industry in California has reached a stage in the last few years at which profits from by-products are greater than that derived from the fish pack itself," said Mr. Bauder. "Fish oil manufactured at Los Angeles Harbor canneries is being used for a great quantity of the shortening and fine soaps now on the market, while fish meal and fertilizer also are being manufactured from sardines used for reduction purposes.

"People of the Argentine, Brazil, Philippines and the Orient are finding they can make a more economical meal from a can of Los Angeles sardines packed in tomato sauce than from native fresh fish caught within a few miles of their own homes. That is the chief reason for this port's tremendous sardine exports."

California leads all States in the Union in fisheries production, according to Mr. Bauder, with an average annual production of 97,000 tons.

The new bathymetric charts, recently issued by the United States Hydrographic office, showing exact depths of Southern California waters from shore line to the 2000-fathom curve, are helping local fishermen immeasurably in locating rich new banks. The charts have been made from soundings made a year ago by the United States destroyers Corry and Hull over the sea territory extending from Point Descanso north to San Francisco and covering an area of 34,000 square miles.

JULIAN WITNESSES TESTIFY

Action Resolving Into Question of Reasonableness of Commissioner's Demand for Books of Oil Company

It was the inning of the Julian Petroleum Corporation yesterday in the trial before Judge Mahon on the action in which it seeks the release of $1,787,314.85 impounded by the Corporation Commissioner in connection with the corporation's oil stock sales program. Several witnesses were called by the plaintiff in an effort to prove the general contention that Corporation Commissioner Daugherty did not call for the company's complete books until after the sale of stock had been completed here and the books were sent to Delaware, and that agents of the commissioner had access to the books until they had been sent away.

The action is evolving itself into the question of reasonableness of the commissioner's request for the books at the time made, with the alternative of keeping the company's funds impounded. The respondent's position, as brought out in testimony yesterday, is that the checks on the Julian records had been preliminary prior to the sending out of the State of the corporation records, after which a complete check was desired to guard against an oversale of the stocks authorized.

J. B. Cassidy, assistant auditor of the Corporation Commission, testified he had made test checks of the records incidental to the five withdrawals of the impounded stock authorized by the commission, intending, however, later to make more careful checks.

W. J. Calcleugh, assistant controller of the Julian Corporation, declared that C. C. Julian had worked for a year and a half without any salary or other consideration in the knowledge of the witness, and in addition had lent the corporation $1,500,000. He said he had been questioned by agents of the commissioner about the reported oversubscription by the corporation.

W. D. Abel, who made a general investigation of the Julian oil operations as an engineer in the employ of the Corporation Commissioner, said he had reported favorably on the physical operations of the company.

WOMAN SUSPECT IS SOUGHT

Police Search Los Angeles for One of Pair Who Escaped After Arrest for Shoplifting

(Illustration on Picture Page.)

One woman shoplifter suspect was in the Pasadena City Jail last night, while detectives were looking for her companion, who escaped from them while they were searching her apartment at 1006 West Eighth street in Los Angeles. Six trunks containing expensive women's garments valued at $10,000 were found, and some of the clothing was identified by Los Angeles merchants as that taken from their stocks during recent weeks.

The woman under arrest is Eileen Penninger, 29 years of age, who lived at 1044 Florida street. Her companion, Miss Margaret Christie, got away from Detective O'Rourke of Pasadena while he was accompanying her to her apartment.

The two women were arrested Wednesday night in Pasadena. Yesterday morning they were brought over to their Los Angeles residences. The detectives with their prisoners first went to Miss Penninger's apartment, and found several of the trunks. They then proceeded to Miss Christie's apartment. She told them she had no key, and they broke open the door. They smelled something burning, looked in the stove, and found the remnants of some valuable furs.

On a pretext, Miss Christie left the room and managed to get away. Miss Penninger said the trunks had been left in the apartments by another woman.

HELD AS FORGER

J. H. Huntoon was held to answer a forgery charge in $2000 bail by Justice Hanby yesterday. He is asserted to have signed the name of C. C. Chapman, real estate dealer, to a check for $45.

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND CALLED HER NAMES

George E. Norris abused his wife, Virginia Lee Norris, a native of Kansas, by calling her names, according to her complaint for divorce, filed yesterday. Norris is alleged to have called her a "Kansas grasshopper," "jayhawker," "a follower of old John Brown and Jim Lane" and a "might and educated fool." The wife asserted he told her to go back to the "grasshopper State" and to the "old folks down on the farm." She said she loved her husband at the time and was "deeply hurt" by his asserted remarks. The couple were married in Los Angeles March 26, 1922, and separated on May 15, 1923, according to the complaint, which was prepared by J. D. F. Jennings, as attorney.

FRONTAGE LEASED AT OCEAN PARK

West Coast Theaters Have Acquired Holdings of the Frasier Interests

The West Coast Theaters, Inc., announced last night that it had signed a fifty-year lease with the Venice Investment Company for the ocean-front holdings of the Frasier interests at Ocean Park. The bath-house frontage, however, is not included in the lease.

The lease covers a frontage of 300 feet, in the heart of Ocean Park, extending from Marine to Pier avenue. The property is perhaps the most valuable of the present Bay District amusement centers and for several seasons its full development was awaiting the plans for extensive association with theatrical developments in the beaches.

According to an announcement by the executives of Venice Investment Company, John G. Harrah and George Cleveland, plans call for the immediate formation of a project whereby the entire 300-foot frontage will be diverted into the most magnificent beach amusement center in America.

The total investment will be in excess of $2,000,000 and calls for the construction of a 2500-seat theater, which is to be a representative first-run house, having already been assured of the cream of First National and Metro pictures. The theater will be flanked by stores and offices, two stories high in construction, every structure to be fireproof.

In association with the West Coast Pier Company, the construction of these buildings will be started at the same time with the new pier to be built in place of the one recently destroyed by fire. A. L. Gore, Michael Gore, C. L. Langley and Adolph Ramish are executives of the West Coast Pier Company.

SAWTELLE HOME RUM QUIZ OPENS

Officials to Investigate the Reports of Illness From Bootleg Liquor

An investigation into the case of Mrs. Leona Hope, 1455 Fourteenth street, Santa Monica, who was found guilty of a liquor-law violation Wednesday, was started by the District Attorney's office yesterday to determine the truth of reports that three inmates of the Sawtelle Soldiers' Home had become ill after drinking liquor purchased from her.

Police Captain Webb of the Santa Monica department said the reports had not been verified. Officials yesterday would neither confirm nor deny the rumor.

Mrs. Hope, said to be the former wife of a New York music publisher, was fined $100 and given a ninety-day suspended sentence for violation of the liquor ordinance. Several gallons of evidence were seized by raiding officers. A. J. Mais, a roomer at Mrs. Hope's residence, was fined $200 for disorderly conduct. Police said he had dispensed liquor. He was also given a suspended jail sentence. Mary Ward, employed at the house, was released after being held for investigation.

Dist.-Atty. Asa Keyes detailed a detective to investigate the circumstances of the illness of the three young soldier inmates at Sawtelle.

COUNCIL TO CONFER ON BOND SALE

Immediate Disposal of $11,000,000 Block Has Been Recommended

The City Council will today consider the adoption of the municipal bond sale program agreed upon yesterday afternoon by the Council Finance Committee under which the committee recommended that the Council on February 5 open bids for and sell $11,000,000 worth of city improvement bonds.

These bonds, most of which are first blocks of securities authorized at the city election on June 5, 1923, include $6,000,000 outfall sewer, $1,000,00 water-works improvements, $2,500,000 for purchase of land for site of new $5,000,000 City Hall, $500,000 public library, $500,000 for city's share of six viaducts to be built over the Los Angeles River, and $500,000 playgrounds.

In addition the committee recommended that the Council sell at once to the police and firemen's pension fund $530,000 of library bonds, making a total of $11,530,000 municipal bonds to be disposed of within the next three weeks.

SALESMEN WIN TRIP

Manager and Six of Crew Going to Company Convention

E. M. Harvey, secretary of the Woodhill-Hulse Electric Company, 111 East Third street, with six members of the company's sales force, will leave Los Angeles the 23rd inst. for Detroit to attend a national convention of salesmen of the Eureka Vacuum Cleaner Company. The Woodill-Hulse Company, distributors for Southern California, won third place among the Eureka company's districts for sales volume in 1923.

The seven Los Angeles men will make the journey as the Eureka company's guests as a reward for individual sales records made during the year. At Ogden, Utah, they will join eighteen other Pacific Coast sales representatives, a special Pullman having been chartered by the company to take them from Ogden to Detroit.

The convention will open the 28th inst. and continue a week. It will assemble salesmen from every State and Canadian Province. The men accompanying Harvey are F. C. Doyle, Paul Anderson, V. E. Morrill, R. H. Morrill, William Swarts of Los Angeles, and Robert Stentz of Pasadena.

LOCAL FRUIT FINDS SALE IN GERMANY

Teutons Enter California Market for Canned and Dried Variety

"During the past six weeks Germany has entered the California market for canned and dried fruits and is paying cash with her new currency which is beginning to be stabilized. Germany has spent more than $1,000,000 in California in the last month."

This statement was part of the cheering trade and credit news told to members of the Los Angeles Credit Men's Association last night by Charles W. Helser, vice-president of the West Coast Life Insurance Company, of San Francisco, principal speaker at the monthly meeting in the Elite banquet hall.

"It was because Germany did not try to reestablish her credit that she has been in chaos and bankruptcy since the war," he said. "Now Germany is beginning to see that the life of the nation is dependent on firm credit resources. The new German mark already has, to a considerable extent, begun to re-establish Germany's credit. She must rebuild her financial foundation or fade out of the picture of nations. May it be a humble Germany with ideals and honor that resumes a place in the parliaments of the world."

The keynote of Mr. Helser's speech was that no individual, no business, no community, State or nation can succeed unless supported by clean, reliable credit and that the history of the United States, in its progress, and in its victories in peace and victories in war, is a history of good credits.

Europe will not be rehabilitated until Europe's credit is re-established, he said. He praised the Federal Reserve system as a bulwark to American prosperity and a financial stronghold which no assaults can shake, since it has made the whole structure of our currency stable and secure.

The speaker predicted that the co-operative marketing plan of California which has solved the grave problems of the citrus growers and raisin growers, eventually will be adopted all over the country, and to a large extent will assist in solving some of Europe's dilemmas.

Percy F. Garnett, manager of the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, asserted that practically all the great industrial and commercial enterprises, the development of railroads and of public utilities, were largely financed by insurance companies and that any legislation averse to these enterprises was averse to the insurance firms.

Remarks on the coming State conference of the credit men were made by H. I. Bremner. A banquet preceded the addresses. Entertainment was furnished by the European Male Quartet.

HEARING OF CARLETONS IS DELAYED

Burglary Cases Against Couple Come Up in Week; Figured in Slaying

The preliminary hearing on a burglary charge against Edward H. Carleton, recently sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Special Officer Robert Magee, and his bride, Jeanne, awaiting trial on the same charge, was continued yesterday for one week by Justice Blake.

The continuance was given at the request of Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fricke in order to clear up the case still pending against Mrs. Carleton. It is said the State may accept a plea of guilty to a lesser offense.

The youthful burglars are charged with breaking and entering the homes of A. W. Colodway, 132 South Benton Way, and J. C. Belding, 915 Irolo street. At the latter home they were surprised by a posse of officers and in their attempt to escape, witnesses say, Carleton fired at Magee. The girl was captured outside the house and Carleton escaped, but was found a few days later when he attempted to ship out on a coastwise boat.

The burglary charge, according to officers, will not go to a trial but will be held pending a possible release on probation for the husband. It also will prevent the absolute release of Mrs. Carleton in case she is acquitted when the murder charge against her comes to trial on the 28th inst.

EX-CASHIER IS HELD FOR HEAVY BAIL

Juggling of Books of Bank of Belleflower is Charged; Wife Arrested

C. B. Hendricks, former cashier of the First National Bank at Belleflower, and his wife, Mrs. Ethel Hendricks, formerly his assistant, were arrested yesterday at their home, 517 North Virgil street, by Deputy United States Marshal Mangerino, on a secret grand jury indictment charging them with manipulation of the bank's books.

Hendrick's bond was fixed at $20,000, and he was lodged in the County Jail. His wife furnished bail of $10,000, and was released. United States Attorney Burke stated that other arrests may follow, in an attempt to clear up conditions in small outlying banks, largely the consequence of faulty book-keeping.

Bond of $25,000 had not yet been raised yesterday for Othar Jensen, former president of the First National Bank at Watts, indicted on three counts in connection with a shortage of about $100,000. Securities of $22,000 had been obtained by friends of Jensen, who announced they would complete the bond today, thus bringing about his release pending trial. Jensen was indicted several months ago, and made a trip to Mexico, but returned a few weeks ago, and was arrested in Pasadena.

Legal Quibbles Mark Session in Follette Trial

The trial of former Justice of the Peace Follette, accused before Judge Kostch of perjury, yesterday resolved itself into a maze of legal points, objections, authorities and transcripts of former trials, grand jury inquiries and statements taken by the District Attorney.

Prosecutor William J. Clark declared in open court that he was forced to cross-examine Edgar B. Hervey, an attorney, as hostile to the State, although called to the stand to testify against Follette. Hervey's memory was bad, and he stated he could not remember incidents, which, had they been brought into the case, it is declared, would have been injurious to the defendant.

Mr. Clark called Hervey a co-conspirator, and designated Hale Day, another attorney, as a "feigned conspirator." The testimony at this time revolved about a package containing $700, which was supposed to have been furnished as a bribe to free Carl V. Lindquist, a prisoner in the County Jail, and which the State asserts originated with Follette.

Lindquist was on the stand at the close of the day's session relating, through the labyrinth of legal questions, his associations when he said he sent forth Hervey on a mission to obtain $700 with which to purchase a bail bond for him.

FIRE DAMAGES STORE

Damage amounting to $10,000 was caused by a fire in the upper story of a two-story building occupied by the E. R. Spellman Desk Company at 418½ West Tenth street last night. The principal loss resulted from water and smoke. Fire also destroyed the home of J. W. Bowen at 7127 Jasmine street, Palms.

SHOTGUNS FOR POLICE

The City Council yesterday voted $1400 to buy fifty shotguns for the police department. The weapons were asked for by Chief Vollmer.

"SCARAMOUCHE"

ARTISTIC PICTORIAL APEX IN REX INGRAM FILM

By Edwin Schallert

A cinema of quality, the aristocratic pictorial opera of the season, "Scaramouche," from Rafael Sabatini's romance of the French revolution, has reached the screen here at last. It is Rex Ingram's most pretentious contribution to adult entertainment, and its beauty will live long in the land.

The premiere was last night at the Criterion Theater, and was attended largely by an audience of stars and writers and directors. There was all the usual flurry of a first performance, especially at the entrance where the lights were aglow, and though the major luminaries of the film were absent, there was nevertheless considerable of quiet enthusiasm within the doors. While this did not take the usual form of applause at every stage, as is the fashion, it expressed itself in a charmed and generally attentive interest that betokened the arrival of the luxurious and elegant entertainment that appeals especially to those who possess the taste for finer things.

No doubt, what will most strongly appeal to the casual theatergoer is the charm of the lyve interest in "Scaramouche," and the fact that though the way is tortuous and to an extent grief-stricken, the ending is not the one of tragedy that it might be.

The original novel gave Ingram the opportunity to make the outcome happy, and though there is fire and bloodshed aplenty, and the red gory atmosphere of revolution and war filling the whole mase of the lights and shadows at the very close of the film, you know that the two characters in which you are most interested have at last achieved safety, and that they are united in their love.

In actuality, the story is nothing. It is the spirit and the feeling that are created. You might even say that the plot is simply a canvas in the background, and though individual situations have a telling fervor, and there is a steady ongoing allure to what happens before your eyes, the great attraction of "Scaramouche" is not that of drama, but of beautiful and glorious pictures.

Veritably, this film is the art gallery of the screen. It marks some of the greatest advancements along the lines of lighting composition, settings and makeup and costumes that have yet been revealed. Individual photographic shots recall the work of dozens of painters that might be named, and in the characters that the director has introduced has duplicated in a sense the finest spirit of satire that inhabits the works of such an artist as Hogarth.

Rembrandt, Holbein Van Dyck—a whole list of painters, yes and sculptors, names flash before the mind, as one watches the film. From all these inspirational sources has a wealth of suggestion of pictorial enhancement indubitably been drawn. The richness is not alone in the light and shade; it is in the great and magnificent pictorial of the scenes. Truly, Ingram is the master etcher of the screen.

Dignity and finesse are the telling notes in the work of the principals in the play. Nothing, except some of the comedy, which is invariably rather cheap in Ingram pictures, is done for obvious effect. The portraits of the aristocrats are achieved with the utmost discrimination, and nothing lovelier than Alice Terry in some of her scenes has been viewed in months, nor anything more elegant than the finished excellence of the portrayal of Lewis Stone.

In acting I feel though, that a major share of honor goes to Ramon Novarro. Scaramouchi is his biggest role at least and he has made it emotionally deeply convincing throughout.

Otto Matieson has a splendid bit that stays in the mind, and George Siegmann is unforgettable as Danton. Edith Allen appears as a newcomer of promise in many of her scenes. Julia Swayne Gordon, William Humphrey and others are exceedingly worth while, as are a number of others who take part in the large cast. No member of an Ingram company is ever wanting apparently in expressiveness when the nature of the drama allows.

The adaptation was made by Willis Goldbeck, and the interest in the story is well sustained, with some excellent subtleties in many scenes.

There is a short but rather effectual prologue, in which Rose Dione takes part. The musical accompaniment, splendid evidence of the discretion of director Adolph Tandler, is excellent with the quality of the superior, artistic attraction of the picture.

In Pageant of Artistic Beauty

Ramon Novarro and Alice Terry

They play the romantic leads in "Scaramouche," which opened brilliantly last night at the Criterion Theater.

Trio Charms in Program of Requests

May MacDonald Hope, pianist, Calmon Luboviski, violinist, and Ilya Bronson, 'cellist, charmed an audience that filled Ebell Auditorium almost to capacity last evening. This ensemble, known as the Los Angeles Trio, played a request program. Trio No. 5, in G Major, by Mozart, the Beethoven "Kreutzer" Sonata for violin and piano, and the Trio in F Sharp by Cesar Franck, constituted the evening's musical repast; a program that held the attention of each and every member of the audience.

There is nothing finer in the entire realm of music than the F Sharp Major Trio of Cesar Franck. It is a noble and devout expression in music, a composition that is, to an extent, the logical outgrowth of Beethoven, and yet entirely original with the composer. It is even religious in the sense that everything sublime, noble and true is not without some quality of the devout.

These qualities were well brought out in the rendition last evening. The piano is treated more as an orchestral instrument than is frequently the case. The ensemble in certain passages in which the instruments play in unison was remarkably perfect. The quality of the 'cello tone in the opening theme and elsewhere added greatly to the profoundness and impressiveness of the work.

Mr. Laboviski and Mrs. Hope gave a glorious interpretation of the famous Kreutzer Sonata. There were some especially fine and surprising nuances here and there; an occasional sudden pianissimo that made one listen only the more intently, not to miss the rich Beethoven harmonies.

One must again mention the repposeful pianissimo passages which were the charm of the Mozart Trio. Ever fresh, the arabesques in tone carried the listeners to that cobwebby fairy andiwhich Mozart knew how to picture so beautifully. The balance of parts throughout was worthy of special note.

ENGLISH PIANIST TO PLAY TONIGHT

A busy concert season is a fine thing, but once in a while even that has its drawbacks. Mme. Ethel Leginska is in Los Angeles; this evening she plays in Long Beach at the Civic Auditorium. But during the time which the famous English pianist will be here not one of the concert halls will be available. It speaks well for the city's love for fine music, but it is to be regretted that those who desire to hear her will have to travel some twenty miles.

Mme. Leginska has, during the past three years, became a figure of more than usual prominence in the musical world.

It is chiefly as a pianist that this artist is known in this country. As a composer her compositions are of the ultramodern trend. She presents both the classics and ultras in her piano programs.

At the Long Beach recital Mme. Leginska will play the Beethoven Sonata Opus 26; (this is the one which contains the famous Funeral March.) Chopin and Liszt numbers, a few other miscellaneous compositions, and several of her own numbers.

FINE ARTS PLAY IN SECOND WEEK

"Tiger! Tiger!" Frances Goldwater's production of David Belasco's stage success, is now in its second week at the Fine Arts Theater. Edward Knoblock, the author, has woven around his three central characters, a member of British Parliament, a slavey girl and a girl in his own station of life, a story that has to do with the conflict between the love for a little cook and for a society girl of a rather snobbish young lawyer.

Ruby Miller, as Sally the slavey, Vernon Steele, as the member of Parliament, and Dorothy Cumming, as Evelyn Greer, endow their roles with sincere characterizations which also can be said of William Raymond, Marjorie Bennett, Ina Rorke, Roland Rushton, Jerome Collamore and Frank Dawson. The play is in four acts and was produced under the personal direction of Frank Elliott.

"ETERNAL CITY" ON WAY TO GRAUMAN'S

Climaxing the program of superproductions which have been the rule at Grauman's Million Dollar Theater since the definite policy of big productions at popular prices is the announcement of "The Eternal City" to follow Norma Talmadge's "Ashes of Vengeance." After several weeks of negotiations between Albert A. Kaufman, managing director of the three downtown Grauman theaters and Samuel Goldwyn, producer of the picture, contracts were signed for the showing of "The Eternal City" to start the 28th inst.

The new picture was adapted in modern form from the story by Sir Hall Caine and filmed with all its thrills, before a background depicting the splendor and magnificence of Rome. It was produced in Italy, with most of the scenes taken in Rome where the entire company traveled from America.

Barbara La Marr and Bert Lytell play the roles of the lovers and are supported by Lionel Barrymore, Richard Bennett and Montagu Love.

"LA FLAMME" SUCCESS IN LONDON PREMIERE

Louis O. Macloon, New York theatrical manager, who is in Los Angeles, yesterday received a cablegram from W. Angus MacLeod, managing director of Daniel Mayer Company, Ltd., of London, Eng., saying Charles Mere's new Parisian drama "La Flamme" (The Flame) opened at the Wyndham Theater, West End on Monday night and was enthusiastically received. The English cast includes Violet Vanbrough, Sam Livsey and Ralph Forbes. Mr. Macloon owns the American dramatic rights and the world picture rights to this play and plans are being made to present it in Los Angeles with Lilian Albertson in the star part some time in February.

ZOELLNER PUPILS IN RECITAL TODAY

This evening at the auditorium of the Hollywood Woman's Club, Joseph Zoellner, Jr., and Amandus Zoellner will present their artist pupils, Olive Englund, pianist, and Florence Duvall, violinist.

Not only are the Zoellners recognized throughout the country as artists of distinction, but they have added to their achievements by founding their own conservatory.

FLASHES

"ANNA CHRISTIE" SOON

PAULINE AND THE ORIGINAL COMPANY COMING

By Grace Kingsley

It would look as though the days of No. 2 theatrical companies for this city are ended. Theatergoers are becoming too wise to pay three original dollars to see a company that is not the original one. We are to see "Sally" with the original New York cast at the new Biltmore, and other announcements of a like nature are coming in.

Now we learn that "Anna Christie" with the original cast is to visit the Majestic. Pauline Lord, Georgie Marion and others are to appear at the above named theater in the roles they created in New York, following the run of the new Margaret Lawrence vehicle, "In His Arms," which goes on at the Majestic Sunday night. A run of at least five weeks is predicted for this new comedy, after which Miss Lord and her supporting company will take possession. Special sets are being designed by Dickson Morgan.

It is still in the air as to whether Wallace Eddinger, under contract to Harris and Wilkes, will play "Capt. Applejack" here or in San Francisco, and whether he will also create the leading role in another new play which Thomas Wilkes has in his possession.

Earl Carroll is sending his "Vanities" west with the original cast. This will play either the Mason or the Biltmore.

Bebe Daniels Has Birthday

Bebe Daniels had a birthday Monday, and just by way of showing that she was so young she didn't give a darn, she gave a matinee party at the Orpheum to Marie Mosquini and other friends.

She says that she had wished audibly for a set of golf clubs, so that was one of her presents.

The Lasky star has just returned from a vacation of a couple of weeks spent on a milk farm.

"It wasn't very exciting," explained Bebe, "but you feel awfully well after a rest like that. All you can do is to stay in bed and read, and all that you can hear is the gurgle of milk going down a hundred patients' throats. But as Mark Twain says, 'If you want be healthy, eat what you don't like, drink what you don't want and do what you'd rather not!'"

Charlie Chaplin to Begin

The suspense is still on, among the flapper actresses, as to who will be Charlie Chaplin's new leading woman. Edna Purviance is not definitely settled on, by any means, especially as she may want to start a new starring picture before Charlie Chaplin finishes his next comedy. In the meantime many tests are being taken and many young hearts are fluttering. It has been whispered that Charlie is going to choose a brunette.

But brunette or no brunette, Chaplin is going to start shooting next Monday, according to announcement from his studio yesterday, though the only member of his supporting cast so far chosen is Mack Swain. Chaplin and Swain will make some of their scenes at the beginning of the week whether a leading lady has then been settled on or not. But the new leading lady is bound to have been chosen by the middle of the week.

The new comedy is a burlesque on the gold rush days in Alaska, and offers many opportunities to the comical Charlie for laughs when he drives the dog teams and dons the snowshoes. Just where the snow scenes will be taken isn't certain, though it is likely that a location trip to Canada will be taken.

The Chaplin vehicle will be a five or six-reeler, and will take some six months in the filming, it is announced.

Blanche Sweet Will Rest

Blanche Sweet is desperately searching her calendar for two weeks in which to take her annual milk cure. Last year she spent a fortnight in bed, with nothing to eat or drink but milk, and none of that for the first four days, and found that her general health and strength were greatly benefited. She then resolved that every spring she would hie her to a milk farm, where she could hear only the birds singing and the poppies popping.

But though Miss Sweet has finished her part in "Those Who Dance" for Thomas H. Ince, and is at home awaiting the start of the next production in which she is to appear, announcement of which will be made shortly, she finds much of her time taken with preparation.

So on completion of her next production she and her husband, Marshall Neilan, plan a fortnight in the woods together, and after that comes the long-delayed "Tess of the D'Ubervilles," which Neilan is to produce, and in which Miss Sweet is to have the principal part.

Harold Lloyd Travels

His European admirers aren't going to have a chance to see Harold Lloyd as soon as they expected. He has had to delay his trip again, and all because his current picture was delayed in production.

However, the comedian is going to take a flying trip on business to New York, leaving tomorrow. He will be accompanied by Gaylord Lloyd, his brother and studio manager; by Tommy Grey, who wrote the sub-titles for his latest comedy; by William R. Fraser and Joe Reddy, the latter of whom in his capacity as publicity man will see to it that Harold sees the right people and does the right things. For Harold is a democratic soul who might miss a chance to meet a count or a congressman or somebody like that.

The comedian will remain in New York only about ten days, when he will return to start work on another picture. He is divided between a college story and a domestic yarn, but promises to make up his mind about it between games of pinochle on the train.

But Lloyd has been promising and promising his bride, Mildred Davis, that he would take her to Europe, so now he hopes to do that, he says, right after the next picture.

The feature just completed, formerly called "The Girl Expert," has been renamed "Girl Shy." It was directed by Sam Taylor and Fred Newmeyer, and is said to be the best comedy that Lloyd has ever made.

"Girl Shy" is Lloyd's first independent production. It was shown unannounced in preview the other night to an audience at Hoyt's Theater, Long Beach, and achieved a knockout.

DIVORCE MUST WAIT

Further Testimony Required in Suit of "Fattest Woman"

"The fattest woman in the world," and the champion of many a sideshow, met defeat in Judge Shaw's court yesterday, where she appeared to press a suit for divorce against Arthur E. Whitman on the grounds of desertion and nonsupport. The plaintiff's name is Mrs. Viola Whitman. She was not able to produce sufficient evidence, and the case went off calendar until her attorney can get further testimony from Oregon, where Whitman is asserted to have left her twelve years ago.

They were married in Freeland, Mich., January 1, 1896, and separated in 1912.

"He left me before that, though," she told the court. "He left me and went West, and never sent me money to come to him. At last I made enough money to go to Oregon, but he wasn't pleased to see me, and packed his grip and left, saying that he wasn't going to spend money to start housekeeping."
